WELFARE HEADS TO ASK PASSAGE OF ONE PER CENT SALES TAX BILL

All Parish Directors Summoned To Baton Rouge By Commissioner Johnson

ADDITIONAL REVENUE FOR RELIEF CALLED NECESSARY

Funds Inadequate To Care For Old, Sick, Blind And Needy Widows

BATON ROUGE, La., May 21.—(AP)—State Commissioner of Public Welfare A. R. Johnson today issued a call for all parish public welfare directors to come here Wednesday prepared to argue before the house ways and means committee for a favorable report on the administration's general one per cent sales tax bill.

Entire proceeds of the tax, estimated variously at between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000, would go toward support of the state social security program. The general tax would replace the present luxury tax which yields $3,300,000 of which $2,500,000 is used for social security.

"It is imperatively necessary," Johnson wired parish directors, "that this important legislative committee report favorable action on the pending sales tax bill.

Johnson said he and parish directors would "make a fight" for legislative passage of the general sales tax so he could get more money for present relief clients and between 16,000 and 18,000 needy persons eligible for relief money and not receiving it because of lack of state funds.

"These people are old, blind, crippled, sick; thousands of them are mothers who have little babies to take care of," Johnson said. "They are not able to come to Baton Rouge to tell the committee their needs. So the parish directors and I are going to go before the committee and tell their stories and ask help for them."

Johnson said the department of public welfare now takes care of 75,000 men, women and children. In addition, he said, the state hospital board which he directs cares for 300 needy sick people each month and has, through its dental program, treated 12,000 patients since December.

"When the hospitals now being built at Pineville, Monroe and Independence are completed," said Johnson, "we will have facilities to care for more than 1,000 persons a month who are unable to pay for medical and surgical aid.

"It has been conceded that the Charity hospital at New Orleans when completed will be taxed to capacity almost at once by the city, so we feel the necessity of providing hospital facilities for the state's indigent and destitute sick in other sections."

Along with the administration's one per cent sales tax bill, Governor Richard Leche has certified to the legislature as "must" legislation a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing issuance of $4,500,000 bonds to complete the new $12,000,000 Charity hospital at New Orleans.

"We honestly feel," Johnson concluded, "that our hospital and welfare programs guarantee a greater measure of security."

The legislature, adjourned since Thursday noon, will reconvene from its week-end recess Monday night.

MUTERSBAUGH TO OFFER THREE BILLS

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 21.—(AP)—Representative Robert Mutersbaugh of Calcasieu parish today made public three bills which he has drawn up for introduction at the Monday session of the legislature in Baton Rouge.

Two of them would regulate life insurance company reserves and bonds and the other would provide for payment to the Louisiana highway commission of 47 cents for each pole erected along state or federal highways for transmission of telephone, telegraph or electric light service.

One insurance bill would require life companies doing business in Louisiana to invest and keep in bonds of the state of Louisiana or its political subdivision or in Louisiana real estate a sum of money equal to 75 per cent of the aggregate amount of the legal reserve required by the laws of the state of its domicile.

The other would require all life insurance companies organized under the laws of other states, in addition to present requirements, to deposit with the state treasurer $100,000 in approved funds of Louisiana or its subdivisions, conditioned upon prompt payment of claims on policies arising.

The legislature will reconvene Monday night. A hearing on the proposed administration one per cent sales tax, to take the place of the current two per cent luxury tax, was one of the high spots scheduled for next week. The hearing was set for Wednesday.

LEWIS STANDING AT CROSSROADS

Future Power Of C. I. O. Involved; May Lose One Of Powerful Units

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, the labor leader, stood tonight at a crossroads in his political life.

The future power of his C. I. O. was involved.

After being rebuffed within a week's time in the all-important Pennsylvania primary election and fought to a close result in Oregon, where the candidate he supported also had the aid of some New Deal leaders and the American Federation of Labor, the industrial union chief faced the threat of loss of one of the most powerful units of his labor organization.

The executive committee of that unit, the International Ladies' Garment Workers union, meets in Minneapolis on Tuesday to decide whether the I. L. G. W. U. will break away from the C. I. O. should the C. I. O. follow its present plan to establish itself as a permanent rival to the American Federation of Labor.

As the I. L. G. W. U. committeemen prepared for the trip west, none professed to know what the committee's decision would be. The membership was divided into two factions.

David Dubinsky, the I. L. G. W. U.'s veteran head, leaned to the right. Thus far, Dubinsky's policies have prevailed.

Loss of Dubinsky's union would be a heavy blow to Lewis, one of the heaviest he could suffer, because:

Members Of Sudeten Party Killed By Guards Close To Border

BERLIN, May 22 (Sunday).—(AP)—Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's newspaper today issued a "last and urgent appeal" to the government of Czechoslovakia to grant at once demands of that nation's German minority.

The demand, printed in a Sunday edition of the Essen National Zeitung, organ of Nazi Germany's number two leader, came in the midst of heightening tension.

Shots which killed two Sudeten Germans near the German border in Czechoslovakia yesterday created an atmosphere in Berlin resembling the days immediately preceding the World war. Berlin's man on the street was talking "war."

"The German Reich, which as the only big power in central Europe bears the supreme responsibility for peace in this part of the world, . . . is viewing results of the Praha catastrophe with greatest sorrow and deep concern," Goering's newspaper said.

SHREVEPORT HIGH SCHOOL BOY DROWNS

SHREVEPORT, La., May 21.—(AP)—Leon Bryant, 14-year-old Fair Park High school freshman, drowned this afternoon in Cross bayou when stricken by cramps while swimming with four other high school boys.

Bryant went under suddenly in six feet of water and his body was recovered two hours later in four feet of water, 50 feet from where he went down. Shreveport police and firemen found the body.

The boy's mother, recovering in a local hospital after an operation, late this evening had not been told of her son's death.

JAPANESE STATE FOES CRUMBLING

Nippons Push From Conquered Suchow Deeper Into Heart Of China

SHANGHAI, May 21.—(AP)—Japanese, plunging deeper through the heart of China from conquered Suchow, reported tonight that Chinese resistance along the vital Lunghai railroad rapidly was crumbling.

Major General Shunroku Hata, commander of Japan's armies in central China, belittled China's defensive strength and declared "we intend to go to Hankow."

The general's statement to an Associated Press correspondent was the first he has given a foreign newspaperman since assuming his command.

Capture of Suchow, which broke the Lunghai at its junction with the important north-south Tientsin-Pukow railroad, apparently is to be only a phase of a campaign aimed at obliterating the forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Japanese declared they had captured General Tan Tao-Yuan, commander-in-chief of China's twenty-second army, near Suhsien, north of Suchow.

(Japanese at Peiping said all survivors of General Tan's staff also were captured when Japan's forces seized his headquarters 25 miles each of Suhsien.

STOCK EXCHANGE BEGINS NEW ERA

Becomes Public Institution Instead Of Private Gentlemen's Club

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Back in the "gay old days" of 1928 and 1929 Wall Street was hailing a new era. The greatest speculative wave in the history of the world was reaching its crest and, with a devastating suddenness, it toppled on a shore strewn with wreckage.

Today, another new era has come to Wall Street.

It is the new era of cooperation and harmony between the New Deal and the New York stock exchange, the keystone of the financial structure of the nation for more than a hundred years.

Representative of regulation instead of unbridled speculation, this new era was symbolized at last night's "harmony banquet" celebrating the reorganization of the stock exchange. The printed announcement said it was a testimonial to those who prepared the plan of reorganization. But, significantly, the speaker of the evening was William O. Douglas, chairman of the securities and exchange commission.

Stripped of all its words, the theme of the evening plainly was this: Wall Street acknowledged that regulation by Washington is an accomplished fact and is here to stay, so it is better to work together in harmony than to continue down the old road of bitterness and opposition.

In other words, Uncle Sam is the cop on the beat and it's better to clap a hand to his shoulder than to thumb your nose at him.

Perhaps this was the thought in Douglas' mind in saying these closing words of his address:

"So, as the green light flashes, I bid you safe riding down the broad and open road that lies ahead. I do more than that—I offer you a police escort."

As Douglas put it, the new era is something else besides mere government regulation and supervision, something more than cooperation. Briefly stated, it is this: The exchanges will police themselves under laws laid down by Uncle Sam. As Douglas said, Uncle Sam would keep

Hey, Come On In! The Water's Fine

Familiar Clarion Call To Ring Out Today With New Significance

"Come on in, fellers! The water's fine."

The old, familiar clarion call will ring out again today, with a significance it has not had in years.

Today Monroe opens its new "swimmin' hole"—the grandest, most palatial luxury of its kind in all the south. It takes the place of the "ole swimmin' hole," which, in spite of its inadequacies, achieved a place of affection in the estimation of the thousands who knew it as the only salt water swimming pool in any interior city of its size in the country. When that pool was dismantled three years ago, its closing brought gloom to the heart of every boy and girl who knew it as the most prized summer recreation spot of their experience.

The promise of a new and greater "swimmin' hole" was not sufficient to assuage disappointment and regret for the passing of the old.

Nonetheless, there has been during those three years a wistful longing for the coming again of the "swimmin' days," which could only be had with the long-delayed opening of the new pool.

With anxious, skeptical regard, the youth of Monroe—and not an inconsiderable portion of its adulthood, as well—watched the slow growth of the swimming plant in Forsythe park, and attempted to estimate the possibilities of a "natatorium" as compared with the old "swimming pool."

Perhaps a lot of them felt that the old swimming days were gone forever. The natatorium was a long time coming into being. There were delays galore, for reasons that youthful minds, intent on swimming and not on construction problems, couldn't fathom.

Then one day there was an announcement that the new natatorium was given a name, in honor of R. D. Swayze, commissioner of parks and streets, under whose administration the new pool was begun with the aid of WPA funds. Then followed another announcement by C. R. Tidwell, the present commissioner, who said:

"The Swayze Natatorium will be opened for public use Sunday, May 22."

What a whooping of joyful noise there was when it seemed that at last

New Swimmin' Hole—Most Palatial Of Its Kind In South—Will Open

That promise of Commissioner Tidwell is to be fulfilled today. The commissioner had hoped to make the occasion an event of ceremonial importance, but to do that he would have had to wait several weeks longer, when it would be possible for prominent officials of the state to come and make a great formal "to-do" of the event. It wouldn't have been fair to the youngsters of the city and surrounding country to keep them wait-

HESS VICTOR IN OREGON PRIMARY

Labor-backed Democratic Candidate Defeats Governor Charles H. Martin

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.—(AP)—Henry L. Hess, a 46-year-old attorney backed by organized labor and two New Deal leaders, won a spectacular Democratic primary contest today from Governor Charles H. Martin, fierce foe of what he called "labor terrorists."

The governor, who retired from the army a decade ago as a major general, went down to defeat in his bid for renomination after as spectacular a battle as this state ever saw.

When he saw Hess' lead grow to 1,890 votes with only 332 small precincts missing, Martin conceded defeat.

Thus ended a campaign which, through Martin's vigorous entry into the northwest's labor troubles and his resulting barrage upon certain Roosevelt functions and functionaries, drew a number one billing on the nation's political stage.

The vote on which Martin surrendered was 49,046 votes for Hess to

ROCKY FORD BOY DROWNS IN BAYOU

Body Recovered From Bartholomew By Monroe Fire Captain Tom Dupree

Cecil Manning, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Manning, Jr., of the Rocky Ford community in Morehouse parish, drowned yesterday morning shortly before 11 o'clock when he was overcome by cramps while swimming in Bayou Bartholomew.

The American Legion emergency truck of Monroe manned by a crew of local firemen under Captain Tom Dupree, left here at 10:55 a.m., for the scene of the tragedy. Captain Dupree recovered the body at 12:10 p.m. after the crew of firemen had been dragging the stream for about an hour.

Efforts at resuscitation were without avail and the body was taken to a Bastrop funeral home and later in the day removed to the Manning home.

The youth, clad in a bathing suit, was said to have gone swimming in the bayou three miles west of Bastrop with one other youth of about his own age. His companion, whose name was not learned here, summoned aid immediately after cramps attacked the Manning boy.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed late yesterday, but it was reported that services would be held some time this afternoon at Hughes chapel near Bastrop.

Other than Captain Dupree, Monroe firemen assisting in the search for the body were Hardy G. Guinn, John McStravick and George Marsala.

Surviving are his parents, two sisters and a brother.

PRESIDENT AWAY AT TIME PROJECTILES TOSSED OUT

Federal Government Troops Smash Band Of Rebels At Rio Verde

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 21.—(AP)—A high flying white airplane dropped four bombs today less than 100 yards from the temporary residence of President Lazaro Cardenas, whose federal troops clashed with rebels in an outbreak of warfare at Rio Verde.

The white plane resembled the two fleet transport-bombing craft known to be in the possession of General Saturnino Cedillo, leader of the uprising in this state against Cardenas' government.

Cardenas was not in the residence when the bombs dropped.

Apparently 25-pounders, the projectiles fell on the edges of the army flying field just behind the house in which Cardenas, here to direct operations against Cedillo, is living.

Federal government troops smashed a rebel band at Rio Verde in the first clash, with 22 rebels reported killed, 15 wounded, and 30 captured. One federal captain and two privates were killed in the outbreak, which brought to a head a rightist-leftist dispute many have feared might spread throughout the nation.

No damage was done by the bombs which fell near the flying field three miles from San Luis city proper. Two army pursuit planes took to the air quickly to attack the raiding plane, but were soon outdistanced.

The attacking plane dropped manifestos signed by Governor Hernandez Netro of this state and four San Luis state legislators. It declared they no longer recognized the Cardenas government.

Hernandez Netro has been missing from San Luis city since yesterday.

In Mexico City a high government official said the government had in its possession documents indicating Cedillo had sought the aid of the expropriated foreign oil industry in carrying out his rebellion against Cardenas.

This official said the documents showed further that Cedillo, rightist dictator of San Luis Potosi state, had promised the oil companies the return of their properties in return for their aid.

He said the papers incriminated several high-placed persons in Mexico City but gave no names.

Cardenas has charged that the oil companies sought to overthrow the government to further their cause in Mexico. This charge was denied by the companies.

By presidential decree, Cardenas on March 18 took over the 18 American and British oil companies that make up the nation's $400,000,000 foreign-owned petroleum industry.

The expropriation was a step in the leftist president's program of Mexico for Mexicans, opposition to which

BROOKS WANTS DAM BUILT AT DENISON

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Representative Brooks, Democrat, Louisiana, praised the Denison dam project as a potential flood protection for northwest Louisiana during house debate on the flood control bill.

"The people of Louisiana are interested in the building of the Denison dam," he said.

He said "serious conditions" prevailed at several points on the Red river in Louisiana because of erosion caused by the stream's swift current.

"Even now," he said, "the people of Caddo parish are concerned with the Twelve Mile bayou bend north of the city of Shreveport where the river during recent months has encroached so far into its bank as to destroy the levee and threaten a great national highway and a railroad."

Brooks said the impounding of millions of cubic feet of water behind the dam to be released at periodic intervals would insure an even flow of water beneath the dam and check erosion and improve navigation.

Members Of Sudeten Party Killed By Guards Close To Border

BERLIN, May 22 (Sunday).—(AP)—Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's newspaper today issued a "last and urgent appeal" to the government of Czechoslovakia to grant at once demands of that nation's German minority.

The demand, printed in a Sunday edition of the Essen National Zeitung, organ of Nazi Germany's number two leader, came in the midst of heightening tension.

Shots which killed two Sudeten Germans near the German border in Czechoslovakia yesterday created an atmosphere in Berlin resembling the days immediately preceding the World war. Berlin's man on the street was talking "war."

"The German Reich, which as the only big power in central Europe bears the supreme responsibility for peace in this part of the world, . . . is viewing results of the Praha catastrophe with greatest sorrow and deep concern," Goering's newspaper said.

Headquarters of the convention will be at Hotel Frances, where two floors of the hotel will be given over to displays of merchandise for inspection of the visiting buyers. Thirty-five to forty wholesale houses are expected to participate in the showing.

According to the plans discussed at Saturday's meeting, a program of entertainment will be provided for those in attendance at the convention, including a banquet and outdoor recreational opportunities. SHREVEPORT HIGH SCHOOL BOY DROWNS

SHREVEPORT, La., May 21.—(AP)—Leon Bryant, 14-year-old Fair Park High school freshman, drowned this afternoon in Cross bayou when stricken by cramps while swimming with four other high school boys.

Bryant went under suddenly in six feet of water and his body was recovered two hours later in four feet of water, 50 feet from where he went down. Shreveport police and firemen found the body.

The boy's mother, recovering in a local hospital after an operation, late this evening had not been told of her son's death.

JAPANESE STATE FOES CRUMBLING

Nippons Push From Conquered Suchow Deeper Into Heart Of China

SHANGHAI, May 21.—(AP)—Japanese, plunging deeper through the heart of China from conquered Suchow, reported tonight that Chinese resistance along the vital Lunghai railroad rapidly was crumbling.

Major General Shunroku Hata, commander of Japan's armies in central China, belittled China's defensive strength and declared "we intend to go to Hankow."

The general's statement to an Associated Press correspondent was the first he has given a foreign newspaperman since assuming his command.

Capture of Suchow, which broke the Lunghai at its junction with the important north-south Tientsin-Pukow railroad, apparently is to be only a phase of a campaign aimed at obliterating the forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Japanese declared they had captured General Tan Tao-Yuan, commander-in-chief of China's twenty-second army, near Suhsien, north of Suchow.

(Japanese at Peiping said all survivors of General Tan's staff also were captured when Japan's forces seized his headquarters 25 miles each of Suhsien.

STOCK EXCHANGE BEGINS NEW ERA

Becomes Public Institution Instead Of Private Gentlemen's Club

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Back in the "gay old days" of 1928 and 1929, Wall Street was hailing a new era. The greatest speculative wave in the history of the world was reaching its crest and, with a devastating suddenness, it toppled on a shore strewn with wreckage.

Today, another new era has come to Wall Street.

It is the new era of cooperation and harmony between the New Deal and the New York stock exchange, the keystone of the financial structure of the nation for more than a hundred years.

Representative of regulation instead of unbridled speculation, this new era was symbolized at last night's "harmony banquet" celebrating the reorganization of the stock exchange. The printed announcement said it was a testimonial to those who prepared the plan of reorganization. But, significantly, the speaker of the evening was William O. Douglas, chairman of the securities and exchange commission.

Stripped of all its words, the theme of the evening plainly was this: Wall Street acknowledged that regulation by Washington is an accomplished fact and is here to stay, so it is better to work together in harmony than to continue down the old road of bitterness and opposition.

In other words, Uncle Sam is the cop on the beat and it's better to clap a hand to his shoulder than to thumb your nose at him.

Perhaps, this was the thought in Douglas' mind, in saying these closing words of his address:

"So, as the green light flashes, I bid you safe riding down the broad and open road that lies ahead. I do more than that—I offer you a police escort."

As Douglas put it, the new era is something else besides mere government regulation and supervision, something more than cooperation. Briefly stated, it is this: The exchanges will police themselves under laws laid down by Uncle Sam. As Douglas said, Uncle Sam would keep

"Come on in, fellers! The water's fine."

The old, familiar clarion call will ring out again today, with a significance it has not had in years.

Today Monroe opens its new "swimmin' hole"—the grandest, most palatial luxury of its kind in all the south. It takes the place of the "ole swimmin' hole," which, in spite of its inadequacies, achieved a place of affection in the estimation of the thousands who knew it as the only salt water swimming pool in any interior city of its size in the country. When that pool was dismantled three years ago, its closing brought gloom to the heart of every boy and girl who knew it as the most prized summer recreation spot of their experience.

The promise of a new and greater "swimmin' hole" was not sufficient to assuage disappointment and regret for the passing of the old.

Nonetheless, there has been during those three years a wistful longing for the coming again of the "swimmin' days," which could only be had with the long-delayed opening of the new pool.

With anxious, skeptical regard, the youth of Monroe—and not an inconsiderable portion of its adulthood, as well—watched the slow growth of the swimming plant in Forsythe park, and attempted to estimate the possibilities of a "natatorium" as compared with the old "swimming pool."

Perhaps a lot of them felt that the old swimming days were gone forever. The natatorium was a long time coming into being. There were delays galore, for reasons that youthful minds, intent on swimming and not on construction problems, couldn't fathom.

Then one day there was an announcement that the new natatorium was given a name, in honor of R. D. Swayze, commissioner of parks and streets, under whose administration the new pool was begun with the aid of WPA funds. Then followed another announcement by C. R. Tidwell, the present commissioner, who said:

"The Swayze Natatorium will be opened for public use Sunday, May 22."

What a whooping of joyful noise there was when it seemed that at last

New Swimmin' Hole—Most Palatial Of Its Kind In South—Will Open

youthful anxiety and apprehension would be set at rest.

That promise of Commissioner Tidwell is to be fulfilled today. The commissioner had hoped to make the occasion an event of ceremonial importance, but to do that he would have had to wait several weeks longer, when it would be possible for prominent officials of the state to come and make a great formal "to-do" of the event. It wouldn't have been fair to the youngsters of the city and surrounding country to keep them wait-

REVOLT OUTBREAKS COMMON IN MEXICO

(By Associated Press)

Revolution and counter-revolution have fanned political strife in Mexico during the last quarter of a century.

High spots of this turbulent period include:

1910—Porforio Diaz overthrown by Francisco I. Madero, who became president in 1911.

1914—Venustiano Carranza seized power.

1920—Carranza assassinated.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.—(AP)—Henry L. Hess, a 48-year-old attorney backed by organized labor and two New Deal leaders, won a spectacular Democratic primary contest today from Governor Charles H. Martin, fierce foe of what he called "labor terrorists."

The governor, who retired from the army a decade ago as a major general, went down to defeat in his bid for renomination after as spectacular a battle as this state ever saw.

When he saw Hess' lead grow to 3,890 votes with only 332 small precincts missing, Martin conceded defeat.

Thus ended a campaign which, through Martin's vigorous entry into the northwest's labor troubles and his resulting barrage upon certain Roosevelt functions and functionaries, drew a number one billing on the nation's political stage.

The vote on which Martin surrendered was 49,046 votes for Hess to

Cecil Manning, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Manning, Jr., of the Rocky Ford community in Morehouse parish, drowned yesterday morning shortly before 11 o'clock when he was overcome by cramps while swimming in Bayou Bartholomew.

The American Legion emergency truck of Monroe, manned by a crew of local firemen under Captain Tom Dupree, left here at 10:55 a.m., for the scene of the tragedy. Captain Dupree recovered the body at 12:10 p.m., after the crew of firemen had been dragging the stream for about an hour.

Efforts at resuscitation were without avail and the body was taken to a Bastrop funeral home and later in the day removed to the Manning home.

The youth, clad in a bathing suit, was said to have gone swimming in the bayou three miles west of Bastrop with one other youth of about his own age. His companion, whose name was not learned here, summoned aid immediately after cramps attacked the Manning boy.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed late yesterday, but it was reported that services would be held some time this afternoon at Hughes chapel near Bastrop.

Other than Captain Dupree, Monroe firemen assisting in the search for the body were Hardy G. Guinn, John McStravick and George Marsala.

Surviving are his parents, two sisters and a brother.

PRESIDENT AWAY AT TIME PROJECTILES TOSSED OUT

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 21.—(AP)—A high-flying white airplane dropped four bombs today less than 100 yards from the temporary residence of President Lazaro Cardenas, whose federal troops clashed with rebels in an outbreak of warfare at Rio Verde.

The white plane resembled the two fleet transport-bombing craft known to be in the possession of General Saturnino Cedillo, leader of the uprising in this state against Cardenas' government.

Cardenas was not in the residence when the bombs dropped.

Apparently 25-pounders, the projectiles fell on the edges of the army flying field just behind the house in which Cardenas, here to direct operations against Cedillo, is living.

Federal government troops smashed a rebel band at Rio Verde in the first clash, with 22 rebels reported killed, 15 wounded, and 80 captured. One federal captain and two privates were killed in the outbreak, which brought to a head a rightist-leftist dispute many have feared might spread throughout the nation.

No damage was done by the bombs which fell near the flying field three miles from San Luis city proper. Two army pursuit planes took to the air quickly to attack the raiding plane, but were soon out-distanced.

The attacking plane dropped manifestos signed by Governor Hernandez Netro, of this state, and four San Luis state legislators. It declared they no longer recognized the Cardenas government.

Hernandez Netro has been missing from San Luis city since yesterday.

In Mexico City a high government official said the government had in its possession documents indicating Cedillo had sought the aid of the expropriated foreign oil industry in carrying out his revolution against Cardenas.

This official said the documents showed further that Cedillo, rightist dictator of San Luis Potosi state, had promised the oil companies the return of their properties in return for their aid.

He said the papers incriminated several high-placed persons in Mexico City, but gave no names.

Cardenas has charged that the oil companies sought to overthrow the government to further their cause in Mexico. This charge was denied by the companies.

By presidential decree, Cardenas on March 18 took over the 18 American and British oil companies that make up the nation's $400,000,000 foreign-owned petroleum industry.

The expropriation was a step in the leftist president's program of Mexico for Mexicans, opposition to which

BROOKS WANTS DAM BUILT AT DENISON

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Representative Brooks, Democrat, Louisiana, praised the Denison dam project as a potential flood protection for northwest Louisiana during house debate on the flood control bill.

"The people of Louisiana are interested in the building of the Denison dam," he said.

He said "serious conditions" prevailed at several points on the Red river in Louisiana because of erosion caused by the stream's swift current.

"Even now," he said, "the people of Caddo parish are concerned with the Twelve Mile bayou bend north of the city of Shreveport where the river during recent months has encroached so far into its bank as to destroy the levee and threaten a great national highway and a railroad."

Brooks said the impounding of millions of cubic feet of water behind the dam to be released at periodic intervals would insure an even flow of water beneath the dam and check erosion and improve navigation.

WIDOW'S BODY FOUND

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—(AP)—The body of Mrs. Leona May Schmidt, wealthy Los Angeles widow, was found today in a shallow grave in the Mojave desert near Gorman. Officers who spent three days searching for the body were accompanied by Valean Neil Ross, 39, the woman's son-in-law, who was quoted by Detective Lieutenant Frank Ryan as saying he shot Mrs. Schmidt during a quarrel last March 9.

'TOMATO QUEEN' TO BE CROWNED

Pretty Girls And Beautiful Fruit Will Feature Festival In Mississippi

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., May 21.—(AP)—Some tomatoes!

This will mean tomatoes as well as Copiah county's most beautiful girls at the state's first tomato festival here June 9-11.

Crystal Springs has long been called the "tomatopolis" of the world but not until this year has this famous truck-growing section actively celebrated it.

Tomatoes have been grown in the Crystal Springs area on a commercial basis for almost three-quarters of a century. Expansion was slow at first because of transportation difficulties.

Since the advent of refrigerator cars, this section has been doing a booming trucking business.

By 1905 approximately half of the vegetables grown for market in the Mississippi valley were produced in the Mississippi area.

The average annual acreage planted to tomatoes in the state—centered largely in the Copiah county area—is 10,000. The yield averages 118 bushels to the acre, compared with Texas' 92 and Georgia's 60.

Shipments of tomatoes average about 2,130 cars annually and this year promises to be as good as ever. Harvesting begins in early June and continues about a month.

Cabbage is another big money crop. Mississippi shipped 2,089 cars last year and most of them came from the Copiah county section.

DRAFTING DONE FOR NATCHEZ TRACE WORK

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—A. E. Demaray, acting director of the national parks service, informed Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, today that the service had started drafting maps for 34.91 miles of route included in the 1939 Natchez trace construction program.

He said one map was being drawn for one section of 10.13 miles and another of 24.78 miles, in Leake and Attala counties for 1939 construction for which congress has appropriated $1,500,000. The maps will be turned over to Mississippi for acquisition of rights of way when completed.

Demaray reported that under the 1938 program maps for mileage in Madison, Leake, Choctaw and Attala had been transmitted to the state, but that the government had not received all the rights of way.

He said three sections totaling 36.38 miles in Mississippi had been placed under contract under the 1937 program.

FORMER FLORIDA MAYOR ARRESTED

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., May 21.—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff J. M. Durden said today that former Mayor Marion J. Walker of Holly Hill, being held by police at Galveston, Tex., was wanted here for "removing property under a lien."

Walker, president of the Walker Motor company, which suspended business recently, was named in a warrant taken out by the Daytona Finance company, Deputy Durden said.

Durden said Walker was charged with taking a car from his sales room floor here when he ceased operations. Galveston police, who took Walker into custody at an automobile store, had been asked by the Florida deputy to hold the car Walker was driving.

PRESBYTERIANS SHAVE DOCTRINE

MERIDIAN, Miss., May 21.—(AP)—Southern Presbyterians were accused by several ministers today of "streamlining" their 300-year-old Confession of Faith by modifying the church's essential doctrine of the predestination of man.

By a vote of 151 to 130, church liberals voted to omit two sections of the church canons which proclaim that God fore-ordained the exact number that might be saved or lost.

Dr. M. G. Qutzke of Sherman, Tex., vigorously opposed the change and said omission of the sections struck at the foundations of the Presbyterian religion.

"It seems to me that we are streamlining our versions of the Scripture," he said.

Dr. J. B. Green, professor of theology of the Columbia Theological seminary, said the predestination sections "kept our ministers on the defensive in attempting to explain something that none of us understand."

Dr. J. C. McLean of Richmond said the doctrine of predestination, as expressed in the Confession of Faith, "is an over-statement."

He said that if this doctrine were literally true there was no need for evangelism.

"This goes much further than the New Testament and makes it very difficult for many to believe in our faith," he said.

The sections voted out read:

"By the decree of God, for the manifestation of His glory, some men and angels are predestined unto everlasting life and others fore-ordained to everlasting death.

"And their number is so certain and definite that it cannot be either increased or diminished."

An elder raised such feverish debate on the question of moral justification for war that action on the church's stated attitude was postponed until Monday.

"It is getting to such a point in this country," said the elder, W. Calvin Wells of Jackson, Miss., chairman of the board of trustees of Mississippi state supported colleges, "that anybody who is willing to fight for his country or for religious freedom is labeled a fool or a sap."

His declaration followed a proposed change in the code which said Christians might "lawfully, now under the New Testament, use such measures of public order and defense as are just and necessary."

In protest against striking out the words "to wage war" Elder Wells shouted "I can not sit idly by and see the church of John Calvin make such a mistake.

"Are we Calvinists going to take away from ourselves and our sons the right to fight for a just cause? That is the doctrine communists are sending to this country from Moscow while they arm themselves for war."

The Rev. Robert C. Grady, young minister of Greenville, N. C., said the issue had been confused.

"This is not a question of whether we are pacifists or militarists," he said. "But adoption of this change will serve notice to the world the church is taking its stand against the scavengers of war."

Dr. J. Stewart Pearce of Fort Worth, Tex., replied that for the church to say there was no just war would "brand us as traitors to Christ. I'm glad to say we haven't done it."

UTILITIES WIN BIG CONCESSION

Drastic Restriction Placed On Government-Financed Construction

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Private utilities won a major concession today when the senate appropriations committee wrote into the administration's lending-spending bill a drastic restriction on government-financed construction of public utility systems.

The committee recommended the bill to the senate after increasing house-approved appropriations by $298,000,000. The group effected reductions in some authorizations for spending, however. The total now included in the measure for both lending and spending is $3,247,000,000, compared with $3,154,000,000 voted by the house.

The utility restriction, recommended by an appropriations subcommittee, was adopted by a narrow margin on a show of hands in the committee.

Under the limitation, PWA funds could not be used to build utility systems which would compete with privately-owned plants if the latter were under any form of public regulation.

If approved by the senate and house, the provision would curb a major administration power policy. Secretary Ickes, who heads the PWA, has granted government financing in the past for many public utility systems. These past grants would not be affected.

At present the PWA has 81 additional public utility projects totaling $127,000,000 on its approved list, of which 49 costing $56,000,000 would compete wholly or partially with existing private plants.

In addition to the utility amendment, the committee wrote other basic changes into the house-approved relief measure. One would provide $212,000,000 for benefit payments to wheat, cotton and corn farmers.

Under this amendment, farmers would receive benefit payments only if prices of the designated commodities fell below 75 per cent of parity prices fixed under provisions of the 1938 farm program. Parity is the price necessary to give a farm product the same purchasing power, in terms of non-farm goods, that it had in the period 1909-1914.

Payments could not exceed 2 cents a pound for cotton, 8 cents a bushel for wheat and five cents a bushel for corn.

The $212,000,000 appropriation, proposed by Senator Russell, Democrat, Georgia, would be in addition to other millions already voted for farm benefits.

An amendment by Senator Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, was adopted to require elimination of WPA wage differentials in the event country-wide standards were imposed under wage-hour legislation. The WPA now pays lower wages in the south than in the north. The wage-hour bill to come up in the house Monday would impose uniform labor standards on industry throughout the country.

Pretty Girls And Beautiful Fruit Will Feature Festival In Mississippi

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., May 21.—(AP)—Some tomatoes!

That will mean tomatoes as well as Copiah county's most beautiful girls at the state's first tomato festival here June 9-11.

Crystal Springs has long been called the "tomatopolis" of the world but not until this year has this famous truck-growing section actively celebrated it.

Tomatoes have been grown in the Crystal Springs area on a commercial basis for almost three-quarters of a century. Expansion was slow at first because of transportation difficulties.

Since the advent of refrigerator cars, this section has been doing a booming trucking business.

By 1905 approximately half of the vegetables grown for market in the Mississippi valley were produced in the Mississippi area.

The average annual acreage planted to tomatoes in the state—centered largely in the Copiah county area—is 10,000. The yield averages 118 bushels to the acre, compared with Texas' 92 and Georgia's 60.

Shipments of tomatoes average about 2,130 cars annually and this year promises to be as good as ever. Harvesting begins in early June and continues about a month.

Cabbage is another big money crop. Mississippi shipped 2,089 cars last year and most of them came from the Copiah county section.

DRAFTING DONE FOR NATCHEZ TRACE WORK

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—A. E. Demaray, acting director of the national parks service, informed Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, today that the service had started drafting maps for 34.91 miles of route included in the 1939 Natchez trace construction program.

He said one map was being drawn for one section of 10.13 miles and another of 24.78 miles, in Leake and Attala counties for 1939 construction for which congress has appropriated $1,500,000. The maps will be turned over to Mississippi for acquisition of rights of way when completed.

Demaray reported that under the 1938 program maps for mileage in Madison, Leake, Choctaw and Attala had been transmitted to the state, but that the government had not received all the rights of way.

He said three sections totaling 36.38 miles in Mississippi had been placed under contract under the 1937 program.

FORMER FLORIDA MAYOR ARRESTED

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., May 21.—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff J. M. Durden said today that former Mayor Marion J. Walker of Holly Hill, being held by police at Galveston, Tex., was wanted here for "removing property under a lien."

Walker, president of the Walker Motor company, which suspended business recently, was named in a warrant taken out by the Daytona Finance company, Deputy Durden said.

Durden said Walker was charged with taking a car from his sales room floor here when he ceased operations. Galveston police, who took Walker into custody at an automobile store, had been asked by the Florida deputy to hold the car Walker was driving.

PRESBYTERIANS SHAVE DOCTRINE

MERIDIAN, Miss., May 21.—(AP)—Southern Presbyterians were accused by several ministers today of "streamlining" their 300-year-old Confession of Faith by modifying the church's essential doctrine of the predestination of man.

By a vote of 151 to 130, church liberals voted to omit two sections of the church canons which proclaim that God fore-ordained the exact number that might be saved or lost.

Dr. M. G. Qutzke of Sherman, Tex., vigorously opposed the change and said omission of the sections struck at the foundations of the Presbyterian religion.

"It seems to me that we are streamlining our versions of the Scripture," he said.

Dr. J. B. Green, professor of theology of the Columbia Theological seminary, said the predestination sections "kept our ministers on the defensive in attempting to explain something that none of us understand."

Dr. J. C. McLean of Richmond said the doctrine of predestination, as expressed in the Confession of Faith, "is an over-statement."

He said that if this doctrine were literally true there was no need for evangelism.

"This goes much further than the New Testament and makes it very difficult for many to believe in our faith," he said.

The sections voted out read:

"By the decree of God, for the manifestation of His glory, some men and angels are predestined unto everlasting life and others fore-ordained to everlasting death.

"And their number is so certain and definite that it cannot be either increased or diminished."

An elder raised such feverish debate on the question of moral justification for war that action on the church's stated attitude was postponed until Monday.

"It is getting to such a point in this country," said the elder, W. Calvin Wells of Jackson, Miss., chairman of the board of trustees of Mississippi state supported colleges, "that anybody who is willing to fight for his country or for religious freedom is labeled a fool or a sap."

His declaration followed a proposed change in the code which said Christians might "lawfully, now under the New Testament, use such measures of public order and defense as are just and necessary."

In protest against striking out the words "to wage war" Elder Wells shouted "I can not sit idly by and see the church of John Calvin make such a mistake.

"Are we Calvinists going to take away from ourselves and our sons the right to fight for a just cause? That is the doctrine communists are sending to this country from Moscow while they arm themselves for war."

The Rev. Robert C. Grady, young minister of Greenville, N. C., said the issue had been confused.

"This is not a question of whether we are pacifists or militarists," he said. "But adoption of this change will serve notice to the world the church is taking its stand against the scavengers of war."

Dr. J. Stewart Pearce of Fort Worth, Tex., replied that for the church to say there was no just war would "brand us as traitors to Christ. I'm glad to say we haven't done it."

UTILITIES WIN BIG CONCESSION

Drastic Restriction Placed On Government-Financed Construction

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Private utilities won a major concession today when the senate appropriations committee wrote into the administration's lending-spending bill a drastic restriction on government-financed construction of public utility systems.

The committee recommended the bill to the senate after increasing house-approved appropriations by $298,000,000. The group effected reductions in some authorizations for spending, however. The total now included in the measure for both lending and spending is $3,247,000,000, compared with $3,154,000,000 voted by the house.

The utility restriction, recommended by an appropriations subcommittee, was adopted by a narrow margin on a show of hands in the committee.

Under the limitation, PWA funds could not be used to build utility systems which would compete with privately-owned plants if the latter were under any form of public regulation.

If approved by the senate and house, the provision would curb a major administration power policy. Secretary Ickes, who heads the PWA, has granted government financing in the past for many public utility systems. These past grants would not be affected.

At present the PWA has 81 additional public utility projects totaling $127,000,000 on its approved list, of which 49 costing $56,000,000 would compete wholly or partially with existing private plants.

In addition to the utility amendment, the committee wrote other basic changes into the house-approved relief measure. One would provide $212,000,000 for benefit payments to wheat, cotton and corn farmers.

Under this amendment, farmers would receive benefit payments only if prices of the designated commodities fell below 75 per cent of parity prices fixed under provisions of the 1938 farm program. Parity is the price necessary to give a farm product the same purchasing power, in terms of non-farm goods, that it had in the period 1909-1914.

Payments could not exceed 2 cents a pound for cotton, 8 cents a bushel for wheat and five cents a bushel for corn.

The $212,000,000 appropriation, proposed by Senator Russell, Democrat, Georgia, would be in addition to other millions already voted for farm benefits.

An amendment by Senator Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, was adopted to require elimination of WPA wage differentials in the event country-wide standards were imposed under wage-hour legislation. The WPA now pays lower wages in the south than in the north. The wage-hour bill to come up in the house Monday would impose uniform labor standards on industry throughout the country.

PRISONS VISITED BY ROCKEFELLER

John D., Third, Spends Three Years Investigating Life Inside Walls

By John Lear
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, May 21—(AP)—A tall young fellow who spent parts of three years on a tour of prisons listening to the troubles of youths behind prison bars was identified today as John D. Rockefeller, third, namesake-grandson of "the richest man in the world."

The identification came from Mr. Rockefeller himself.

He gave it to me reluctantly, for he has been self-effacing in his efforts to help boys and girls find the road back from crime to an honest life.

"I am not news," he said with an earnest smile. "It is the work that is important."

"The work," he related enthusiastically, is a broad program of reform in the handling of prisoners. It is directed first at changing the philosophy and methods of the existing system and second at making good citizens of those who are caught in the toils.

To reform prisons, it is necessary to know something about them. So John D. Rockefeller, third, 32-year-old heir to America's biggest fortune, went to prison.

He went, in fact, to a number of prisons. He spent days at it, over a period of several years. He went through cells and dining halls and workshops. He discussed their problems with wardens and guards. But his greatest interest was in talking with prisoners between the ages of 16 and 21 to find out why they were there and what they thought of the society to which they must sometime return.

What he learned is summed up and amplified, by the social worker who accompanied him, in a little book called "Youth in the Toils."

The books says our present system of law enforcement makes criminals of youthful offenders instead of reforming them, and that the system must be changed before our crime bill will come down. More than that, it offers a plan for the change.

1. A special legal code to cover boys between the ages of 16 and 21 years.

2. A new court, "delinquent minors court," to handle cases under this code.

3. A dual system of disposing of these cases through (a) determination of guilty or innocence by an examining judge and (b) determination of punishment or treatment on an individual basis by a special board of legal, social and psychiatric experts.

4. Arraignment of prisoners immediately after arrest to avoid the "hardening" effects of delays.

5. Settlement of cases swiftly, for, the book said, swift and sure justice has a greater deterrent quality than heavy punishment.

6. Sentences of four types: (a) for those "who cannot or will not" reform, "indefinite" segregation in prisons or penal colonies; (b) for "the less tractable though ultimately reformable" offenders, special training schools and work camps "sufficiently isolated to provide a completely controlled environment"; (c) for those "whose chief need is better environmental opportunities," a return to schooling or employment in favorable surroundings under "definite supervision"; and (d) for "those who can continue in their usual environment," supervised freedom on probation.

In short, the program asked that the adolescent first offender be given understanding and a chance to redeem himself instead of being "educated" into chronic criminality.

CHAPTER XXV

"Who is it?" Celia demanded eagerly. She held the French telephone close to her ear.

The "gentleman" at the other end of the line was a butler explaining that Miss Lisi Duncan wished to speak to Miss Mitchell. A moment later Celia heard Lisi's gay voice.

"That you, Celia?" she asked. "Evelyn told me you'd gone home. I telephoned her a few minutes ago. Listen, how're you feeling today?"

"Oh, I'm all right!" Surely, Celia thought to herself, she must have said that a thousand times in the last 24 hours.

"Fine! Honey, I want you to have lunch with me tomorrow. I'm going to drive in and I'll pick you up about 1:30 That O. K.?"

Celia thought it would be. It cheered her immensely to think Lisi wanted to be friendly. She promised to be ready.

"That's settled then. By-by, honey!"

After Celia put down the telephone she wondered if her grandmother could object. It would be horrible to have to call off the engagement. She decided to wait until her father arrived home before mentioning the luncheon party.

He came shortly after four, asking immediately for his daughter. The girl was reading.

"Home again!" Mitchell called as he entered the library. "Well, Celia, let's hear all about this casualty of yours."

"Oh, father, I can't understand how it happened. One minute I was swimming along and the next the wave came over me and I thought I was sinking—"

Mitchell sat down beside her, asked questions. He wanted to know the name of the young man who had saved her. Celia, with trembling eagerness, told him. She explained she had met Jordan at Evelyn Parsons'.

"Oh, yes? Well, I wouldn't stand on a little point of etiquette if I were drowning!" he said dryly.

Celia laughed. She explained she wasn't referring to social proprieties, but thought Mitchell might remember seeing Jordan.

Her father shook his head.

"Can't say I do," he said. Then he wrote down the name. "Well—I'll look after this young man—"

"But I'm sure he wouldn't—I mean I don't think he'd accept money or anything like that!" she protested.

Mitchell put the memorandum book back into his pocket.

"Never mind about that," he said. "Celia, I had a pretty uncomfortable half hour last night before I knew you were safe." There was emotion in his voice that surprised the girl. Mitchell put out a hand and took Celia's, and for a moment there was understanding silence between them.

"I must run upstairs and dress," the girl said, rising. She was afraid to show how deeply she had been touched. Before she reached the door Celia remembered Lisi and the luncheon engagement. She told her father about it.

"That's all right," he said. "I want you to have plenty of young friends. I'll speak to your grandmother."

She thanked him and went on out of the room.

There was a letter from Celia's mother next morning. It was not the first the girl had received from Mrs. Rogers since arriving in New York, but coming at this particular time, its effect was profound. Celia was at her dressing table lazily polishing her nails when Martha knocked on the door and gave her the letter.

The girl greeted the familiar handwriting with delight. Then she ran to the chaise longue, sank down and tore open the envelope.

"My darling child," was the salutation. Celia read on quickly. There was little news. Mrs. Rogers wrote that she was feeling well and very busy. It was the vacation season and two of the fitters at Margot's were away. Of course it was the slack season, but still she and Tillie Dennison had their hands full. It had been very warm, but today they were having a cool spell.

Margaret Rogers said that Barney had come to see her. He was working hard. The people next door in the apartment had a new radio. There was nothing of importance in the letter, but Celia read it all eagerly. This was news from home.

"I hope you are very happy with your new friends," the last paragraph read, "but remember, above all else, to take care of yourself. Write soon. Oh, my darling, how I love you.

"Your Mother."

After the girl had finished reading it she sat down for a long time looking down at the letter. It brought back sharply everything in the life she had left. Mother, Barney—she saw them through different eyes. She was glad she had written both of them Monday. She should have done so earlier. Somehow, there seemed little time to write. There was so much else to do. Her precious mother! Celia thought of her mother going to work, bending over her sewing these hot days. Was she really well? A wave of revulsion swept over the girl as she thought of Margaret Rogers' long toil and privations and the luxury with which she herself was surrounded.

Finally she folded the letter and put it under a pile of lingerie in a drawer of the dressing table.

Lisi was late. It was nearly 2 o'clock when she drove up to the Mitchell home and sounded the French horn of her coupe. Celia hurried out of the house to stop the uproar before it reached her grandmother's ears.

"Hullo!" Lisi greeted her brightly. "Am I late? It's the precious traffic. Red lights all the way! I swear, crossing the bridge—"

She babbled on as Celia stepped into the car. Then they circled the square and headed uptown.

Lisi was looking particularly well in a green and white printed frock and small green hat that seemed to minimize her freckles.

"How's my hat?" she demanded. "It's Kate's, and she'd have 47 cat fits if she knew I had it. Have I got it on right?"

Celia said the hat looked very well.

"We're going to ——" the other girl said, naming a small, fashionable restaurant. "Dicky's to meet us there. It's all right. He knows I'm always late."

"Who's Dicky?" Celia asked.

Lisi grinned. "The plot thickens," she said. "Haven't had time to explain why I really called you yesterday. Dicky's my Big Thrill. He's an actor—oh, a good one, too! Going to open in a wonderful show next month. But you see I can't have him out at the house or meet him at the club because of Kate. Every time a man I like sees Kate they forget me like that!" Lisi's fingers snapped. "She goes after them on purpose. Kate's mean as the dickens that way. Ask her little sister if you want to learn all. I fished up this excuse of lunching with you so I could get into town without a row. Anyhow, I didn't think you'd mind—"

It was impossible to hold resentment against Lisi. Celia was a little uncomfortable about lunching with this strange man but her companion waved aside her scruples.

"Dicky's a love!" she declared. "Wait till you see him."

The man who rose when they entered the foyer of the restaurant was not, to Celia's way of thinking, "a love." He was too blond, too conscious of his regular features, and too eager to talk about himself.

A waiter led them to a corner table which had been reserved. Lisi fell into eager conversation about how rehearsals were going, and whether Dickey had succeeded in getting his part enlarged.

He had not but he was going to talk to the director that afternoon.

Celia sat back and listened. She thought the attraction between Lisi and this fair-haired Dicky curious. .. vision of Tod Jordan's dark good looks rose in her memory.

"But Celia!" Lisi turned laughing. "I forgot to tell you Dicky's name! Isn't that a scream? Listen, he's Richard Brandon Caruthers on the theater programs. Remember that! Last spring Dicky was playing in "Finders Keepers" when I met him. Oh, you should have seen him—"

"It was a good part," Caruthers put in. He explained to Celia that he played juvenile roles and preferred drama though he had appeared in musical comedies.

The luncheon was appetizing. Celia devoted herself to the creamed sweetbread and salad and let the others talk. It was interesting to hear this familiar gossip of the stage. Somehow she had expected an actor to be a more glamorous person than Richard Brandon Caruthers.

At 3:30 they left the restaurant. Dicky was to report at the theater at 4. They all climbed into the coupe and Lisi drove toward Broadway. Celia dared not admit it was her first view of that famous thoroughfare. Her father and grandmother apparently had little interest in the theater.

In the afternoon sun she thought the great electric signs looked hideous and the street had a cheap, dismal air. It was very hot. Curious looking men and women passed. Caruthers left them in front of a theater which to Celia was one of the ugliest.

All the way to Grammercy Park Lisi chattered of the young man's attractions.

"You know," she said impulsively, "I like you, Celia. I knew I could depend on you. You're on the level!

Celia replied that she liked Lisi too. It was agreed they should meet again soon. Then Lisi departed and Celia entered the house.

The next day was dreary but on Saturday Mrs. Mitchell and Celia drove to Westchester to attend a society fair for the benefit of charity. It was one of the charities of which Mrs. Mitchell served as a board member.

Celia was not interested until she visited the fortune teller's tent. Her grandmother, by an odd quirk of character, had the greatest faith in seers.

"Ask her to read your future!" Mrs. Mitchell urged, and the girl went into the brightly festooned bower.

She offered her palm to the aged gypsy.

"Can you see anything there?" Celia asked as she sat down.

The old woman studied the hand several moments.

"Sweethearts," she muttered. "Two of them. One handsome! I see—"

PRISONS VISITED BY ROCKEFELLER

John D., Third, Spends Three Years Investigating Life Inside Walls

By John Lear
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—A tall young fellow who spent parts of three years on a tour of prisons listening to the troubles of youths behind prison bars was identified today as John D. Rockefeller, third, namesake-grandson of "the richest man in the world."

The identification came from Mr. Rockefeller himself.

He gave it to me reluctantly, for he has been self-effacing in his efforts to help boys and girls find the road back from crime to an honest life.

"I am not news," he said with an earnest smile. "It is the work that is important."

"The work," he related enthusiastically, is a broad program of reform in the handling of prisoners. It is directed first at changing the philosophy and methods of the existing system and second at making good citizens of those who are caught in the toils.

To reform prisons, it is necessary to know something about them. So John D. Rockefeller, third, 32-year-old heir to America's biggest fortune, went to prison.

He went, in fact, to a number of prisons. He spent days at it, over a period of several years. He went through cells and dining halls and workshops. He discussed their problems with wardens and guards. But his greatest interest was in talking with prisoners between the ages of 16 and 21 to find out why they were there and what they thought of the society to which they must sometime return.

What he learned is summed up and amplified, by the social worker who accompanied him, in a little book called "Youth in the Toils."

The books says our present system of law enforcement makes criminals of youthful offenders instead of reforming them, and that the system must be changed before our crime bill will come down. More than that, it offers a plan for the change.

1. A special legal code to cover boys between the ages of 16 and 21 years.

2. A new court, "delinquent minors court," to handle cases under this code.

3. A dual system of disposing of these cases through (a) determination of guilty or innocence by an examining judge and (b) determination of punishment or treatment on an individual basis by a special board of legal, social and psychiatric experts.

4. Arraignment of prisoners immediately after arrest to avoid the "hardening" effects of delays.

5. Settlement of cases swiftly, for, the book said, swift and sure justice has a greater deterrent quality than heavy punishment.

6. Sentences of four types: (a) for those "who cannot or will not" reform, "indefinite" segregation in prisons or penal colonies; (b) for "the less tractable though ultimately reformable" offenders, special training schools and work camps "sufficiently isolated to provide a completely controlled environment"; (c) for those "whose chief need is better environmental opportunities," a return to schooling or employment in favorable surroundings under "definite supervision"; and (d) for "those who can continue in their usual environment," supervised freedom on probation.

In short, the program asked that the adolescent first offender be given understanding and a chance to redeem himself instead of being "educated" into chronic criminality.

CHAPTER XXV

"Who is it?" Celia demanded eagerly. She held the French telephone close to her ear.

The "gentleman" at the other end of the line was a butler explaining that Miss Lisi Duncan wished to speak to Miss Mitchell. A moment later Celia heard Lisi's gay voice.

"That you, Celia?" she asked. "Evelyn told me you'd gone home. I telephoned her a few minutes ago. Listen, how're you feeling today?"

"Oh, I'm all right!" Surely, Celia thought to herself, she must have said that a thousand times in the last 24 hours.

"Fine! Honey, I want you to have lunch with me tomorrow. I'm going to drive in and I'll pick you up about 1:30 That O. K.?"

Celia thought it would be. It cheered her immensely to think Lisi wanted to be friendly. She promised to be ready.

"That's settled then. By-by, honey!"

After Celia put down the telephone she wondered if her grandmother could object. It would be horrible to have to call off the engagement. She decided to wait until her father arrived home before mentioning the luncheon party.

He came shortly after four, asking immediately for his daughter. The girl was reading.

"Home again!" Mitchell called as he entered the library. "Well, Celia, let's hear all about this casualty of yours."

"Oh, father, I can't understand how it happened. One minute I was swimming along and the next the wave came over me and I thought I was sinking—"

Mitchell sat down beside her, asked questions. He wanted to know the name of the young man who had saved her. Celia, with trembling eagerness, told him. She explained she had met Jordan at Evelyn Parsons'.

"Oh, yes? Well, I wouldn't stand on a little point of etiquette if I were drowning!" he said dryly.

Celia laughed. She explained she wasn't referring to social proprieties, but thought Mitchell might remember seeing Jordan.

Her father shook his head.

"Can't say I do," he said. Then he wrote down the name. "Well—I'll look after this young man—"

"But I'm sure he wouldn't—I mean I don't think he'd accept money or anything like that!" she protested.

Mitchell put the memorandum book back into his pocket.

"Never mind about that," he said. "Celia, I had a pretty uncomfortable half hour last night before I knew you were safe." There was emotion in his voice that surprised the girl. Mitchell put out a hand and took Celia's, and for a moment there was understanding silence between them.

"I must run upstairs and dress," the girl said, rising. She was afraid to show how deeply she had been touched. Before she reached the door Celia remembered Lisi and the luncheon engagement. She told her father about it.

"That's all right," he said. "I want you to have plenty of young friends. I'll speak to your grandmother."

She thanked him and went on out of the room.

There was a letter from Celia's mother next morning. It was not the first the girl had received from Mrs. Rogers since arriving in New York, but coming at this particular time, its effect was profound. Celia was at her dressing table lazily polishing her nails when Martha knocked on the door and gave her the letter.

The girl greeted the familiar handwriting with delight. Then she ran to the chaise longue, sank down and tore open the envelope.

"My darling child," was the salutation. Celia read on quickly. There was little news. Mrs. Rogers wrote that she was feeling well and very busy. It was the vacation season and two of the fitters at Margot's were away. Of course it was the slack season, but still she and Tillie Dennison had their hands full. It had been very warm, but today they were having a cool spell.

Margaret Rogers said that Barney had come to see her. He was working hard. The people next door in the apartment had a new radio. There was nothing of importance in the letter, but Celia read it all eagerly. This was news from home.

"I hope you are very happy with your new friends," the last paragraph read, "but remember, above all else, to take care of yourself. Write soon. Oh, my darling, how I love you.

"Your Mother."

After the girl had finished reading it she sat down for a long time looking down at the letter. It brought back sharply everything in the life she had left. Mother, Barney—she saw them through different eyes. She was glad she had written both of them Monday. She should have done so earlier. Somehow, there seemed little time to write. There was so much else to do. Her precious mother! Celia thought of her mother going to work, bending over her sewing these hot days. Was she really well? A wave of revulsion swept over the girl as she thought of Margaret Rogers' long toil and privations and the luxury with which she herself was surrounded.

Finally she folded the letter and put it under a pile of lingerie in a drawer of the dressing table.

Lisi was late. It was nearly 2 o'clock when she drove up to the Mitchell home and sounded the French horn of her coupe. Celia hurried out of the house to stop the uproar before it reached her grandmother's ears.

"Hullo!" Lisi greeted her brightly. "Am I late? It's the precious traffic. Red lights all the way! I swear, crossing the bridge—"

She babbled on as Celia stepped into the car. Then they circled the square and headed uptown.

Lisi was looking particularly well in a green and white printed frock and small green hat that seemed to minimize her freckles.

"How's my hat?" she demanded. "It's Kate's, and she'd have 47 cat fits if she knew I had it. Have I got it on right?"

Celia said the hat looked very well.

"We're going to ——" the other girl said, naming a small, fashionable restaurant. "Dicky's to meet us there. It's all right. He knows I'm always late."

"Who's Dicky?" Celia asked.

Lisi grinned. "The plot thickens," she said. "Haven't had time to explain why I really called you yesterday. Dicky's my Big Thrill. He's an actor—oh, a good one, too! Going to open in a wonderful show next month. But you see I can't have him out at the house or meet him at the club because of Kate. Every time a man I like sees Kate they forget me like that!" Lisi's fingers snapped. "She goes after them on purpose. Kate's mean as the dickens that way. Ask her little sister if you want to learn all. I fished up this excuse of lunching with you so I could get into town without a row. Anyhow, I didn't think you'd mind—"

It was impossible to hold resentment against Lisi. Celia was a little uncomfortable about lunching with this strange man but her companion waved aside her scruples.

"Dicky's a love!" she declared. "Wait till you see him."

The man who rose when they entered the foyer of the restaurant was not, to Celia's way of thinking, "a love." He was too blond, too conscious of his regular features, and too eager to talk about himself.

A waiter led them to a corner table which had been reserved. Lisi fell into eager conversation about how rehearsals were going, and whether Dickey had succeeded in getting his part enlarged.

He had not but he was going to talk to the director that afternoon.

Celia sat back and listened. She thought the attraction between Lisi and this fair-haired Dicky curious. .. vision of Tod Jordan's dark good looks rose in her memory.

"But Celia!" Lisi turned laughing. "I forgot to tell you Dicky's name! Isn't that a scream? Listen, he's Richard Brandon Caruthers on the theater programs. Remember that! Last spring Dicky was playing in "Finders Keepers" when I met him. Oh, you should have seen him—"

"It was a good part," Caruthers put in. He explained to Celia that he played juvenile roles and preferred drama though he had appeared in musical comedies.

The luncheon was appetizing. Celia devoted herself to the creamed sweetbread and salad and let the others talk. It was interesting to hear this familiar gossip of the stage. Somehow she had expected an actor to be a more glamorous person than Richard Brandon Caruthers.

At 3:30 they left the restaurant. Dicky was to report at the theater at 4. They all climbed into the coupe and Lisi drove toward Broadway. Celia dared not admit it was her first view of that famous thoroughfare. Her father and grandmother apparently had little interest in the theater.

In the afternoon sun she thought the great electric signs looked hideous and the street had a cheap, dismal air. It was very hot. Curious looking men and women passed. Caruthers left them in front of a theater which to Celia was one of the ugliest.

All the way to Grammercy Park Lisi chattered of the young man's attractions.

"You know," she said impulsively, "I like you, Celia. I knew I could depend on you. You're on the level!

Celia replied that she liked Lisi too. It was agreed they should meet again soon. Then Lisi departed and Celia entered the house.

The next day was dreary but on Saturday Mrs. Mitchell and Celia drove to Westchester to attend a society fair for the benefit of charity. It was one of the charities of which Mrs. Mitchell served as a board member.

Celia was not interested until she visited the fortune teller's tent. Her grandmother, by an odd quirk of character, had the greatest faith in seers.

"Ask her to read your future!" Mrs. Mitchell urged, and the girl went into the brightly festooned bower.

She offered her palm to the aged gypsy.

"Can you see anything there?" Celia asked as she sat down.

The old woman studied the hand several moments.

"Sweethearts," she muttered. "Two of them. One handsome! I see—"

Qualities Of Friendship

In our modern penchant for cliche and formula we sometimes reason superficially about the qualities that make for friendship and lasting influence. We tend to accept the oft-reiterated statement that a cheerful smile (put on like a mask), a hearty (and sometimes silly) hand shake, and kind words (frequently not spoken from the heart) are the main essentials.

How, then, shall we explain the fact that some of the world's rudest, most sharp-spoken men have left us the finest examples and precepts we have in the realm of friendship? Beloved though they were, these men ignored virtually every cliche about the way to hold friends.

An excellent example was Socrates, the philosopher. Authorities assure us that he was unattractive in appearance and utterly careless in his apparel. He wore the same bedraggled tunic for years on end. But, most amazing of all, he used the lash of his brilliant mind and double-edged tongue unsparingly on all his pupils and friends. He often referred to himself as the "old gadfly." He loved to torture his pupils by asking embarrassing questions until they distilled a measure of truth from assertions [illegible] carelessly and in generalization.

Two thousand years later we find Dr. Johnson belaboring the backs of his unprotesting friends. Boswell, Oliver Goldsmith, Sir Joshua Reynolds—all tested the sour edge of his choleric temper and irritable impatience. His prejudices were violent, and he was ready to espouse either side of an argument simply because someone took the other. His sallies in conversation often took a pointed and personal turn, and could scarcely have failed to offend. And yet he never lacked for friends—almost fanatic in their devotion to him and all his works.

A logical deduction is that the quality of friendship lies deep—far beyond the casual ability to slip them on and off like the folds of a cloak. These qualities may be derived from the reading of many books—but not from scanning one. Great intellects attract and hold friends beyond the obstacles of superficial shortcomings and differences.

We arrive once more at the inevitable conclusion that friendship is engendered and lives by character—whether the relations be personal or in business, and that character of any sort is not to be attained overnight.

IN THE COLD, COLD GROUND

Over in the Blue Grass state, where the horses run and the mint-beds spread their fragrance, there is $6,000,000,000 in gold buried in the ground. Let's not ask the reason; it's either too complicated or too simple for us to understand.

And now our burrowing government is about to deposit 70,000 tons of silver in subterranean concrete at—of all places!—West Point. Doubtless we shall soon hear of several bushels of diamonds being interred at Annapolis, or at least that the captured bronze guns have been covered with turf.

This West Point silver is our principal interest for the moment, however. Congress has decreed it's worth $1.29 an ounce. Therefore 70,000 tons of it has a fiat value of $2,580,000,000. Your newspaper reveals that the world price is 43 cents an ounce, so the West Point silver isn't worth more than $860,000,000, if your standard of values is cosmopolitan.

From the mints at San Francisco, Denver and Philadelphia the caissons go rolling along, bound up the Hudson to deposit their loads behind a nine-foot steel fence. Floodlights will illumine the vaults; passengers on the night boats will see alert sentries in their watch-towers peering out at what is known as "the surrounding terrain," which includes Bear Mountain park and Bill Brown's rest-cure at Garrison.

It's all a bit too much for us to understand, but it's dramatic as all get out. Doubtless good fun, too. Perhaps it all comes from reading those Civil war novels, where the silver is buried in chapter II. But who, in this case, are the Yanks?

LOVE WILL FIND A WAY

The town of Disney, Okla., is shortly going to have government by trial and error. Little more than a clearing in the woods just now, it will soon be the home of the construction workers on the giant Grand river dam, and the powers that be want to find out just what to do about them.

The powers that be are apparently two women of unofficial status, and a one-man police force. Disney is not yet incorporated. One woman insists on an early curfew and a set of effective blue laws, and the other wants the place "wide open" . . . a thoroughgoing old-fashioned boom town. For 30 days Disney will be wide open, and for 30 days it will be shut tight. Whatever plan seems to work out best will be adopted.

The blue law enthusiast says the workers will need all the sleep they can get, and the boom-town boomer says what they'll need is recreation. The one-man police force says, "This is the craziest thing I ever heard of."

It isn't crazy, it's just something that probably won't make any difference at all. Blue laws or no blue laws, the [illegible] going to have their fun when they feel like it, and [illegible] when they feel like it. At least, that's what they do in [illegible] in the world. Love of life always [illegible]

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—It is a shame to come all the way to Washington and then order bean soup and apple pie, but it is surprising the number of people who do just that—at the Senate restaurant.

First off, the price is low, the two items coming only to 25 cents. But more important—the restaurant is more noted for those two dishes than for any other.

The apple pie is deep and consistently good. The soup has its off days. But the odds are that on any given day the soup will be good. We don't know where to buy better.

And it is well to understand that, taken together, apple pie and bean soup will be about all you can manage, particularly if you plan to stop in the gallery and hear a learned debate on something or other. Because in that case it will take next to a fist fight on the floor to keep you awake.

Sea Food, River View

Major top flight eating spots can be found either right in town or hidden away in some suburban spot under a spreading elm tree. But anybody not too fastidious about smells can find something to do about food down on the water front. Herzog's hangs right out over the wharf, and diners or lunchers sit on a balcony from which they can look through yacht masts to the Virginia shore a mile across the Potomac.

Back from the wharf a bit are several other restaurants specializing in sea foods and Potomac views. They don't try to polish up much, but the fish dishes are beyond complaint. One of them, Paul's, has a long and interesting history. It has been a hangout for some government group or other on week nights for years without number. A story is told about an earlier day president who used to frequent the place—but that for other times.

Sancho, My Lance!

For more than a year, Secretary Ickes has been conducting a Don Quixote battle against steel companies, cement companies and others he accuses of collusive bidding on materials for public works projects. He refuses to think it is coincidence when cement companies offer identical bids right down to the penny for cement for dams and bridges, even though one manufacturer may be right next door to the job and others a thousand miles away. The same about steel compaines.

Repeatedly he has turned these identical bids over to the department of justice for investigation. If the companies are getting together before submitting bids it is illegal under the various fair trade acts. Fines and prison sentences can be imposed. Nothing much has happened yet in the way of prosecution, although J. Edgar Hoover's G-men are working on some cases. The companies deny any collusion.

Meantime Ickes works his own little trick. When the bids come in all identical as to amounts, he gives the job to the company farthest from the dam or bridge being built. If they are going to do that, says he, we might just as well give the railroads a little of the money by letting them haul it the longest possible distance.

The comptroller general once tried to interfere by insisting that when identical bids were offered the decision should be made by drawing lots. But Ickes demurred; as an executive officer, he said, he would decide how the contracts should be awarded. And he does.

'LOST FACE'

By BRUCE CATTON

If the fates have a sense of humor, they must be indulging in a quiet chuckle these days over the queer things that are happening to the well-known British lion.

Time was when this lion bared his teeth and claws on the slightest provocation, and had a growl that sent lesser folk scurrying to cover at its first rumble. But that, apparently, was before the "realistic" foreign policy of the present British government was adopted.

Under this policy the idea seems to be to go to practically any lengths to conciliate anybody who acts tough. It is, indeed, carried so far that it would be positively scriptural in its turn-the-other-cheek manner, if it were not being accompanied by the most prodigious armament expenditures ever heard of.

Anyway, it all seems to come to a head down in Mexico right now, with Mexico calmly suspending diplomatic relations with Great Britain and perkily reminding London that the British war debt to the United States remains in default.

This is the sort of thing that would have been inconceivable a few years ago. Kipling's "lesser breeds without the law" was meant to include practically everyone outside the British empire, but most of all it referred to people like Mexicans. Kipling must be turning over in his grave at the very thought of Mexico telling England where to head in.

Now all of this adds up to something. It is simply the logical result of the kind of foreign policies the Baldwin and Chamberlain governments have been pursuing in recent years; and while those policies are not any particular business of ours, the results which they lead to are well worth our study.

In the last few years the world has seen the emergence of a new kind of nation: the braggart-in-arms, as you might call it, which openly proclaims its contempt for the opinion of the rest of the world, takes what it wants whenever it feels strong enough to do so, and scoffs loudly at the mere suggestion that the world make a sincere effort to settle its differences peacefully.

The present British government seems to have decided to play ball with that kind of nation; to condone seizures of Ethiopia and Austria, violations of treaties, and menaces directed at peaceful nations.

By so doing, it has simply invited other nations to act the same way—to disregard protests and try any course of action that they think they can get away with.

Apparently the lesson was not lost on Mexico.

A BOOK REVIEW

STURDY STORY OF IMMIGRANT

The story of America is shot through with the sweat and the dreams and the hopes of the immigrant. Here, in this melting pot, millions have found the way of a new courage and a new life. And in turn they have given form to America.

Peter Grimsen was one of these. Peter hailed from Denmark to carve a new way of living from the stubborn Nebraska sod. He bought first a little land, then more, improved it, lived to ride high through the artificial prosperity of the boom years. And then came Peter Grimsen's defeat in the face of crashing markets and high fixed interest. In a few cataclysmic years he saw the heritage he had visioned for his children swept almost entirely away.

It is a story with an epic note and Sophus Keith Winther tells it faithfully in a most penetrating novel of the American middle west, "This Passion Never Dies."

Mr. Winther's story is the third of a trilogy tracing Peter Grimsen's fight for a foothold in America and it is the most bitter, understandably. But there is this ultimate victory for Peter Grimsen—his children carry on in their individual niches in the American way. True, they do not cling to the farm, but their struggle for a place becomes a noble sort of thing.

The Grimsens, of course, are to be found today across the nation. That is one of the things that makes Mr. Winther's story so real, so timely. His characters are finely delineated. The story is a genuine contribution to Americana.—P. G. F.

Human Side Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

(Copyright, 1938, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WITHIN THE LAST two years the powers have been scrambling for every speck of rock in the Pacific big enough to make a toe-hold for a gull. Just now, the United States lays a 5,000-mile line from north to south across the mid-Pacific, staking out five islands for airplane crow-hops from Unalaska in the Arctic to Pago Pago. It will be a line of air patrol, of watchfulness and defense—our new sentry post in the far seas, as far-reaching bombing planes profoundly change the real import of the once comforting word "isolation."

It was in the summer and fall of 1936 that the powers seemed suddenly aware that the Pacific was shrinking to the size of a millpond with the development of air transport. It was in October of that year that Japan submitted to Geneva a plan for a network of military air lines, cutting across our new trans-Pacific route. In the same month, Britain annexed eight islands of the South Sea Phoenix archipelago, 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. These islands had been lying around loose, of doubtful ownership, with nobody paying any attention to them for a century or more.

THE GERMAN ANGRIFF, official Nazi organ, roared like a wounded bull elephant, and moaned that rapacious British imperialism was gobbling up the world. They were just juts of rock, and you couldn't grow feed for a humming bird on any of them. Why they were suddenly important was quite apparent.

Uncle Sam usually is pretty slow on these terrestrial grabs, but here he was in early. In July, 1936, he had quietly eased the cutter Itasca, with a few sailors and geographers to carve his initials on Baker, Jarvis and Howland islands. They now fit into our landing and supply base pattern.

THE LAST PREVIOUS big scramble for South Sea islands was in Civil war days, when the guano trade was at its height. Ships of a half dozen nations were searching for them. Any complete abstract of title would look like the legal dossier for a Florida boom town bungalow. The flag of several nations have flown over several of them. None is important enough to touch off a war, and England and the United States have settled ownership arguments amicably, perhaps, by tossing a shilling or a quarter.

It's black shadows over the South Seas this time, as the giant war birds search for their nesting places. There have been legends that ancient Fijian glyphs tell of the coming of the great birds and the passing of the Polynesian peoples. At that, they are rapidly becoming extinct. The late Frederick O'Brien wrote that story in "White Shadows on the South Seas."

THE CHAUTAUQUA, on the decline now, was essentially and stubbornly rural. Gay MacLaren tells its story in her new book, "Morally We Roll Along," which this reader found an extremely interesting and acutely observed chapter of social history. It is a reminder that, while we currently note that both sharply "citified" and rural types are passing, there have been, through past decades, two clearly distinct cultures in the making of America.

The city rejected and ridiculed the Chautauqua. The Lyceum and Demarest medal lecturers, the Swiss bell-ringers, the great elocutionists and the eloquent traveling preachers were as distinctly rural as a hickory shirt. So were the evangelists, although some of them, like Billy Sunday and Moody and Sankey, had great success in the cities. But moral fervor and a deep urge for righteousness were essentially of the hinterland.

ELIJAH DOWIE'S Zion City, of nearly 40,000 persons at one time, had a population of entirely rural antecedents. I realized the gulf between city and country when I saw the pudgy little Scotch evangelist meet disaster in his New York invasion. The almost savage hostility of the jeering, menacing crowd was a startling revelation of the divergent paths of American thought and feeling of that day. Dowie was godlike to his 40,000 faithful followers—ludicrous and contemptible to the big city mob.

There seems to be no such sharp antithesis today. The cultural wrinkles of the country are being ironed out—for better or worse, and sometimes I think for the worse. There was courage and conviction and vehemence and individuality in those authentic rural Americans. Will it season the new omelette?

WHEN THE CHINESE staged their great New York parade the other day, Wall Street was alert and watching as it came down Broadway on the way to Bowling Green. Wall Street has seen every big parade before, including and after Lindbergh's. It is insular and critical. It had intended to "rib" the Chinese, but it didn't. It was tremendously impressed with the earnestness, dignity and all-around fine showing of the 12,000 Chinese. It gave either respectful silence or a generous hand. A friend told me the "Street" had never been more genuinely impressed by any parade.

The mountain goes to Mahomet. Wall Street, which isn't stupid, is beginning to discover a cosmos which ranges out beyond the ticker tape. Incidentally, some of the most informed, least bellicose and most objective appraisals of current economics are running in Wall Street publications.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

(Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine)

Just why do we exercise? First, there is plenty of evidence that those who fail to exercise do not have what is called positive health. They do not have the vigor and vitality of those who take a reasonable amount of exercise.

Apparently the muscles of our chests, our hearts and of our bodies generally need a certain amount of activity in order to give them that factor that is called tone.

The chief purposes of exercise are to develop the muscles of the trunk and of the back so as to maintain good posture. The muscles of the back, legs and feet need to be developed in order to make walking, running and jumping reasonably easy and graceful. Furthermore, there is a lot of satisfaction in being able to swing a golf club, an ax or a tennis racket, to row a boat or to swim with enjoyment and satisfaction.

Some of the ways in which exercise influences the body have been listed by Dr. Walter H, Brown in relationship to the different systems of the body.

Exercise increases the circulation of the blood through various parts of the body as well as through the body as a whole; improvement of the circulation carries extra oxygen and nutriment to the tissues and at the same time removes the waste materials. Furthermore, the circulation of the blood distributes the chemical materials, the glandular materials and the other substances necessary to cause co-ordinated actions throughout the body.

Finally, our heat regulation is brought about by the circulation, which must be maintained in an active state for the best effects.

Exercise also increases the depth and the rate of breathing.

It has also been establishing that exercise helps to eliminate the waste material by way of the kidneys, intestines and the skin, as well as through the lungs.

Everyone knows that following a reasonable amount of exercise in the open air, the body feels refreshed. At the same time there develops a relaxation that is exceedingly important for suitable rest and mental hygiene.

There are, of course, all kinds of exercise that can be tried. In any good game there is also a certain demand made upon the mind and the intelligence.

This is the time of year when exercise becomes a prime objective for health. A reasonable indulgence will bring us through the summer capable of increased efficiency when fall and winter come.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—There is nothing that gives more delight to Washington gossips than the stirring up of a factional fight in some government department.

Not even the White House has been immune from these rows, when there have been differences of opinion among presidential advisers, and now the gossips are trying to make the most out of the rest of the supreme court vs. Justice Black.

New Deal friends of the ex-senator from Alabama have been rushing to his defense with favorable analyses of his lone-wolf dissenting opinions, first reported in this column last February.

Black's supporters now claim that recently the court reversed a vital 96-year-old opinion in the Tompkins case, two weeks after Black had taken the same position in a one-man dissent.

Republican Leader Bert Snell, after the spending-lending program had been called "a shot in the arm" by one of its friends: "You really think this is a shot in the arm and will have no lasting benefit?"

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum: "Whether it is a shot in the arm, a slap on the back or a kick in the pants, if it starts things again it is worth the cost."

Over The Ocean

Ambassador Joe Kennedy was a potent conservative influence in Washington. But he can't spread his influence across the Atlantic ocean. As maritime commission chairman, Kennedy emphatically demanded compulsory arbitration in the shipping industry, clashing with Secretary of Labor Perkins. After Kennedy went to London Miss Perkins kept lobbying quietly and the result was a committee bill providing a special maritime labor board and dropping the Kennedy plan.

Kennedy was more influential than any other administration adviser in dissuading the president from turning earlier to an enlarged spending program.

Philosophy In Politics

Washington has professors of everything except philosophy and it's likely to have one of those after the November election in the person of Professor T. V. Smith, running for congressman-at-large in Illinois. Smith is a Chicago university professor of philosophy and an author who made regular radio talks for the Democrats in the 1936 campaign. He is chummy with Roosevelt and numerous braintrusters.

On May 21 he broadcasts on a national hookup in an argument between a philosopher and a politician. Smith takes both parts. It ought to be pretty good or pretty awful.

Rivers Pepped By Pepper

The victory of Senator Claude Pepper, 100 per cent New Dealer, in the recent Florida primaries has disturbed the mental peace of Senator Walter F. George, anti-administration Democrat. It is said to have encouraged Georgia's governor, E. D. Rivers, who had been thinking of running against George on a New Deal platform.

Although Mr. Roosevelt pointedly complimented him at Gainesville while omitting reference to George, Rivers is receiving little encouragement from Washington.

Democratic National Committee Treasurer Lawrence "Chip" Robert, another Georgian, has been reported as promoting George. If that's true it's a private, personal effort on Robert's part—to date, at least.

Qualities Of Friendship

In our modern penchant for cliche and formula we sometimes reason superficially about the qualities that make for friendship and lasting influence. We tend to accept the oft-reiterated statement that a cheerful smile (put on like a mask), a hearty (and sometimes silly) hand shake, and kind words (frequently not spoken from the heart) are the main essentials.

How, then, shall we explain the fact that some of the world's rudest, most sharp-spoken men have left us the finest examples and precepts we have in the realm of friendship? Beloved though they were, these men ignored virtually every cliche about the way to hold friends.

An excellent example was Socrates, the philosopher. Authorities assure us that he was unattractive in appearance and utterly careless in his apparel. He wore the same bedraggled tunic for years on end. But, most amazing of all, he used the lash of his brilliant mind and double-edged tongue unsparingly on all his pupils and friends. He often referred to himself as the "old gadfly." He loved to torture his pupils by asking embarrassing questions until they distilled a measure of truth from assertions [illegible] carelessly and in generalization.

Two thousand years later we find Dr. Johnson belaboring the backs of his unprotesting friends. Boswell, Oliver Goldsmith, Sir Joshua Reynolds—all tested the sour edge of his choleric temper and irritable impatience. His prejudices were violent, and he was ready to espouse either side of an argument simply because someone took the other. His sallies in conversation often took a pointed and personal turn, and could scarcely have failed to offend. And yet he never lacked for friends—almost fanatic in their devotion to him and all his works.

A logical deduction is that the quality of friendship lies deep—far beyond the casual ability to slip them on and off like the folds of a cloak. These qualities may be derived from the reading of many books—but not from scanning one. Great intellects attract and hold friends beyond the obstacles of superficial shortcomings and differences.

We arrive once more at the inevitable conclusion that friendship is engendered and lives by character—whether the relations be personal or in business, and that character of any sort is not to be attained overnight.

IN THE COLD, COLD GROUND

Over in the Blue Grass state, where the horses run and the mint-beds spread their fragrance, there is $6,000,000,000 in gold buried in the ground. Let's not ask the reason; it's either too complicated or too simple for us to understand.

And now our burrowing government is about to deposit 70,000 tons of silver in subterranean concrete at—of all places!—West Point. Doubtless we shall soon hear of several bushels of diamonds being interred at Annapolis, or at least that the captured bronze guns have been covered with turf.

This West Point silver is our principal interest for the moment, however. Congress has decreed it's worth $1.29 an ounce. Therefore 70,000 tons of it has a fiat value of $2,580,000,000. Your newspaper reveals that the world price is 43 cents an ounce, so the West Point silver isn't worth more than $860,000,000, if your standard of values is cosmopolitan.

From the mints at San Francisco, Denver and Philadelphia the caissons go rolling along, bound up the Hudson to deposit their loads behind a nine-foot steel fence. Floodlights will illumine the vaults; passengers on the night boats will see alert sentries in their watch-towers peering out at what is known as "the surrounding terrain," which includes Bear Mountain park and Bill Brown's rest-cure at Garrison.

It's all a bit too much for us to understand, but it's dramatic as all get out. Doubtless good fun, too. Perhaps it all comes from reading those Civil war novels, where the silver is buried in chapter II. But who, in this case, are the Yanks?

LOVE WILL FIND A WAY

The town of Disney, Okla., is shortly going to have government by trial and error. Little more than a clearing in the woods just now, it will soon be the home of the construction workers on the giant Grand river dam, and the powers that be want to find out just what to do about them.

The powers that be are apparently two women of unofficial status, and a one-man police force. Disney is not yet incorporated. One woman insists on an early curfew and a set of effective blue laws, and the other wants the place "wide open" . . . a thoroughgoing old-fashioned boom town. For 30 days Disney will be wide open, and for 30 days it will be shut tight. Whatever plan seems to work out best will be adopted.

The blue law enthusiast says the workers will need all the sleep they can get, and the boom-town boomer says what they'll need is recreation. The one-man police force says, "This is the craziest thing I ever heard of."

It isn't crazy, it's just something that probably won't make any difference at all. Blue laws or no blue laws, the men are going to have their fun when they feel like it, and sleep when they feel like it. At least, that's what they do in all the other communities in the world. Love of life always finds a way,

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—It is a shame to come all the way to Washington and then order bean soup and apple pie, but it is surprising the number of people who do just that—at the Senate restaurant.

First off, the price is low, the two items coming only to 25 cents. But more important—the restaurant is more noted for those two dishes than for any other.

The apple pie is deep and consistently good. The soup has its off days. But the odds are that on any given day the soup will be good. We don't know where to buy better.

And it is well to understand that, taken together, apple pie and bean soup will be about all you can manage, particularly if you plan to stop in the gallery and hear a learned debate on something or other. Because in that case it will take next to a fist fight on the floor to keep you awake.

Sea Food, River View

Major top flight eating spots can be found either right in town or hidden away in some suburban spot under a spreading elm tree. But anybody not too fastidious about smells can find something to do about food down on the water front. Herzog's hangs right out over the wharf, and diners or lunchers sit on a balcony from which they can look through yacht masts to the Virginia shore a mile across the Potomac.

Back from the wharf a bit are several other restaurants specializing in sea foods and Potomac views. They don't try to polish up much, but the fish dishes are beyond complaint. One of them, Paul's, has a long and interesting history. It has been a hangout for some government group or other on week nights for years without number. A story is told about an earlier day president who used to frequent the place—but that for other times.

Sancho, My Lance!

For more than a year, Secretary Ickes has been conducting a Don Quixote battle against steel companies, cement companies and others he accuses of collusive bidding on materials for public works projects. He refuses to think it is coincidence when cement companies offer identical bids right down to the penny for cement for dams and bridges, even though one manufacturer may be right next door to the job and others a thousand miles away. The same about steel compaines.

Repeatedly he has turned these identical bids over to the department of justice for investigation. If the companies are getting together before submitting bids it is illegal under the various fair trade acts. Fines and prison sentences can be imposed. Nothing much has happened yet in the way of prosecution, although J. Edgar Hoover's G-men are working on some cases. The companies deny any collusion.

Meantime Ickes works his own little trick. When the bids come in all identical as to amounts, he gives the job to the company farthest from the dam or bridge being built. If they are going to do that, says he, we might just as well give the railroads a little of the money by letting them haul it the longest possible distance.

The comptroller general once tried to interfere by insisting that when identical bids were offered the decision should be made by drawing lots. But Ickes demurred; as an executive officer, he said, he would decide how the contracts should be awarded. And he does.

'LOST FACE'

By BRUCE CATTON

If the fates have a sense of humor, they must be indulging in a quiet chuckle these days over the queer things that are happening to the well-known British lion.

Time was when this lion bared his teeth and claws on the slightest provocation, and had a growl that sent lesser folk scurrying to cover at its first rumble. But that, apparently, was before the "realistic" foreign policy of the present British government was adopted.

Under this policy the idea seems to be to go to practically any lengths to conciliate anybody who acts tough. It is, indeed, carried so far that it would be positively scriptural in its turn-the-other-cheek manner, if it were not being accompanied by the most prodigious armament expenditures ever heard of.

Anyway, it all seems to come to a head down in Mexico right now, with Mexico calmly suspending diplomatic relations with Great Britain and perkily reminding London that the British war debt to the United States remains in default.

This is the sort of thing that would have been inconceivable a few years ago. Kipling's "lesser breeds without the law" was meant to include practically everyone outside the British empire, but most of all it referred to people like Mexicans. Kipling must be turning over in his grave at the very thought of Mexico telling England where to head in.

Now all of this adds up to something. It is simply the logical result of the kind of foreign policies the Baldwin and Chamberlain governments have been pursuing in recent years; and while those policies are not any particular business of ours, the results which they lead to are well worth our study.

In the last few years the world has seen the emergence of a new kind of nation: the braggart-in-arms, as you might call it, which openly proclaims its contempt for the opinion of the rest of the world, takes what it wants whenever it feels strong enough to do so, and scoffs loudly at the mere suggestion that the world make a sincere effort to settle its differences peacefully.

The present British government seems to have decided to play ball with that kind of nation; to condone seizures of Ethiopia and Austria, violations of treaties, and menaces directed at peaceful nations.

By so doing, it has simply invited other nations to act the same way—to disregard protests and try any course of action that they think they can get away with.

Apparently the lesson was not lost on Mexico.

(Copyright, 1938, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WITHIN THE LAST two years the powers have been scrambling for every speck of rock in the Pacific big enough to make a toe-hold for a gull. Just now, the United States lays a 5,000-mile line from north to south across the mid-Pacific, staking out five islands for airplane crow-hops from Unalaska in the Arctic to Pago Pago. It will be a line of air patrol, of watchfulness and defense—our new sentry post in the far seas, as far-reaching bombing planes profoundly change the real import of the once comforting word "isolation."

It was in the summer and fall of 1936 that the powers seemed suddenly aware that the Pacific was shrinking to the size of a millpond with the development of air transport. It was in October of that year that Japan submitted to Geneva a plan for a network of military air lines, cutting across our new trans-Pacific route. In the same month, Britain annexed eight islands of the South Sea Phoenix archipelago, 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. These islands had been lying around loose, of doubtful ownership, with nobody paying any attention to them for a century or more.

THE GERMAN ANGRIFF, official Nazi organ, roared like a wounded bull elephant, and moaned that rapacious British imperialism was gobbling up the world. They were just juts of rock, and you couldn't grow feed for a humming bird on any of them. Why they were suddenly important was quite apparent.

Uncle Sam usually is pretty slow on these terrestrial grabs, but here he was in early. In July, 1936, he had quietly eased the cutter Itasca, with a few sailors and geographers to carve his initials on Baker, Jarvis and Howland islands. They now fit into our landing and supply base pattern.

THE LAST PREVIOUS big scramble for South Sea islands was in Civil war days, when the guano trade was at its height. Ships of a half dozen nations were searching for them. Any complete abstract of title would look like the legal dossier for a Florida boom town bungalow. The flag of several nations have flown over several of them. None is important enough to touch off a war, and England and the United States have settled ownership arguments amicably, perhaps, by tossing a shilling or a quarter.

It's black shadows over the South Seas this time, as the giant war birds search for their nesting places. There have been legends that ancient Fijian glyphs tell of the coming of the great birds and the passing of the Polynesian peoples. At that, they are rapidly becoming extinct. The late Frederick O'Brien wrote that story in "White Shadows on the South Seas."

THE CHAUTAUQUA, on the decline now, was essentially and stubbornly rural. Gay MacLaren tells its story in her new book, "Morally We Roll Along," which this reader found an extremely interesting and acutely observed chapter of social history. It is a reminder that, while we currently note that both sharply "citified" and rural types are passing, there have been, through past decades, two clearly distinct cultures in the making of America.

The city rejected and ridiculed the Chautauqua. The Lyceum and Demarest medal lecturers, the Swiss bell-ringers, the great elocutionists and the eloquent traveling preachers were as distinctly rural as a hickory shirt. So were the evangelists, although some of them, like Billy Sunday and Moody and Sankey, had great success in the cities. But moral fervor and a deep urge for righteousness were essentially of the hinterland.

ELIJAH DOWIE'S Zion City, of nearly 40,000 persons at one time, had a population of entirely rural antecedents. I realized the gulf between city and country when I saw the pudgy little Scotch evangelist meet disaster in his New York invasion. The almost savage hostility of the jeering, menacing crowd was a startling revelation of the divergent paths of American thought and feeling of that day. Dowie was godlike to his 40,000 faithful followers—ludicrous and contemptible to the big city mob.

There seems to be no such sharp antithesis today. The cultural wrinkles of the country are being ironed out—for better or worse, and sometimes I think for the worse. There was courage and conviction and vehemence and individuality in those authentic rural Americans. Will it season the new omelette?

WHEN THE CHINESE staged their great New York parade the other day, Wall Street was alert and watching as it came down Broadway on the way to Bowling Green. Wall Street has seen every big parade before, including and after Lindbergh's. It is insular and critical. It had intended to "rib" the Chinese, but it didn't. It was tremendously impressed with the earnestness, dignity and all-around fine showing of the 12,000 Chinese. It gave either respectful silence or a generous hand. A friend told me the "Street" had never been more genuinely impressed by any parade.

The mountain goes to Mahomet. Wall Street, which isn't stupid, is beginning to discover a cosmos which ranges out beyond the ticker tape. Incidentally, some of the most informed, least bellicose and most objective appraisals of current economics are running in Wall Street publications.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

Just why do we exercise? First, there is plenty of evidence that those who fail to exercise do not have what is called positive health. They do not have the vigor and vitality of those who take a reasonable amount of exercise.

Apparently the muscles of our chests, our hearts and of our bodies generally need a certain amount of activity in order to give them that factor that is called tone.

The chief purposes of exercise are to develop the muscles of the trunk and of the back so as to maintain good posture. The muscles of the back, legs and feet need to be developed in order to make walking, running and jumping reasonably easy and graceful. Furthermore, there is a lot of satisfaction in being able to swing a golf club, an ax or a tennis racket, to row a boat or to swim with enjoyment and satisfaction.

Some of the ways in which exercise influences the body have been listed by Dr. Walter H. Brown in relationship to the different systems of the body.

Exercise increases the circulation of the blood through various parts of the body as well as through the body as a whole; improvement of the circulation carries extra oxygen and nutriment to the tissues and at the same time removes the waste materials. Furthermore, the circulation of the blood distributes the chemical materials, the glandular materials and the other substances necessary to cause co-ordinated actions throughout the body.

Finally, our heat regulation is brought about by the circulation, which must be maintained in an active state for the best effects.

Exercise also increases the depth and the rate of breathing.

It has also been establishing that exercise helps to eliminate the waste material by way of the kidneys, intestines and the skin, as well as through the lungs.

Everyone knows that following a reasonable amount of exercise in the open air, the body feels refreshed. At the same time there develops a relaxation that is exceedingly important for suitable rest and mental hygiene.

There are, of course, all kinds of exercise that can be tried. In any good game there is also a certain demand made upon the mind and the intelligence.

This is the time of year when exercise becomes a prime objective for health. A reasonable indulgence will bring us through the summer capable of increased efficiency when fall and winter come.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—There is nothing that gives more delight to Washington gossips than the stirring up of a factional fight in some government department.

Not even the White House has been immune from these rows, when there have been differences of opinion among presidential advisers, and now the gossips are trying to make the most out of the rest of the supreme court vs. Justice Black.

New Deal friends of the ex-senator from Alabama have been rushing to his defense with favorable analyses of his lone-wolf dissenting opinions, first reported in this column last February.

Black's supporters now claim that recently the court reversed a vital 96-year-old opinion in the Tompkins case, two weeks after Black had taken the same position in a one-man dissent.

Republican Leader Bert Snell, after the spending-lending program had been called "a shot in the arm" by one of its friends: "You really think this is a shot in the arm and will have no lasting benefit?"

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum: "Whether it is a shot in the arm, a slap on the back or a kick in the pants, if it starts things again it is worth the cost."

Over The Ocean

Ambassador Joe Kennedy was a potent conservative influence in Washington. But he can't spread his influence across the Atlantic ocean. As maritime commission chairman, Kennedy emphatically demanded compulsory arbitration in the shipping industry, clashing with Secretary of Labor Perkins. After Kennedy went to London Miss Perkins kept lobbying quietly and the result was a committee bill providing a special maritime labor board and dropping the Kennedy plan.

Kennedy was more influential than any other administration adviser in dissuading the president from turning earlier to an enlarged spending program.

Philosophy In Politics

Washington has professors of everything except philosophy and it's likely to have one of those after the November election in the person of Professor T. V. Smith, running for congressman-at-large in Illinois. Smith is a Chicago university professor of philosophy and an author who made regular radio talks for the Democrats in the 1936 campaign. He is chummy with Roosevelt and numerous brain-trusters.

On May 21 he broadcasts on a national hookup in an argument between a philosopher and a politician. Smith takes both parts. It ought to be pretty good or pretty awful.

Rivers Pepped By Pepper

The victory of Senator Claude Pepper, 100 per cent New Dealer, in the recent Florida primaries has disturbed the mental peace of Senator Walter F. George, anti-administration Democrat. It is said to have encouraged Georgia's governor, E. D. Rivers, who had been thinking of running against George on a New Deal platform.

Democratic National Committee Treasurer Lawrence "Chip" Robert, another Georgian, has been reported as promoting George. If that's true it's a private, personal effort on Robert's part—to date, at least.

STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein

RUGGED son of a line of mountain chieftains, Achmed Zog assumed the hereditary post of chief of the Mati clan when he was 17. At 25 he had risen to be minister of the interior of tiny Albania. Four years later he was chosen first president of the republic, and after an interval which included his attempted assassination, a death sentence, and escape from the country, he was proclaimed king at 33.

But there was no queen. Achmed wanted one, preferably one of western blood. He lived the life of a recluse, his only companion being a servant who had been with him when he was a Mati chieftain.

Then a few months ago Zog's six sisters, while in Budapest, met pretty 21-year-old Hungarian-American Countess Geraldine Apponyi. Impressed by her charm, they sent her photograph to their brother. Falling in love with this photograph, the bachelor king invited the Countess "Gerry" to Tirana and during a court ball in her honor—Jan. 3—proposed. The Catholic countess, daughter of the former Gladys Virginia Stewart of New York, and the Moslem king were married in a simple ceremony less than four months later. Immediately Zog made his bride first queen of the 1,000,000 Albanians. Mussolini sent Napoleonic vases and Hitler a limousine. Zog is shown here on a 1930 Albanian stamp.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD
West Monroe
E. L. Tanner, Pastor

Alfred M. Landon, former candidate for the presidency, once said: "Let us in America not make the mistake of thinking we can escape all contacts with what is happening in the rest of the world. Only by a vigorous and prophetic church may we retain democracy." The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The proper use of the word soul can always be gained by substituting the word God, where the deific meaning is required. In other cases, use the word sense, and you will have the scientific signification." (p. 482.)

GRACE CHURCH
Fourth And Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

The Collect and Epistle for the fifth Sunday after Easter, commonly called Rogation Sunday sound the note of the Easter Collect in which we pray Almighty God who hath put into our hearts good desires to give us grace to bring them to good effect. A well-kept Lent brings us each year a truer view of ourselves than we had before, and on Good Friday a blinding flash of light from the cross revealed the whole situation—our sin and God's love. There we saw ourselves in the mirror of God's love and we said never again would we sin wilfully and deliberately. On Easter day we rejoiced in our Lord's triumph and ours in Him, and we offered our resolutions to Him. Today, as we close the great 40 days, our Holy Mother calls us to account. Are we like the man who, beholding his natural face in a glass, straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was? Or are we like the man who "looketh into the perfect law of liberty and continueth therein, being not a forgetful hearer but a doer of the word?"

The hours for worship on Sunday are 7:30 and 10:45 a.m., with the church school meeting at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are Rogation days. Services on each day at 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Thursday is the Feast of Ascension of our Lord into heaven. Services are as follows: The Holy Eucharist at 7 and 9 a.m.; evensong at 4:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend services in Grace church. The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. "Come in, rest, pray, give thanks and meditate."

J. M. Alford, Pastor

Our church school exercises will begin at 9:45 this morning with E. K. Reeves, general superintendent, in charge. This will be followed by the regular worship service at 11 a.m., when the pastor will deliver a message on "The Fundamental Doctrines of the Methodist Church"; being those things which Mr. Wesley believed in, practiced and preached more than a half century. Old-time songs composed by Charles Wesley will be used at this service. The two Epworth Leagues will meet and render programs at 7 p.m. At 7:45, Rev. H. L. Johns, presiding elder of the Monroe district, will preach, after which he will hold the business session of the second quarterly conference of the year. This will be an important meeting as semi-annual reports will be made for the conference year which began December 1, 1937. Aside from the pastor's report on general state of the church, there will be reports from the president of the missionary society, and president of the Epworth League; also reports from the board of stewards. Instead of having the regular mid-week prayer meeting next Wednesday evening there will be a special Aldersgate commemoration service Tuesday evening at the church, celebrating the two-hundredth anniversary of the conversion of John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist church. A suitable program will be rendered, and it is expected that a record attendance will be present. The missionary society will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in circles, the places to be announced later.

Clarke, who was a delegate to the recent general conference held in Birmingham, Ala., will deliver an address on "What Happened at General Conference." He will discuss the plan of unification. Opportunity will be given any who wish to ask questions about the plan. Every Methodist will want to hear this discussion. The public is invited. At the evening hour, the young people of the church will present a most impressive Aldersgate candle-lighting service. Come early if you want a seat. Had Given Up Hope But Gly-Cas Amazes

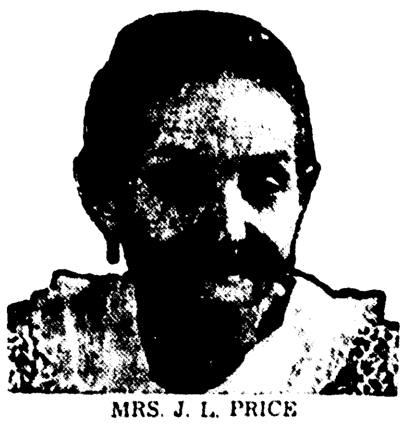
Stomach Troubles And Rheumatism Made Her Miserable For Twenty Years; Merit Of New Medicine Proven In Her Case.

"I am glad to tell my friends of the benefits that I have received from the use of Gly-Cas," said Mrs. J. L. Price, Box 720, El Dorado, Ark. "I would have severe pains in my right side and would lie awake all night. My kidneys were a constant cause for my distress too but what caused the most severe suffering was my stomach and rheumatism. Gas, bloating and indigestion followed each meal regardless of my diet. Then rheumatism settled in my body nearly crippling me with the awful suffering. I had tried so many medicines but to no avail and had given up hope of ever being well again—but this new medical discovery soon changed that."



MRS. J. L. PRICE

"I have just completed my third box of Gly-Cas and feel better than I have in twenty years," continued Mrs. Price. "I can now eat anything I want without any ill effects afterwards. That dreadful rheumatism has been relieved and the pain and suffering in my right side has left me. It is wonderful to be able to sleep so well again and be full of pep and energy again. It is remarkable what Gly-Cas can do—and after all else had flatly failed to have any effect in my stubborn case."

Gly-Cas is sold by Phoenix Drug company, 348 DeSiard street, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. —Adv.

NEW POSTOFFICE URGED FOR RODESSA

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—Representative Brooks, Democrat, Louisiana, cited to congress reasons why, he said, a new postoffice should be built at Rodessa, La.

The joint treasury-postoffice department building committee has recommended construction of a $70,000 postoffice at Rodessa if sufficient funds are provided in the spending-lending bill pending in the senate.

Brooks placed in the congressional record a statement that postal receipts at Rodessa, around which extensive oil field development has occurred had increased from $325.49 in 1927 to $14,935.73 in 1937 and was still rising.

He said the Rodessa oil field "should last a lifetime," gave assurance of a stable population and said that the present postoffice accommodations in the town were inadequate.

LOUISIANA PROJECTS WORRY MAINE SOLON

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP) Senator Hale, Republican, Maine, is concerned because Louisiana has about 30 times as many approved PWA projects as his state.

Publication of senate committee hearings on the administration's relief bill showed Hale asked Secretary Ickes why Louisiana had $66,000,000 of approved projects while Maine's total was only $2,330,000.

Unemployment figures, Hale said, showed that Louisiana had only four times as many jobless as Maine.

Ickes said that in considering new applications the PWA would consider any "disproportion" among states in the past.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD
West Monroe
E. L. Tanner, Pastor

Alfred M. Landon, former candidate for the presidency, once said: "Let us in America not make the mistake of thinking we can escape all contacts with what is happening in the rest of the world. The absolute government that has taken hold of a number of nations would take away freedom of worship, freedom of expression and even free will. Only by a vigorous and prophetic church may we retain democracy." We have with us for a few days special services four young ladies who were members of the 1938 graduating class of Central Bible institute, Springfield, Mo. Miss Ruth Schoonmaker of Chapra, Bih, India, will speak at the morning service, 11 a.m., and Miss Amelia Joseph of New Kinsington, Pa., will be the night speaker, assisted in song by Misses Angela and Mary Georgianna of Bell, Calif. These services will continue through next week. Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a.m., D. O. McDaniel, superintendent. The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The proper use of the word soul can always be gained by substituting the word God, where the deific meaning is required. GRACE CHURCH
Fourth And Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

The Collect and Epistle for the fifth Sunday after Easter, commonly called Rogation Sunday sound the note of the Easter Collect in which we pray Almighty God who hath put into our hearts good desires to give us grace to bring them to good effect. A well-kept Lent brings us each year a truer view of ourselves than we had before, and on Good Friday a blinding flash of light from the cross revealed the whole situation—our sin and God's love. There we saw ourselves in the mirror of God's love and we said never again would we sin wilfully and deliberately. On Easter day we rejoiced in our Lord's triumph and ours in Him, and we offered our resolutions to Him. Today, as we close the great 40 days, our Holy Mother calls us to account. Are we like the man who, beholding his natural face in a glass, straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was? Or are we like the man who "looketh into the perfect law of liberty and continueth therein, being not a forgetful hearer but a doer of the word?"

The hours for worship on Sunday are 7:30 and 10:45 a.m., with the church school meeting at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are Rogation days. Services on each day at 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Thursday is the Feast of Ascension of our Lord into heaven. Services are as follows: The Holy Eucharist at 7 and 9 a.m.; evensong at 4:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend services in Grace church. The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. "Come in, rest, pray, give thanks and meditate."

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH

Vernon C. Grosse, Pastor

Sunday school and Bible class meets at 9:45 a.m. Church services at 10:45 a.m. The Sacrament of the Lord's supper will be served on the last Sunday of this month. Members are urged to register before that date. Everyone is cordially invited to attend our services.

GORDON AVENUE METHODIST
J. M. Alford, Pastor

Our church school exercises will begin at 9:45 this morning with E. K. Reeves, general superintendent, in charge. This will be followed by the regular worship service at 11 a.m., when the pastor will deliver a message on "The Fundamental Doctrines of the Methodist Church"; being those things which Mr. Wesley believed in, practiced and preached more than a half century. Old-time songs composed by Charles Wesley will be used at this service. The two Epworth Leagues will meet and render programs at 7 p.m. At 7:45, Rev. H. L. Johns, presiding elder of the Monroe district, will preach, after which he will hold the business session of the second quarterly conference of the year. This will be an important meeting as semi-annual reports will be made for the conference year which began December 1, 1937. Aside from the pastor's report on general state of the church, there will be reports from the president of the missionary society, and president of the Epworth League; also reports from the board of stewards. Instead of having the regular mid-week prayer meeting next Wednesday evening there will be a special Aldersgate commemoration service Tuesday evening at the church, celebrating the two-hundredth anniversary of the conversion of John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist church. A suitable program will be rendered, and it is expected that a record attendance will be present. The missionary society will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in circles, the places to be announced later.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH
"The Church With The Lighted Steeple"
Jackson At Wood Street
Walter C. Scott, Minister

"The man who reverences the Lord's Name, observes the Lord's Day, frequents the Lord's house and reads the Lord's Book will never be a disturbing element in any desirable community. On the contrary it is he and his like who make a community a desirable place in which to live."

A cordial welcome awaits you at all our services. At the 11 o'clock hour today Mr. W. B. Clarke, who was a delegate to the recent general conference held in Birmingham, Ala., will deliver an address on "What Happened at General Conference." He will discuss the plan of unification. Opportunity will be given any who wish to ask questions about the plan. Every Methodist will want to hear this discussion. The public is invited. At the evening hour, the young people of the church will present a most impressive Aldersgate candle-lighting service. Come early if you want a seat. On Tuesday evening at 7:45, our congregation will join other Methodist churches all over the world in commemorating the heart-warming experience of John Wesley on May 24, 1738, in Aldersgate, London, out of which was born the great Methodist church. Services in our church will begin promptly at 7:45. This will be one of the most impressive and inspirational services ever held in our church and it is hoped that every member will be present. Friends of Methodism are extended a cordial invitation.

Theodore Roosevelt said: "If you are going to do anything permanent for the average man, you must begin before he is a man. The chance of success lies with working with the boy and not the man." Parents, the purpose of the Sunday school is to help you with your problem of rearing your children in the way of righteousness, and that they may become loyal citizens, devout Christians, and reach the glory world at last. The Sunday school cannot make its greatest contribution in service to you unless it can contact your children regularly each Lord's day. May we meet you, with the children, at 9:45 a.m., as Sunday school opens? Morning worship promptly at 11 o'clock. Christian Endeavor at 7 p.m. Evangelistic service at 7:45 p.m. Circle meetings Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Choir practice Tuesday evening at 7:45. Mid-week prayer service Thursday evening at 7:45. FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

The church is God's institution, established in the world to be the agency through which He carries out His plans, and the means of strength, inspiration and spirituality to the true members. This is our conception of the Visible Kingdom, and to the growth in Grace of its affiliates and the honor of the Christ, the Corner Stone, every program is formulated. The door is ajar to all who are seeking light, power and hope. Will you, our own religionists, worship with us this Lord's day? "Facing What Is" and "The Heavenly Citizenship" are the subjects of our messages. The Sabbath school attendance is pleasing to the faithful leaders and teachers. With your presence the number present will increase from Sabbath to Sabbath. Will you join the people of our congregation, who attend that we may have 400? The men's class meets in the Paramount theater; the other classes, in the church buildings. A hearty welcome awaits you at all worship services.

Had Given Up Hope But Gly-Cas Amazes

Stomach Troubles And Rheumatism Made Her Miserable For Twenty Years; Merit Of New Medicine Proven In Her Case.

"I am glad to tell my friends of the benefits that I have received from the use of Gly-Cas," said Mrs. J. L. Price, Box 720, El Dorado, Ark. "I would have severe pains in my right side and would lie awake all night. My kidneys were a constant cause for my distress too but what caused the most severe suffering was my stomach and rheumatism. Gas, bloating and indigestion followed each meal regardless of my diet. Then rheumatism settled in my body nearly crippling me with the awful suffering. I had tried so many medicines but to no avail and had given up hope of ever being well again—but this new medical discovery soon changed that."

MRS. J. L. PRICE

"I have just completed my third box of Gly-Cas and feel better than I have in twenty years," continued Mrs. Price. "I can now eat anything I want without any ill effects afterwards. That dreadful rheumatism has been relieved and the pain and suffering in my right side has left me. It is wonderful to be able to sleep so well again and be full of pep and energy again. It is remarkable what Gly-Cas can do—and after all else had flatly failed to have any effect in my stubborn case."

Gly-Cas is sold by Phoenix Drug company, 348 DeSiard street, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. —Adv.

NEW POSTOFFICE URGED FOR RODESSA

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Representative Brooks, Democrat, Louisiana, cited to congress reasons why, he said, a new postoffice should be built at Rodessa, La.

The joint treasury-postoffice department building committee has recommended construction of a $70,000 postoffice at Rodessa if sufficient funds are provided in the spending-lending bill pending in the senate.

Brooks placed in the congressional record a statement that postal receipts at Rodessa, around which extensive oil field development has occurred, had increased from $325.49 in 1927 to $14,935.73 in 1937 and was still rising.

He said the Rodessa oil field "should last a lifetime," gave assurance of a stable population and said that the present postoffice accommodations in the town were inadequate.

MRS. SUTTON IMPROVING

Mrs. R. O. Sutton, wife of the principal of Linville High school, underwent a successful operation in the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel clinic Saturday. Her condition was said to be such as to indicate that she will be able to receive calls from friends in about five days' time.

LOUISIANA PROJECTS WORRY MAINE SOLON

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Senator Hale, Republican, Maine, is concerned because Louisiana has about 30 times as many approved PWA projects as his state.

Publication of senate committee hearings on the administration's relief bill showed Hale asked Secretary Ickes why Louisiana had $66,000,000 of approved projects while Maine's total was only $2,330,000.

Unemployment figures, Hale said, showed that Louisiana had only four times as many jobless as Maine.

Ickes said that in considering new applications the PWA would consider any "disproportion" among states in the past.

BOMBS DROPPED BY WHITE PLANE

caused Cedillo's resignation as secretary in the Cardenas cabinet last August.

When the bombing plane dropped its cargo of projectiles Cardenas was away with General Manuel Avila Camacho, minister of national defense, visiting a new school for children of soldiers.

Federal troops occupied Las Palomas, Cedillo's richly appointed ranch in San Luis Potosi state, late today. They found it vacated.

Besides the Rio Verde battle, there were reports of several other skirmishes between the federal troops and the rebels.

In one engagement Rodriguez Luna, former private secretary to Governor Hernandez Netro, was reported killed.

Cedillo's hideout was reported in the mountainous Huasteca region of San Luis, near El Salto on the highway between San Luis city and Morelos Viejos, some 200 miles east of Mexico City.

General Avila Camacho, announced that before federal troops went into Rio Verde, southeast of here, it was ambushed by two rebel bands, one commanded by Ramon Rivera and the other by Pablo Martinez.

General Avila Camacho said the rebels were beaten off in an engagement in which they suffered 15 casualties and lost five as prisoners.

22 REBELS REPORTED KILLED, 15 WOUNDED

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 21.—(AP)—Federal government troops smashed a rebel band today in an outbreak of warfare with followers of "strong man" General Saturnino Cedillo.

A detachment of 200 cavalrymen drove the rebel group out of the town of Rio Verde in a night engagement.

Twenty-two rebels were reported killed, 15 wounded and 80 captured. One federal captain and two privates were killed.

It was the first armed clash in a rightist-leftist dispute many had feared might spread throughout the nation and make of Mexico another Spain.

President Lazaro Cardenas, determined that Cedillo shall surrender his arms and his peasant army to the government so the nation's socialistic program may go on without danger of internal revolt, moved quickly to crush the rebel movement.

Ten thousand federal troops, ammunition, aircraft and supplies were concentrated in San Luis state, of which Cedillo long has been the rightist dictator.

Federal troops were in command in San Luis city, this state capital 220 miles northwest of Mexico City. Cedillo's followers took to the hills Wednesday after Cardenas came here in person to "quell rumors" of impending trouble.

Whereabout of Cedillo himself were unknown. He was reported, however, to have established headquarters for his army of some 18,000 peasants at El Salto.

Government planes, which yesterday flew over the hills to the south and west with bales of propaganda, took off from San Luis with bombs in their bomb racks and machine-guns loaded.

The clash at Rio Verde, 60 miles east and south of here, followed occupation of the town by rebel soldiers.

The government command last night sent the cavalry detachment to the town and a brisk engagement ensued. The government troops drove out the insurgents, who had occupied the town for 10 hours.

Most of the agrarian followers of Cedillo were believed to have fled from the Cedillo estate and into the Huasteca hills, where guerilla tactics would be most effective.

Government quarters seemed quietly confident the uprising would be quelled quickly.

"The day when rebellion could be expected to succeed in Mexico is over," one spokesman said. Modern weapons, he explained, gave the government army a heavy advantage.

Cedillo Thursday night declared he was ready to "repel all aggression" and said the Mexican people was "tired of the infamous dictatorship, with communistic trimmings, that is putting an end to all sources of wealth and submerging the country in ruin and misery."

Cardenas, radical leader of the nation's program of socialization exemplified on March 18 by government expropriation of foreign-owned oil properties, had accused Cedillo of plotting rebellion.

The San Luis strong man denied the charge.

The smoldering hulk above was once the French Line's 25,000 ton luxury motorship, Lafayette, one of the most popular vessels in transatlantic service. When an engineer attempted to light one of her oil burners, the fire blazed back into the Lafayette's oil tanks and in a few moments the ship was in flames. The entire fire-fighting force of LeHavre, where she was in drydock, could not bring the fire under control. A number of firemen, trapped by flames, were saved by an electric winch which took them off. In the photo above, note the streams of water being played against the ship's side.

FAMOUS NAMES IN OKLAHOMA'S RACES

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21.—(AP)—The state election board boosted the hopes of "famous name" candidates today by ruling against identifying names on the July 12 primary ballot.

Among those seeking nomination are Will Rogers, Mae West, Joe E. Brown and Brigham Young—none related to prominent persons of the same names.

Former Governor "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, seeking another term, and Senator Elmer Thomas, asking reelection, were among candidates asking identifications.

SENATE COMMITTEE OKAYS FLOOD BILL

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Legislation authorizing the construction of $375,000,000 of flood control projects in the next five years received approval of the senate commerce committee today.

Chairman Copeland, Democrat, New York, disclosed immediately that determined efforts would be made to provide money this year for a start on the program. The legislation, already approved by the house, authorizes projects but carries no funds for them.

Meanwhile, informed persons said the war department had submitted to the Public Works administration at the request of senators a list of waterway projects that could be undertaken by army engineers with PWA funds. Money for PWA is provided in the administration's pending works-relief bill.

The flood control bill would authorize construction of about 150 river walls, 100 reservoirs and other works.

The senate committee rejected proposals to change the house bill as it dealt with local participation in the program.

The bill, amending the act of 1936, would reduce from 100 to 30 per cent the contribution required from local governments for land, easements and rights-of-ways needed for proposed reservoirs. For river walls and similar works, local governments still would be required to meet the full cost of necessary property rights.

3 MEN SENTENCED AT LAKE CHARLES

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 21.—(AP)—Three men accused of robbing the Port City pool hall here early today were sentenced eight hours later by Judge John T. Hood to serve from one to three years in the state penitentiary.

They were booked by officers as Dale Grafton, 21, Leo Marks, 20, and Clifton Shepherd, 19. The men were arrested by Sheriff Henry Reid and pleaded guilty in district court.

The sheriff said cigars, cigarettes, chewing gum and some money were stolen.

BODY IDENTIFIED

BATON ROUGE, La., May 21.—(AP)—The body of a man found in the Missouri Pacific yards at Monroe was identified today by the state bureau of identification as that of Ralph Alexander of Lawrence, Miss. When found the man's pocket had a card bearing the name "Rayborne Alexander."

All the work outside the pool is not yet complete. There are roads and sidewalks to be built and a lot of landscaping, plantings of shrubbery and other work designed to beautify the surroundings, which are yet to be done.

Sports Chatter

By GEORGE V. LOFTON

THOSE FARMS AGAIN

Two young men joined the Philadelphia Athletics in Cleveland the other afternoon.

One, Outfielder Samuel Blake Chapman, came directly from the campus of the University of California.

The other, First Baseman Richard Walther Siebert, had been shuffled about in the minors for six seasons.

The Yankees, Pirates, and Reds wanted Chapman, the Golden Bears' all-America back. He chose the A's because they paid him $8,500 for signing, which was as much or more than either of the other outfits offered. He reasoned that the position of the club would give him an opportunity to play, and liked the idea of performing under Connie Mack.

Dick Siebert frankly says that he owes his present position to an appeal to Commissioner Landis, who continues to crack down on the farm systems, particularly the far-flung one of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I wasn't looking for a free agency," says Siebert, who studied to be a minister at Concordia Seminary in St. Louis and completed his education at Minnesota. "All I wanted to know was where I stood."

Siebert scarcely could be blamed for being confused. He wasn't exactly certain as to just what outfit he belonged the greater part of the time. He was another striking example of how prospects are shuttled around at and for the convenience of major league arrays.

Eddie Herr signed Siebert for the Yankees while he was a student at Concordia Seminary in 1932. He went to Dayton of the Central league in June on a gentleman's agreement.

A .348 batting average with the Ducks led to Siebert's purchase by Brooklyn that fall. He went south with the Dodgers in '33, but they had Joe Judge and a couple of old-timers at first base, and Max Carey lacked the patience of Mack. So Siebert wound up with York of the New York-Pennsylvania league.

Siebert again was supposed to go to Florida with the Flatbush flock in '34, but Casey Stengel had succeeded Carey, and he didn't like the way dashing Dick wore his hat, or something. Anyway, Siebert wound up training with his old Dayton pals, then in the Mid-Atlantic, and was transferred to Albany.

After a month with the Senators, Judge Landis ruled that Siebert was ineligible to play in the International league. He held that Brooklyn had sold the lefthanded first baseman to two clubs.

Siebert still doesn't know why he wasn't declared a free agent then.

But it was back to Dayton for our hero, where he executed his chores so well that he was peddled to Buffalo in mid-season for delivery the following spring.

Buffalo sold Siebert to Brooklyn, of all places, and the Dodgers gave him to Indianapolis in payment for the veteran Johnny Cooney.

A .333 batting average and flossy fielding led to the Cubs drafting Siebert from the Indians, and the Cardinals purchased him at the start of 1937 for protection. The Red Birds had traded Rip Collins to the Cubs. Johnny Mize was holding out, and Branch Rickey wasn't too sure of his fielding, anyway.

Siebert got in 22 games with the Cardinals before being sent to their Columbus farm, where he batted .318.

It was when the Red Birds sent him to Columbus again this spring that the young man visited Judge Landis. A player can be sent out only three times by major league clubs. Siebert

INDIANS TO PLAY NINE GAMES WITH STRONG ELEVENS

All But Two Of Contests To Be Played At Home; New Opponents Listed

The 1938 campaign will find the Tribe facing some new and stronger opponents and, from all indications, Coach Malone is making good his promises to make the schedule as hard as possible for the locals. He also promises to have a team as strong as that of last season, which finished undefeated.

The Indians will spend most of their time at home. Of the nine games scheduled only two will be on foreign fields.

Four new elevens will face the Tribe, while three of last season's opponents have been dropped.

New foes contracted by Coach Malone are Oklahoma Military academy of Claremore, Okla., where Will Rogers, the American humorist, got some of his education and later endowed the institution; the Louisiana State university freshmen, who haven't appeared on the junior college schedule here in five years; the United States Naval Air corps of Pensacola, Fla., who were on the Tribes' schedule last year but the game was cancelled; and Northern Illinois State of DeKalb, Ill.

Northern Illinois has contracted for games this season and in 1939. The Illinois aggregation will come here for their initial encounter in Center's season finale, November 24.

The University of Tennessee Junior college, Texarkana Junior college and Henderson State Teachers of Arkansas will be missing this fall.

The United States Naval Air corps eleven plans to add color to their appearance here on Armistice day by making the trip in their planes and putting on an aerial show soon after their arrival here. It has not been definitely decided whether the game will be played in the afternoon or night.

Old standbys to appear against the Tribe again are the College of Marshall, Marshall, Tex.; Southeastern Louisiana, Hammond; Copiah-Lincoln, strong Mississippi junior college eleven; and Arkansas A. and M. The College of Marshall and Southeastern teams have faced the local elevens for the past seven years.

Southeastern and Copiah-Lincoln have been among Center's strongest rivals. Southeastern put the only blemish on the Tribes' record last year by holding them to a scoreless tie while the Indians, undefeated, were heading the scoring of the nation's colleges. Copiah-Lincoln has

NINTH HOLE AT M'GUIRE PARK GOLF COURSE

The McGuire club will hold its annual invitational tournament on June 3 and 4. Al "Tubby" Mailhes, of Shreveport, is the defending champion, having defeated Shep Girault, of Lakeside, in the finals of last year's tourney. CHANDL'ER TAKES MEMPHIS TITLE

Texas Matron Beats Miss Jameson In Final Of Gaut Tourney, 5 And 4

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21.—(AP)—Zooming straight drives and putts that dropped from all angles won the Marguerite Gaut trophy today for Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Tex., in the Memphis Country club's invitation golf tourney.

The Texas matron, a former Texas State champion, vanquished Miss Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., 5 and 4, in the final 18-hole match over the course on which the National Women's Open was played last October.

It was an easy victory for Mrs. Chandler whose play was brilliant in contrast with the erratic shooting of Miss Jameson. The latter looked like the fine golfer she is only on five holes of the first nine when she managed to cut Mrs. Chandler's commanding lead to two up at the turn.

The new champion had a 37 for the first nine, one under women's par and on the five holes of the back nine she was one over even 4's. Par for that distance is three over 4's.

Mrs. Chandler was the fourth winner of the Gaut trophy, named for Mrs. Dave Gaut, Memphis, a veteran of southern fairways. Mrs. Leon Solomon, Memphis, Kathryn Hemphill, Columbia, S. C., and Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., were previous winners.

Other results:

First flight consolation: Mrs. K. M. Spurrier defeated Mrs. Dan Mathis, both of Memphis, 4-2.

NORTH CAROLINA WINS TRACK CROWN

DURHAM, N. C., May 21.—(AP)—North Carolina's track stars pulled a surprise today and won the 16th annual Southern conference track meet.

Four new conference records were set.

The Tar Heels scored 59½ points to upset Duke, the favored defending champions. Duke tallied 50¼ points.

The Tar Heels took only two first places but scored heavily in both jump events and in the two-mile and 880-yard runs.

Don Kinzle, Duke sophomore, led in individual performance with new records of 23.5 seconds in the 220 low hurdles and 14.5 seconds in the high barriers. He took fifth in the broad jump for a total of 11 points, to tie with Hubert Reavis and George McAfee, both of Duke, for high-score honors.

Other team scores were: Maryland 44, Virginia Military institute 15¼, Virginia Polytechnic institute 14½, Washington and Lee, Davidson 8¼, South Carolina 8, Richmond 6¼, William and Mary 3, N. C. State 2 and Clemson 1.

Dick Stricler of V. M. I. pushed the shot 48 feet 4¼ inches to beat his own old mark of 47 feet 9¾ inches.

One of the oldest records in the conference books, one minute 55.8 seconds for the 880, set in 1928 by Gees of Kentucky when that school was in the conference, was marked off by Coleman Headley of Maryland, who did the distance in one minute, 53.3 seconds.

ADLER PIRATES WIN FROM OWLS, LIDA BENTON BEES

Wood, of the Pirates, and B. Hart, of the Owls, each pitched four-hit ball in the pitching battle. Dent pitched for Lida Benton against Dirl and Bell.

GOODMAN RATED BRITISH FAVORITE

TROON, Scotland, May 21.—(AP)—Johnny Goodman, back on his game and chesty as a pigeon, is favored to win the British amateur golf championship starting Monday.

After watching the Omaha star wear a path in the middle of Troon's fairways today, British critics decided he's about an 8 to 1 shot to add this title to his United States crown. What's more, Johnny is inclined to agree.

Finishing practice in the rain with a 73, and undisturbed by the most unlucky draw any favorite has had for years, Johnny said:

"This is my idea of a golf course. You want to drill 'em here or go home."

All the members of the United States Walker Cup team worked out this morning and then went to the British army air maneuvers in the afternoon.

Although Johnny Fischer suddenly ran into a wild hooking spell today, the Cincinnati shot maker is the second choice at 10 to 1.

Francis Ouimet, veteran captain of the American Walker Cup team, has been made the third choice at 12 to 1 mainly because the Scots can't forget he once beat their Harry Vardon.

"That's a joke," remarked Ouimet.

But just the same, he is hitting the ball well.

Charlie Yates of Atlanta, Sandy Somerville of Canada, and Reynolds Smith of Dallas are next in line at 14 to 1. These three are listed ahead of Charlie Kocsis, Royal Oak, Mich.; Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Fred Haas, Jr., Baton Rouge, La.; Marvin Ward of Olympia, Wash., and the Anglo-American defending champion, Robert Sweeny.

Best liked among the British are Johnny Stevenson, local boy who hasn't been over par for days, and Hector Thomson, 1936 British champion.

The feature first round match won't be played until Tuesday when Fischer and Yates tangle. These two are grouped with Sweeny, and Charlie Stowe and Frank Pennink of the British Walker Cup team in the third quarter.

YALE CREW WINS FROM PRINCETON AND CORNELL

ITHACA, N. Y., May 21.—(AP)—Yale's all-conquering navy applied the finishing touches to a sweep of the annual Carnegie Cup regatta on Lake Cayuga today by achieving a decisive triumph over the rival Cornell and Princeton eights in a record-smashing varsity race.

Yale sliced more than eight seconds off the best mark ever registered for two miles in competition here. The Eli crew covered the course in 10 minutes, 23.4 seconds. Cornell, though beaten off by two lengths, also was under the former record at 10:29. Princeton was clocked in 10:42, trailing Yale by six lengths.

Yale, by registering its second rowing sweep in as many weeks, will go into the annual regatta with Harvard on the Thames river, June 24, with a clean slate.

Monroe Gets 11 Hits As Veteran Righthander Holds Dodgers To Nine

GREENWOOD, Miss., May 21.—(Special)—The Monroe White Sox, who played a great game in losing a 2-1 decision last night, rose up Saturday night and whipped Greenwood's Little Dodgers, 8 to 4.

With Curt Fullerton, veteran righthander, scattering nine Greenwood hits, the Monroe club got to LeCompte and Tench for 11 safeties and walked off with the ball game to even the two-game series between the two clubs. Monroe goes to Greenville Sunday.

The White Sox got off to a three-run lead in the first inning and were never headed. They steadily added to their advantage and Greenwood was never able to catch up, thanks to the effective mound work of Fullerton.

After Frank Hackney had driven in two of Monroe's three runs in the first frame and Johnny Conway had pounded in another in the third, the Sox breezed to an easy triumph. Monroe added two more runs in the fourth and then scored once in the seventh and once in the eighth, the last tally coming as a result of Dick Taylor's home run over the left field fence with nobody on.

Greenwood tallied once in the fifth inning and then counted three more times in the seventh when Amelung, heavy hitting local first sacker, hit a home run over the right field wall with two on base.

The Sox outhit Greenwood, 11 to nine. Little Bobby Schang scored three runs, while Fred Bennett, Hack-

Monroe added two more runs in the fourth and then scored once in the seventh and once in the eighth, the last tally coming as a result of Dick Taylor's home run over the left field fence with nobody on.

Greenwood tallied once in the fifth inning and then counted three more times in the seventh when Amelung, heavy hitting local first sacker, hit a home run over the right field wall with two on base.

THOSE FARMS AGAIN

Two young men joined the Philadelphia Athletics in Cleveland the other afternoon.

One, Outfielder Samuel Blake Chapman, came directly from the campus of the University of California.

The other, First Baseman Richard Walther Siebert, had been shuffled about in the minors for six seasons.

The Yankees, Pirates, and Reds wanted Chapman, the Golden Bears' all-America back. He chose the A's because they paid him $8,500 for signing, which was as much or more than either of the other outfits offered. He reasoned that the position of the club would give him an opportunity to play, and liked the idea of performing under Connie Mack.

Dick Siebert frankly says that he owes his present position to an appeal to Commissioner Landis, who continues to crack down on the farm systems, particularly the far-flung one of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I wasn't looking for a free agency," says Siebert, who studied to be a minister at Concordia Seminary in St. Louis and completed his education at Minnesota. "All I wanted to know was where I stood."

Siebert scarcely could be blamed for being confused. He wasn't exactly certain as to just what outfit he belonged the greater part of the time. He was another striking example of how prospects are shuttled around at and for the convenience of major league arrays.

Eddie Herr signed Siebert for the Yankees while he was a student at Concordia Seminary in 1932. He went to Dayton of the Central league in June on a gentleman's agreement.

A .348 batting average with the Ducks led to Siebert's purchase by Brooklyn that fall. He went south with the Dodgers in '33, but they had Joe Judge and a couple of old-timers at first base, and Max Carey lacked the patience of Mack. So Siebert wound up with York of the New York-Pennsylvania league.

Siebert again was supposed to go to Florida with the Flatbush flock in '34, but Casey Stengel had succeeded Carey, and he didn't like the way dashing Dick wore his hat, or something. Anyway, Siebert wound up training with his old Dayton pals, then in the Mid-Atlantic, and was transferred to Albany.

After a month with the Senators, Judge Landis ruled that Siebert was ineligible to play in the International league. He held that Brooklyn had sold the lefthanded first baseman to two clubs.

Siebert still doesn't know why he wasn't declared a free agent then.

But it was back to Dayton for our hero, where he executed his chores so well that he was peddled to Buffalo in mid-season for delivery the following spring.

Buffalo sold Siebert to Brooklyn, of all places, and the Dodgers gave him to Indianapolis in payment for the veteran Johnny Cooney.

A .333 batting average and flossy fielding led to the Cubs drafting Siebert from the Indians, and the Cardinals purchased him at the start of 1937 for protection. The Red Birds had traded Rip Collins to the Cubs. Johnny Mize was holding out, and Branch Rickey wasn't too sure of his fielding, anyway.

Siebert got in 22 games with the Cardinals before being sent to their Columbus farm, where he batted .318.

It was when the Red Birds sent him to Columbus again this spring that the young man visited Judge Landis. A player can be sent out only three times by major league clubs. Siebert

Northeast Center Books Strong Schedule For 1938

All But Two Of Contests To Be Played At Home; New Opponents Listed

The 1938 campaign will find the Tribe facing some new and stronger opponents and, from all indications, Coach Malone is making good his promises to make the schedule as hard as possible for the locals. He also promises to have a team as strong as that of last season, which finished undefeated.

The Indians will spend most of their time at home. Of the nine games scheduled only two will be on foreign fields.

Four new elevens will face the Tribe, while three of last season's opponents have been dropped.

New foes contracted by Coach Malone are Oklahoma Military academy of Claremore, Okla., where Will Rogers, the American humorist, got some of his education and later endowed the institution; the Louisiana State university freshmen, who haven't appeared on the junior college schedule here in five years; the United States Naval Air corps of Pensacola, Fla., who were on the Tribes' schedule last year but the game was cancelled; and Northern Illinois State of DeKalb, Ill.

Northern Illinois has contracted for games this season and in 1939. The Illinois aggregation will come here for their initial encounter in Center's season finale, November 24.

The University of Tennessee Junior college, Texarkana Junior college and Henderson State Teachers of Arkansas will be missing this fall.

The United States Naval Air corps eleven plans to add color to their appearance here on Armistice day by making the trip in their planes and putting on an aerial show soon after their arrival here. It has not been definitely decided whether the game will be played in the afternoon or night.

Old standbys to appear against the Tribe again are the College of Marshall, Marshall, Tex.; Southeastern Louisiana, Hammond; Copiah-Lincoln, strong Mississippi junior college eleven; and Arkansas A. and M. The College of Marshall and Southeastern teams have faced the local elevens for the past seven years.

Southeastern and Copiah-Lincoln have been among Center's strongest rivals. Southeastern put the only blemish on the Tribes' record last year by holding them to a scoreless tie while the Indians, undefeated, were heading the scoring of the nation's colleges. Copiah-Lincoln has

Above is the ninth hole at the McGuire Park Golf club in West Monroe, the photograph showing the clubhouse, shrubbery and sandtraps surrounding the difficult hole. The McGuire club will hold its annual invitational tournament on June 3 and 4. Al "Tubby" Mathes, of Shreveport, is the defending champion, having defeated Shep Girault, of Lakeside, in the finals of last year's tourney. Many of the outstanding golfers of the southwest are expected to enter the tourney, including the two finalists in the 1938 state tourament, Tommy Bolt, of Shreveport, and Paul Leslie, of Baton Rouge.

CHANDL'ER TAKES MEMPHIS TITLE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21.—(AP)—Zooming straight drives and putts that dropped from all angles won the Marguerite Gaut trophy today for Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Tex., in the Memphis Country club's invitation golf tourney.

The Texas matron, a former Texas State champion, vanquished Miss Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., 5 and 4, in the final 18-hole match over the course on which the National Women's Open was played last October.

It was an easy victory for Mrs. Chandler whose play was brilliant in contrast with the erratic shooting of Miss Jameson. The latter looked like the fine golfer she is only on five holes of the first nine when she managed to cut Mrs. Chandler's commanding lead to two up at the turn.

The new champion had a 37 for the first nine, one under women's par and on the five holes of the back nine she was one over even 4's. Par for that distance is three over 4's.

Mrs. Chandler was the fourth winner of the Gaut trophy, named for Mrs. Dave Gaut, Memphis, a veteran of southern fairways. Mrs. Leon Solomon, Memphis, Kathryn Hemphill, Columbia, S. C., and Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., were previous winners.

Other results:

First flight consolation: Mrs. K. M. Spurrier defeated Mrs. Dan Mathis, both of Memphis, 4-2.

NORTH CAROLINA WINS TRACK CROWN

DURHAM, N. C., May 21.—(AP)—North Carolina's track stars pulled a surprise today and won the 16th annual Southern conference track meet.

Four new conference records were set.

The Tar Heels scored 59½ points to upset Duke, the favored defending champions. Duke tallied 50¼ points.

The Tar Heels took only two first places but scored heavily in both jump events and in the two-mile and 880-yard runs.

Don Kinzle, Duke sophomore, led in individual performance with new records of 23.5 seconds in the 220 low hurdles and 14.5 seconds in the high barriers. He took fifth in the broad jump for a total of 11 points, to tie with Hubert Reavis and George McAfee, both of Duke, for high-score honors.

Other team scores were: Maryland 44, Virginia Military institute 15¼, Virginia Polytechnic institute 14½, Washington and Lee, Davidson 8¼, South Carolina 8, Richmond 6¼, William and Mary 3, N. C. State 2 and Clemson 1.

Dick Stricler of V. M. I. pushed the shot 48 feet 4¼ inches to beat his own old mark of 47 feet 9¾ inches.

One of the oldest records in the conference books, one minute 55.8 seconds for the 880, set in 1928 by Gees of Kentucky when that school was in the conference, was marked off by Coleman Headley of Maryland, who did the distance in one minute, 53.3 seconds.

GOODMAN RATED BRITISH FAVORITE

TROON, Scotland, May 21.—(AP)—Johnny Goodman, back on his game and chesty as a pigeon, is favored to win the British amateur golf championship starting Monday.

After watching the Omaha star wear a path in the middle of Troon's fairways today, British critics decided he's about an 8 to 1 shot to add this title to his United States crown. What's more, Johnny is inclined to agree.

Finishing practice in the rain with a 73, and undisturbed by the most unlucky draw any favorite has had for years, Johnny said:

"This is my idea of a golf course. You want to drill 'em here or go home."

All the members of the United States Walker Cup team worked out this morning and then went to the British army air maneuvers in the afternoon.

Although Johnny Fischer suddenly ran into a wild hooking spell today, the Cincinnati shot maker is the second choice at 10 to 1.

Francis Ouimet, veteran captain of the American Walker Cup team, has been made the third choice at 12 to 1 mainly because the Scots can't forget he once beat their Harry Vardon.

"That's a joke," remarked Ouimet.

But just the same, he is hitting the ball well.

Charlie Yates of Atlanta, Sandy Somerville of Canada, and Reynolds Smith of Dallas are next in line at 14 to 1. These three are listed ahead of Charlie Kocsis, Royal Oak, Mich.; Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Fred Haas, Jr., Baton Rouge, La.; Marvin Ward of Olympia, Wash., and the Anglo-American defending champion, Robert Sweeny.

Best liked among the British are Johnny Stevenson, local boy who hasn't been over par for days, and Hector Thomson, 1936 British champion.

The feature first round match won't be played until Tuesday when Fischer and Yates tangle. These two are grouped with Sweeny, and Charlie Stowe and Frank Pennink of the British Walker Cup team in the third quarter.

YALE CREW WINS FROM PRINCETON AND CORNELL

ITHACA, N. Y., May 21.—(AP)—Yale's all-conquering navy applied the finishing touches to a sweep of the annual Carnegie Cup regatta on Lake Cayuga today by achieving a decisive triumph over the rival Cornell and Princeton eights in a record-smashing varsity race.

Yale sliced more than eight seconds off the best mark ever registered for two miles in competition here. The Eli crew covered the course in 10 minutes, 23.4 seconds. Cornell, though beaten off by two lengths, also was under the former record at 10:29. Princeton was clocked in 10:42, trailing Yale by six lengths.

Yale, by registering its second rowing sweep in as many weeks, will go into the annual regatta with Harvard on the Thames river, June 24, with a clean slate.

REDS HAND GIANTS 4TH STRAIGHT SETBACK

Derringer And Goodman Combine To Hand Melton His First Defeat

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Those rude Reds from Cincinnati presented another classy two-man combination in Paul Derringer and Ival Goodman today and whipped the Giants 4 to 1. It was the National league champions' fourth setback in a row.

Still in the hitting doldrums, the Giants were blanked for the first eight innings before Mel Ott clouted his seventh homer of the season in the ninth to end a string of 30 consecutive scoreless innings.

The Reds collected only six hits off stringbean Cliff Melton, but two of them were homers by Goodman.

CUBS TROUNCE PHILS

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(AP)—Larry French, Cubs' star southpaw, held the Phillies to five hits today as Chicago trimmed Philadelphia 10-1. The Cubs got 14 hits.

Claude Passeau, of the Phils, weakened after pitching good ball for the first five innings. In the seventh he gave way to Al Smith, who finished.

BARON RECEIVER LEADS BATSMEN

McDougal's .439 In 56 Points Better Than Other Southern Swatsmiths

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21.—(AP)—Powdering the ball at a lively clip, Milton (Sandy) McDougal, Birmingham catcher, held a 56-point advantage over his two closest rivals with the release today of official Southern association batting averages. His average was .439.

The averages included games played through Wednesday.

The Baron backstop went to bat 63 times and cracked out 27 hits for a total of 42 bases and 17 runs batted in.

Tied for second place were Murray Howell, McDougal's teammate, and Dee Miles, Chattanooga outfielder, with .373. Jim Bloodworth who paced the hitting department for the first few weeks of the season dropped to fourth place, five points behind Miles and Howell.

The next five leading hitters were Hill, Atlanta, .355; Parks, Nashville, .354, and Majeski, Birmingham, Sington and Honeycutt, Chattanooga, with .350 each.

First Baseman Andy Reese of the Memphis Chicks and Marshall Mauldin, Cracker centerfielder, remained in a tie for runs batted in honors, each with a total of 25. Reese had a batting mark of .324, Mauldin, .280.

Despite his failure to stay above the .300 mark, the Cracker slugger was far out in front of the field in distance clouting with a total of 40 hits for 73 bases. Nineteen of his hits traveled for extra bases. Ten were doubles, four triples and five home runs.

Going to bat 968 times, the powerful Chattanooga Lookouts collected an even 300 hits for a club average of .310, the Barons were second in club hitting with .297, followed by Atlanta with .283.

In the extra base department, Atlanta paced the pack with 313 hits for a total of 467 bases. Twenty-two of the blows were homers, 54 were doubles and 17 triples.

The Crackers also were first in runs scored with 173. Birmingham was second with 167.

NEWSPAPERMEN BEAT CONGRESS NINE, 7-4

FORT HUNT, Va., May 21.—(AP)—A team of Washington newspapermen defeated a picked squad of congressmen in a softball game at the National Press club's annual outing today. The score was 7 to 4.

Hopping on Congresman Leo Allen, Republican, Illinois, in the sixth inning, the newsmen pummeled his pitches, tied the score at 4-4 and then went ahead to win.

Preceding the ball game, the 2,000 visitors listened to a half hour debate between two experienced orators.

Speaking on the subject, "We View With Alarm," former Republican Senator Jim Watson, of Indiana, said:

"The Democrats have created a terrible panic."

Speaker Bankhead, acting chairman, declared the contest a tie after calling for aye and no expressions from the audience.

Batteries were:

House of representatives—Allen and Dewey Johnson, Farmer-Laborite, Minnesota.

Newsmen—Eric Friedhiem, International News Service, and Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press.

CHANDLER WINS OWN GAME WITH CIRCUIT CLOUT

Young Pitcher Hits Home Run In Eighth To Score Winning Run

CHICAGO, May 21.—(AP)—Spud Chandler, the Yankees' young righthander, took complete charge of the Chicago White Sox today, pitching an eight-hit shutout and hitting a homer that gave the world champions a 1 to 0 victory over Jimmy Dykes' outfit.

NATS WIN IN 12TH

CLEVELAND, May 21.—(AP)—Kendall Chase outlasted Earl Whitehill in an extra inning battle of southpaw pitchers today, and Washington edged to a 5 to 4 decision in the twelfth frame to halt the winning streak of the Cleveland Indians at five games.

The Indians retained first place in the American league as the Boston Red Sox lost at St. Louis.

The failure of Third Baseman Lewis to bunt in two sacrifice attempts resulted in the victory for the Senators. Bluege had reached first on a walk to open the 12th and Galehouse replaced Whitehill on the mound for Cleveland. After trying twice to lay down a sacrifice, Lewis singled through the box and Bluege went to third.

Simmons grounded out and Bluege was held at third, but he scored a moment later on Bonura's fly to right.

TWO-TON TONY GALENTO WINS BY KNOCKOUT

Note the agonized expression on the face of Connecticut's gift to the prize ring as he takes the ten-count. A moment after this picture was taken Tony waddled over to his corner.

Kennedy lost control in the eighth and was relieved by Tommy Bridges with the bases full, three runs already in and one out. The veteran right hander checked the rally as Dick Siebert hit into a force play and Bob Johnson fanned.

MEDWICK AGAIN TOPS NATIONAL

Cardinal Slugger Batters Way To Top In Senior League Hitting

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Take one look at the current National league batting averages, and the chances are you'll all rise in unison and shout, "This is where we came in."

For that big bad man from St. Louis, Ducky Wucky Medwick, is here again, up on top of all the hitters in the senior circuit. Getting over his lumbago and his slow start in a hurry, the Gas House Gang's No. 1 clouter climbed into first place during the week ended with Friday's games with a gaudy .403 average for his first 18 games.

He deposed Cookie Lavagetto, Brooklyn infielder, who set the pace a week ago, but who slumped during the last seven days and nose-dived 22 points to an even .400 for second place. Medwick collected eight hits in 20 official batting chances during the week.

Based largely on the Giants' sudden fall into the hitting doldrums and the rise of the rude Reds from Cincinnati, the leadership in several other individual attacking departments also underwent severe changes.

Chiefly responsible for these were a pair of the Reds clouters, Rookie Buck McCormick and Ival Goodman. McCormick boosted his total of base hits for the season to 46 and took first place in that division from Jojo Moore of the Giants, who dropped to second with 40. McCormick also skyrocketed into first place in hitting two-baggers, connecting for 13 so far, while Hershel Martin, the Phillies sophomore advanced to second place with 11.

Goodman shook up the rest of the extra-base departments, taking the lead in homers with seven to six for the Giants' Mel Ott, and climbed into a tie for second place in triples. The top three-bagger-belter was Johnny Rizzo of the Pirates with 5, while Goodman, his teammate Lew Riggs, and Brooklyn's classy flychasing rookie, Rosy Rosen, each had four.

Ott continued to set the pace in run-scoring with 27 for the season, compared to 26 for Billy Herman of the Cubs, and remained deadlocked with Augie Galan of the Cubs in batting in runs, each with 26.

Galan and Dick Bartell of the Giants made it a four-way tie for the lead in base-stealing, pulling up even with Brooklyn's Ernie Koy and the Giants Lou Chizza, each with three for the year.

Most notable pitching chance saw Carl Hubbell lose his first game of the season and drop from among the leaders. His southpaw mate on the Giants, Stringbean Cliff Melton held onto the pace with an undefeated run of six straight wins, while Lon Warneke of the Cards, Dizzy Dean and Jack Russell of the Cubs, and Ira Hutchinson of the Bees had three wins and no defeats each.

Back of Medwick and Lavagetto on the top-ten list of hitters were Buck McCormick, Cincinnati, with .374 for third place; Lloyd Waner, Pittsburgh, .360; Enos Slaughter, St. Louis, .358; Morrie Arnovich, Phillies, .355; Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati, .354; Hank Leiber, Giants, .352; Jojo Moore, Giants, .351, and Tony Lazzeri, Cubs, .351.

CRACKERJACKS WIN

The Northside Crackerjacks defeated the Riverside Raiders in two games the past week, winning the first 19 to 7, and the other 45 to 5. The games were the Crackerjacks' first of the season.

According to many scientists of today, the earth had a diameter of only 5,500 miles when it first came into existence. Then, by drawing planetesimals into itself, it grew to a diameter of 8,100 miles, but shrinkage and buckling now has reduced its diameter to 7,926 miles.

BROWN AT RUSTON

The game scheduled for this afternoon at Brown park between the Brown Paper mill Safety Firsts and the Ruston Volunteers has been switched to Ruston, according to an announcement made last night by Manager Frank Frickie of the local club.

Manager Frickie said the game would be played at Ruston because of the fact that some repairs were being made on the local diamond and it would not be in readiness for today's engagement.

"Lefty" Counts or Mutt Pittard will be the Brownie hurler today, Manager Frickie said, with heavy-hitting Earl Duncan doing the catching.

PLUNGERS BOOK HOME SCHEDULE

Coach Mount Announces Seven-Game Grid Campaign; One Date Pending

DUBACH, La., May 21.—(Special)—The Dubach High school Plungers will play an all-home-game schedule during their 1938 gridiron campaign, according to Coach J. B. Mount, who announced that seven games had already been scheduled for the local field and that another was pending.

The Dubach team will not play a single game away from home, unless, however, they reach the Class B playoffs and contract to play in a foreign field.

The 1938 schedule was announced as follows:

Sept. 16: Open.
Sept. 23: Norphlet, Ark., here.
Sept. 30: Waskom, Tex., here.
Oct. 7: Farmerville, here.
Oct. 14: Bernice, here.
Oct. 21: Open.
Oct. 28: Benton, here.
Nov. 4: Haughton, here.
Nov. 11: (pending), here.
Nov. 18: Doyline, here.

Coach Mount made no announcement as to what team would probably fill the Armistice day date with the locals, but said a game was being contracted and would be played here.

Dubach will have a new park fence and bleacher seats for the coming season, as the Plungers prepare for what they expect to be their banner year. Arrangements for an advance ticket sale are already underway with the announcement that season tickets would go on sale on August 15.

D'MAGGIO HOLDS AMERICAN LEAD

Yankee Slugger Plays In Only Two Games But Still Tops Batters

CHICAGO, May 21.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the ace baseball swing man of the New York Yankees, clung to his American league batting leadership this week, rain, postponements and an upward surge of Boston sluggers notwithstanding.

Joe played in only two games since last Saturday and one of those was halted by rain, but semi-official averages that include games of Friday show the Yankee outfielder clubbed out three hits, two of them home runs, in his six times at bat.

Others in the "high ten" included Ben Chapman, Boston, .388; Frank Hayes, Philadelphia, .370; Earl Averill, Cleveland, .365; Joe Cronin, Boston, .363; Jimmy Foxx, Boston, .361; Cecil Travis, Washington, .356; Hank Steinbacher, Chicago, .351; Buddy Myer, Washington, .343.

Chapman led the climb of the Red Sox sluggers, his advance of 39 points sending him from ninth place to third. Cronin went from tenth to sixth on a gain of 15 points, while Foxx, who has been setting a hot pace in batting across 39 runs, jumped into the select ten for the first time.

Foxx and Hank Greenberg of Detroit each had eight home runs to continue their tie. The Red Sox also maintained ranking positions in other departments. Roger Cramer of the Hose and Cleveland's Averill each had scored 27 runs, while Cronin set the two-base hit pace with 13 and was tied with eight others for the lead in triples at three. The group included Averill and Ken Keltner of Cleveland; Buddy Lewis, Jonathan Stone and Mel Almada of Washington, Dixie Walker of Detroit, Mike Kreevich of Chicago and Bill Knickerbocker of New York.

The veteran Bob Grove of Boston added two more victories over the week to run his undefeated string for the season to seven. Vern Kennedy of Detroit was next with five in a row. Bob Feller, Cleveland's fast-ball star who has lost one game while winning five, led in strikeouts with 50.

Cleveland was the team batting leader with .287, while Washington set the pace in fielding with .978. St. Louis' 36 double plays ranked first in that division.

Spatafora's Pharmacy vs. Monroe Hardware, Plum street.

Cardinals vs. Tidwell and Sons, Y's park.

Printers vs. Sunshine Cleaners, Barkdull Faulk.

This week's City league games will be determining factors in deciding the league leader and cellar teams, with Spatafora's Pharmacy being under the heaviest fire. The Sunshine Cleaners are capable of upsetting the Spatafora crew tomorrow, but should Manager Bob McNeely's aggregation come through undefeated they still have Monroe Hardware waiting in the gap Wednesday.

Monroe Hardware and Spatafora's Pharmacy will provide the big game of the first round on the Plum street diamond Wednesday. Neither team has been beaten, but the league lead is slated to go to one team alone this week.

The same stands good for the cellar division. But the Presbyterians and S. E. I. No. 4 will settle the cellar question tomorrow. There are few setups in this week's games, and every team has a chance to improve its standing.

BARON RECEIVER LEADS BATSMEN

McDougal's .439 In 56 Points Better Than Other Southern Swatsmiths

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21.—(AP)—Powdering the ball at a lively clip, Milton (Sandy) McDougal, Birmingham catcher, held a 56-point advantage over his two closest rivals with the release today of official Southern association batting averages. His average was .439.

The averages included games played through Wednesday.

The Baron backstop went to bat 63 times and cracked out 27 hits for a total of 42 bases and 17 runs batted in.

Tied for second place were Murray Howell, McDougal's teammate, and Dee Miles, Chattanooga outfielder, with .373. Jim Bloodworth who paced the hitting department for the first few weeks of the season dropped to fourth place, five points behind Miles and Howell.

The next five leading hitters were Hill, Atlanta, .355; Parks, Nashville, .354, and Majeski, Birmingham, Sington and Honeycutt, Chattanooga, with .350 each.

First Baseman Andy Reese of the Memphis Chicks and Marshall Mauldin, Cracker centerfielder, remained in a tie for runs batted in honors, each with a total of 25. Reese had a batting mark of .324, Mauldin, .280.

Despite his failure to stay above the .300 mark, the Cracker slugger was far out in front of the field in distance clouting with a total of 40 hits for 73 bases. Nineteen of his hits traveled for extra bases. Ten were doubles, four triples and five home runs.

Going to bat 968 times, the powerful Chattanooga Lookouts collected an even 300 hits for a club average of .310, the Barons were second in club hitting with .297, followed by Atlanta with .283.

In the extra base department, Atlanta paced the pack with 313 hits for a total of 467 bases. Twenty-two of the blows were homers, 54 were doubles and 17 triples.

The Crackers also were first in runs scored with 173. Birmingham was second with 167.

NEWSPAPERMEN BEAT CONGRESS NINE, 7-4

FORT HUNT, Va., May 21.—(AP)—A team of Washington newspapermen defeated a picked squad of congressmen in a softball game at the National Press club's annual outing today. The score was 7 to 4.

Hopping on Congressman Leo Allen, Republican, Illinois, in the sixth inning, the newsmen pummeled his pitches, tied the score at 4-4 and then went ahead to win.

Preceding the ball game, the 2,000 visitors listened to a half hour debate between two experienced orators.

Speaking on the subject, "We View With Alarm," former Republican Senator Jim Watson, of Indiana, said:

"The Democrats have created a terrible panic."

Speaker Bankhead, acting chairman, declared the contest a tie after calling for aye and no expressions from the audience.

Batteries were:

House of representatives—Allen and Dewey Johnson, Farmer-Laborite, Minnesota.

Newsmen—Eric Friedheim, International News Service, and Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press.

CHANDLER WINS OWN GAME WITH CIRCUIT CLOUT

Young Pitcher Hits Home Run In Eighth To Score Winning Run

CHICAGO, May 21.—(AP)—Spud Chandler, the Yankees' young righthander, took complete charge of the Chicago White Sox today, pitching an eight-hit shutout and hitting a homer that gave the world champions a 1 to 0 victory over Jimmy Dykes' outfit.

BROWNS STOP RED SOX

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—(AP)—The cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns had one big inning today at the expense of Johnny Marcum to defeat the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 3.

Featured by Mel Mazzera's circuit blow, the Browns scored four runs in the fourth for the necessary offensive punch. Mazzera's homer came with one man on base.

NATS WIN IN 12TH

CLEVELAND, May 21.—(AP)—Kendall Chase outlasted Earl Whitehill in an extra inning battle of southpaw pitchers today, and Washington edged to a 5 to 4 decision in the twelfth frame to halt the winning streak of the Cleveland Indians at five games.

The Indians retained first place in the American league as the Boston Red Sox lost at St. Louis.

The failure of Third Baseman Lewis to bunt in two sacrifice attempts resulted in the victory for the Senators. Bluege had reached first on a walk to open the 12th and Galehouse replaced Whitehill on the mound for Cleveland. After trying twice to lay down a sacrifice, Lewis singled through the box and Bluege went to third.

Simmons grounded out and Bluege was held at third, but he scored a moment later on Bonura's fly to right.

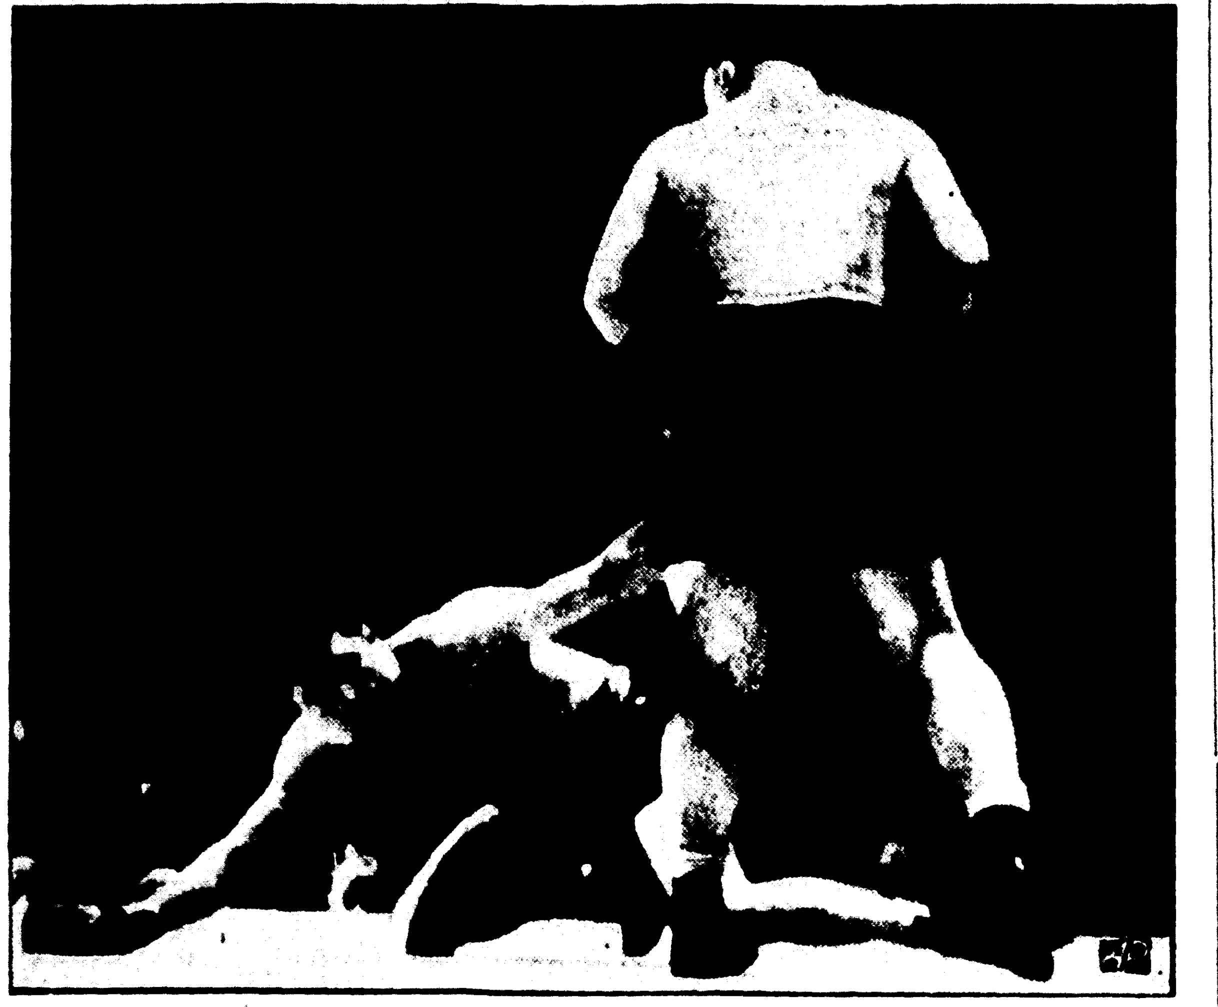
TWO-TON TONY GALENTO WINS BY KNOCKOUT



Two-ton Tony Galento, the bad boy from Jersey whose training habits are headaches for boxing commissioners, is shown a moment after he administered the knockout punch to Nathan Mann in their two-round heavyweight bout in New York. Note the agonized expression on the face of Connecticut's gift to the prize ring as he takes the ten-count. A moment after this picture was taken Tony waddled over to his corner.

TIGERS DOWN A'S

DETROIT, May 21.—(AP)—Although he wasn't around at the finish, Vernon Kennedy was credited with his sixth straight pitching triumph of the season today as the Detroit Tigers beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 5.

Kennedy lost control in the eighth and was relieved by Tommy Bridges with the bases full, three runs already in and one out. The veteran right hander checked the rally as Dick Siebert hit into a force play and Bob Johnson fanned.

HOMER PLAYS EAGLES

FARMERVILLE, La., May 21.—(Special)—The Homer Black Oilers and the Farmerville Black Eagles will clash Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Palace park here. Purvis is slated to start on the mound for the local negro aggregation. The Black Oilers are expected to use Kelly.

MEDWICK AGAIN TOPS NATIONAL

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Take one look at the current National league batting averages, and the chances are you'll all rise in unison and shout, "This is where we came in."

For that big bad man from St. Louis, Ducky Wucky Medwick, is here again, up on top of all the hitters in the senior circuit. Getting over his lumbago and his slow start in a hurry, the Gas House Gang's No. 1 clouter climbed into first place during the week ended with Friday's games with a gaudy .403 average for his first 18 games.

He deposed Cookie Lavagetto, Brooklyn infielder, who set the pace a week ago, but who slumped during the last seven days and nose-dived 22 points to an even .400 for second place. Medwick collected eight hits in 20 official batting chances during the week.

Based largely on the Giants' sudden fall into the hitting doldrums and the rise of the rude Reds from Cincinnati, the leadership in several other individual attacking departments also underwent severe changes.

Chiefly responsible for these were a pair of the Reds clouters, Rookie Buck McCormick and Ival Goodman. McCormick boosted his total of base hits for the season to 46 and took first place in that division from Jojo Moore of the Giants, who dropped to second with 40. McCormick also skyrocketed into first place in hitting two-baggers, connecting for 13 so far, while Hershel Martin, the Phillies sophomore advanced to second place with 11.

Goodman shook up the rest of the extra-base departments, taking the lead in homers with seven to six for the Giants' Mel Ott, and climbed into a tie for second place in triples. The top three-bagger-belter was Johnny Rizzo of the Pirates with 5, while Goodman, his teammate Lew Riggs, and Brooklyn's classy flychasing rookie, Rosy Rosen, each had four.

Ott continued to set the pace in run-scoring with 27 for the season, compared to 26 for Billy Herman of the Cubs, and remained deadlocked with Augie Galan of the Cubs in batting in runs, each with 26.

Galan and Dick Bartell of the Giants made it a four-way tie for the lead in base-stealing, pulling up even with Brooklyn's Ernie Koy and the Giants Lou Chizza, each with three for the year.

Most notable pitching chance saw Carl Hubbell lose his first game of the season and drop from among the leaders. His southpaw mate on the Giants, Stringbean Cliff Melton held onto the pace with an undefeated run of six straight wins, while Lon Warneke of the Cards, Dizzy Dean and Jack Russell of the Cubs, and Ira Hutchinson of the Bees had three wins and no defeats each.

Back of Medwick and Lavagetto on the top-ten list of hitters were Buck McCormick, Cincinnati, with .374 for third place; Lloyd Waner, Pittsburgh, .360; Enos Slaughter, St. Louis, .358; Morrie Arnovich, Phillies, .355; Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati, .354; Hank Leiber, Giants, .352; Jojo Moore, Giants, .351, and Tony Lazzeri, Cubs, .351.

CRACKERJACKS WIN

The Northside Crackerjacks defeated the Riverside Raiders in two games the past week, winning the first 19 to 7, and the other 45 to 5. The games were the Crackerjacks' first of the season.

According to many scientists of today, the earth had a diameter of only 5,500 miles when it first came into existence. Then, by drawing planetesimals into itself, it grew to a diameter of 8,100 miles, but shrinkage and buckling now has reduced its diameter to [illegible] miles.

BROWN AT RUSTON

The game scheduled for this afternoon at Brown park between the Brown Paper mill Safety Firsts and the Ruston Volunteers has been switched to Ruston, according to an announcement made last night by Manager Frank Frickie of the local club.

Manager Frickie said the game would be played at Ruston because of the fact that some repairs were being made on the local diamond and it would not be in readiness for today's engagement.

"Lefty" Counts or Mutt Pittard will be the Brownie hurler today, Manager Frickie said, with heavy-hitting Earl Duncan doing the catching.

PLUNGERS BOOK HOME SCHEDULE

DUBACH, La., May 21.—(Special)—The Dubach High school Plungers will play an all-home-game schedule during their 1938 gridiron campaign, according to Coach J. B. Mount, who announced that seven games had already been scheduled for the local field and that another was pending.

The Dubach team will not play a single game away from home, unless, however, they reach the Class B playoffs and contract to play in a foreign field.

The 1938 schedule was announced as follows:

Sept. 16: Open.
Sept. 23: Norphlet, Ark., here.
Sept. 30: Waskom, Tex., here.
Oct. 7: Farmerville, here.
Oct. 14: Bernice, here.
Oct. 21: Open.
Oct. 28: Benton, here.
Nov. 4: Haughton, here.
Nov. 11: (pending), here.
Nov. 18: Doyline, here.

Coach Mount made no announcement as to what team would probably fill the Armistice day date with the locals, but said a game was being contracted and would be played here.

Dubach will have a new park fence and bleacher seats for the coming season, as the Plungers prepare for what they expect to be their banner year. Arrangements for an advance ticket sale are already underway with the announcement that season tickets would go on sale on August 15.

D'MAGGIO HOLDS AMERICAN LEAD

Yankee Slugger Plays In Only Two Games But Still Tops Batters

CHICAGO, May 21.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the ace baseball swing man of the New York Yankees, clung to his American league batting leadership this week, rain, postponements and an upward surge of Boston sluggers notwithstanding.

Joe played in only two games since last Saturday and one of those was halted by rain, but semi-official averages that include games of Friday show the Yankee outfielder clubbed out three hits, two of them home runs, in his six times at bat.

Others in the "high ten" included Ben Chapman, Boston, .388; Frank Hayes, Philadelphia, .370; Earl Averill, Cleveland, .365; Joe Cronin, Boston, .363; Jimmy Foxx, Boston, .361; Cecil Travis, Washington, .356; Hank Steinbacher, Chicago, .351; Buddy Myer, Washington, .343.

Chapman led the climb of the Red Sox sluggers, his advance of 39 points sending him from ninth place to third. Cronin went from tenth to sixth on a gain of 15 points, while Foxx, who has been setting a hot pace in batting across 39 runs, jumped into the select ten for the first time.

Foxx and Hank Greenberg of Detroit each had eight home runs to continue their tie. The Red Sox also maintained ranking positions in other departments. Roger Cramer of the Hose and Cleveland's Averill each had scored 27 runs, while Cronin set the two-base hit pace with 13 and was tied with eight others for the lead in triples at three. The group included Averill and Ken Keltner of Cleveland; Buddy Lewis, Jonathan Stone and Mel Almada of Washington, Dixie Walker of Detroit, Mike Kreevich of Chicago and Bill Knickerbocker of New York.

The veteran Bob Grove of Boston added two more victories over the week to run his undefeated string for the season to seven. Vern Kennedy of Detroit was next with five in a row. Bob Feller, Cleveland's fast-ball star who has lost one game while winning five, led in strikeouts with 50.

Cleveland was the team batting leader with .287, while Washington set the pace in fielding with .978. St. Louis' 36 double plays ranked first in that division.

This week's City league games will be determining factors in deciding the league leader and cellar teams, with Spatafora's Pharmacy being under the heaviest fire. The Sunshine Cleaners are capable of upsetting the Spatafora crew tomorrow, but should Manager Bob McNeely's aggregation come through undefeated they still have Monroe Hardware waiting in the gap Wednesday.

Monroe Hardware and Spatafora's Pharmacy will provide the big game of the first round on the Plum street diamond Wednesday. Neither team has been beaten, but the league lead is slated to go to one team alone this week.

The same stands good for the cellar division. But the Presbyterians and S. E. I. No. 4 will settle the cellar question tomorrow. There are few setups in this week's games, and every team has a chance to improve its standing.

BOLT, LESLIE MEET FOR STATE GOLF TITLE

L. S. U. Wins Conference Track Crown With 66 Points

NEW ORLEANS, May 21.—(AP)—The tall Shreveporter, Tommy Bolt, and Paul Leslie, L. S. U. links captain, will fight it out tomorrow in a 36-hole match in the finals of the Louisiana state golf championship tournament.

In moving up to the finals Bolt, in a rip-roaring match over the Metairie golf club course, overtook Vincent D'Antoni of Tulane and beat him on the 18th green, one up, while Leslie blasted Edwin McClure, five-time state titlist from Shreveport, out of the afternoon's semi-finals, 5 and 4.

Bolt dogged D'Antoni as the cool Greenie banged off birdie after birdie. The match boiled down to two putts for birdies on the 18th green, D'Antoni chipping his third five feet from the pin and Bolt following that fine shot by chipping his ball inside and about three feet away.

The Tulanian sized up the putt but his ball broke away to the right, missing for the birdie. Bolt rolled the three-footer right down the middle for the birdie that won the hole and match.

The Shreveporter earlier in the day marched into the semi-finals with an easy 4 to 3 victory over the veteran, Reuben G. Bush, Jr., medalist of this 19th annual tournament. D'Antoni, former city and Southeastern conference champion, moved up to the match with Bolt by beating Bobby Monsted, 3 and 2, in the morning's quarter-finals.

Leslie grappled with McClure after trimming Leonard Vann, 3 and 1. Leslie showed the large gallery he probably is on edge for the championship match tomorrow by his even par performance for 14 holes against the seasoned campaigner, McClure.

Tomorrow's tilt looms as one of the finest ever played in the tournament's history for it pairs the 22-year-old, poker-faced Shreveporter—who has played sensational golf since winning the qualifying medal with a brilliant 70—with Leslie, a veteran at 21 years of age.

Bolt's battle with D'Antoni was uphill after the fifth hole, where the Tulanian chipped in a 30-footer for his third birdie to go three up, but the Shreveporter played beautifully except for a lapse on the 16th.

Bolt hooked his drive down the narrow 16th fairway and his ball hit a tree and dropped in high grass. The players had gone to that hole with D'Antoni on top, one up. But the Greenie pushed his drive into the rough behind a tree.

Bolt played out too strong and got into the rough. D'Antoni went out of bounds and had to play another ball. The Shreveporter's third landed on the front fringe. D'Antoni's fourth was on the back fringe. Bolt chipped up within six inches of the cup and the Tulanian failed to make his long chip shot drop for a half and the match was even.

Against McClure Leslie hit his best stride of the tournament, doing nicely around the greens while Edwin was having trouble with his putter. The former western amateur champion won the second with a birdie four after reaching the green in two as McClure was trapped. From there on Leslie held the upper hand.

ROSS, ARMSTRONG TO MEET THURSDAY

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—The question of what happens when a good big man and a good little man meet will lure thousands to Madison Square Garden's Long Island City Bowl when the eastern outdoor boxing season gets underway next week.

Barney Ross, world welterweight champion, will lay his title on the line against Henry Armstrong, Los Angeles negro who holds the featherweight crown, in a 15-round bout Thursday night.

Ross' experience plus the fact that he will have a five or six pound weight advantage has made him a 5 to 7 shot to give the fast, swift punching Armstrong his second reverse in 37 fights.

Ross, who has won two easy bouts since defending his title against Ceferino Garcia last year, has worked hard at his camp at Ferndale and appears ready to go. All agree however, he must be in the very pink of condition to stand up against the negro's savage attack.

Barney's handlers predict a knockout in five rounds. Armstrong's managers say their man will turn the trick in ten or eleven.

Armstrong is the younger and the harder puncher, Ross the cleverer, and nobody anywhere near his division can outbox him.

LOCALS PROTECT LEAD AND WIN

ney, Taylor and Fullerton each hit safely twice. Amelung and Paratore, new Greenwood catcher, led the local attack with two hits each.

The Monroe club made two errors and the Little Dodgers miscued four times. The Monroe club made four double plays and otherwise gave Fullerton sensational support afield.

Greenville maintained its wide lead in the Cotton States league Saturday night by a tight victory over El Dorado, 2 to 1. Galeria for the Buckshots and Hawley for the Lions each allowed six hits but the latter's mates booted away the ball game with six errors. Galeria had perfect support afield and a ninth inning uprising by the Lions failed to turn the tide.

The loss pulled the Lions down into third place while Helena, with a 1 to 0 win over Hot Springs, moved upstairs to the No. 2 spot in the league standings which are now unofficial.

The Seaporters made nine safe blows off Zalasko but he kept them so well scattered that it was only in the final frame that the winning run—the only one of the game—was made against him.

Last-place Monroe rose up in their game with Greenwood, banged out eleven safe knocks, and won in a walk, 8 to 4. Fullerton went all the way for the White Sox, allowed nine hits, but always in front because of his mates' heavy clubwork. Nevertheless the Sox remained on the bottom of the league heap.

But Pine Bluff moved up a notch—to fifth place over Greenwood—by trimming Clarksdale, 5 to 3. The Judges got out in front in the second inning with a single tally, added four more in the seventh, and that was the end of the ball game for the Red Sox splurged with three markers in the eighth frame—and could do no better.

Jim Morris, league statistician, said tonight in effect that the league standings were in doubt because the official scorers of the loop haven't been sending him the results of recently played games.

STANDING IN DOUBT

SHREVEPORT, La., May 21.—(AP)—Officially, the present standing of the teams in the Cotton States flag race is in doubt. This much was practically admitted at league headquarters here tonight when Jim Morris, league statistician, said that until official scorers rush results of games played recently there is no way of telling the correct positions of the clubs in the pennant scramble.

Morris, son of the league president, J. Walter Morris, said that his requests for the rushing of box scores by official scorers in several cities failed to gain response.

EVANGELINE LEAGUE

(By Associated Press)

Lake Charles still was in first place in the Evangeline league tonight—but by the slimmest of margins—for while the Rayne Rice Birds were clubbing the Skippers into submission, 12 to 2, the Opelousas Indians, crowding the top rung, hammered out a 4 to 2 victory over cellar-dwelling Jeanefette.

The Rice Birds, getting off to a lead in the first inning, were never headed and pounded Black for fifteen hits The Skips got to Mann for 7 safe knocks but could turn them into only two runs.

The Indians had tougher going with Jeanerette Blues but outhit them and were never really in danger of dropping the ball game.

Lafayette's Robertson allowed Alexandria ten hits but he bore down after a bad first inning and struck out eleven Aces so his mates could win, 9 to 3. The White Sox got to Mueller for four markers in the first inning and that would have been enough to coast on but they rose up in the fifth frame and put five more runs across.

The victory meant a boost upstairs for the Sox. They displaced Abbeville in fourth place for the Athletics were busy losing to New Iberia, 9 to 5. The Cardinals bunched their 12 hits but Caraway went the route for the Athletics. The Athletics' stick work wasn't bad but they couldn't do the right things at the right time.

2 RECORDS FALL IN ANNUAL MEET AT BIRMINGHAM

Auburn Finishes Second To Nose Out Georgia; Tigers Break Relay Mark

By Kenneth Gregory

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 21.—(AP)—The golden-shirted athletes of Louisiana State university ran away with the Southeastern conference track and field championship today on Legion field.

In winning the championship for the fifth time in the last six years, Louisiana State scored 66 points. Auburn surprised by finishing in second place with 38 points, edging out Georgia's Bulldogs, the defending titleholders, who collected 36 1-2 points.

Two records fell during the afternoon in events where they were not expected to be threatened. Wayne Downey of the University of Alabama scored over the bar in the pole vault at 13 feet, 6 1-4 inches for a new mark and the Louisiana State mile relay sped to a new record in that event.

The L. S. U. speedsters Rachal, Torros, Burge and Church, traveled the distance in 3 minutes, 16.5 seconds. Auburn held the old record of 3 minutes, 17.7 seconds.

Downey's pole vault height shattered the 13 feet 4 1-4 inches established here a year ago by Arnold Bryan of Louisiana State. Auburn had held the relay record.

Louisiana State and Georgia each won three firsts and the victorious Tigers tied for another first place. Auburn won one first and tied for another.

To Charley Belcher of Georgia Tech and Millard White of Tulane went individual honors.

Belcher raced to victory in his specialty, the 440-yard dash, winning by 10 yards over Drane Mauldin of Mississippi State in 47 seconds, just .2 slower than the record made in 1934 by Glen (Slats) Hardin of Louisiana State.

The Georgia Tech ace also sped home ahead of the field in the 220-yard low hurdles, a race that saw Geogia's young sophomore star, Vassa (Gus) Cate, hit the third hurdle from the finish and fall. Cate was slightly in front of Belcher at the time and that mishap cost Georgia second place. The time for the race was 23.6 as compared to Hardin's record of 23.3 seconds.

White's two victories came in the shot put and discus. His marks were made in yesterday's qualifying trials and were not beaten today. He had 147 feet 2 1-4 inches in the discus and 48 feet, 4 5-8 inches in the shot put. Neither was close to the record.

Halliburton Ware of Louisiana State, beaten by inches in the century by Cate, grabbed a first place in the 220-yard dash for Louisiana State in the slow time of 21.8 seconds. Jake Waterer of Louisiana State broke the tape ahead of Cate in the 120-yard high hurdles in one of the best races of the day.

Charles (Chick) Aldridge of Georgia Tech, the record holder in the two-mile run, was not pressed in winning by close to 100 yards over George Schmitt of Louisiana State in 9 minutes 43.9 seconds.

Little Henry Frederiksen of Georgia, trailing most of the way, put on a great finish around the stretch turn to win the mile run by around eight yards over Brumfield of Mississippi State, who came up fast to overtake Frank Church, star Louisiana State sophomore. The time was 4 minutes and 22 seconds.

Hugh Shelton of Louisiana State and Chuck Morgan of Auburn tied for first in the high jump with six feet, 3 1-3-16 inches.

Point-scoring in the order of the finish back of third-place Georgia was Tulane 23; Georgia Tech 20 3-4; Mississippi State 17; Vanderbilt 11; Alabama 5 3-4; Tennessee 5, and Kentucky 2.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Add comeback hopefuls: Charley Retzlaff, North Dakota heavyweight. . . . Most of us thought he took enough from Joe Louis to last a lifetime. . . . Reynolds Smith, American Walker cupper, writes an interesting golf column in a Dallas paper. . . . First thing Joe Jacobs did after Tony Galento almost knocked Nathan Mann's head off was to hire a secretary for the firm. . . . She is a pip and looks as though she may have been plucked from the first row of the best chorus in town. . . . The training siege Henry Armstrong is taking for Barney Ross constitutes the longest on the negro's record.

Footbal tip: Keep an eye on a youngster at Wisconsin named Johnny Tennant. . . . He's big, his passing is excellent and, if Henry J. McCormick isn't fooling in the State Journal at Madison, can run as fast as one of those rabbits down in Chatham county, North Carolina . . . and boys, how them 'ere rabbits can go!

Fighting Fox and Bull Lea are the most over-rated nags of the season in your agent's books. . . . That is Bill Terry you hear hollering "ouch." . . . Joe Medwick of the Cardinals took one look at Brooklyn's new green and white home uniforms and screamed: "What did they do—swap with the ushers?" . . . Look out! . . . Sweetwater, Tex., which gave us Sammy Baugh, is threatening to sieze the spotlight again with a welterweight named Lou Jenkins, who they say is a honey. . . . Five pro fights for Mr. Jenkins—and five knockouts.

While vacationing at Hot Springs rencently, Henry Armstrong fell in love with a speedboat parked there by George Raft, the movie star. . . . Somebody put Raft wise and yesterday he wired Henry: "Most of us here in California have sizeable bets on you. . . . Win that fight and the speedboat is yours."

Real trouble is that the Poo Bahs in both Ross' and Armstrong's camps are afraid their pets will go stale before the big fight. . . . Armstrong will finish paying off a $100,000 annuity this year which will net him around $100 per week for the rest of his life. . . . But he says he'll keep right on fighting until Manager Eddie Mead tells him to quit. . . . Since the Cards sold Dizzy Dean, "Wild Bill" McGoogan of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch has been made No. 1 rooter for the Cards. . . . Bill always did sweat blood when the team was losing, but he didn't come into his own until the knockers began knocking.

Washington fans by the dozens are giving us the old razzberry for quoting the Cubs as voting their Stan Hack the best third sacker in the majors. . . . The capital rooters say the Cubs should drop over and have a look at Buddy Lewis, who everybody in Washington thinks is tops. . . . Such spirit reminds the writer of the old days in the Piedmont and South Atlantic leagues, when all the town big shots and a brass band went down to the union station at Charlotte, N. C., every time a new pitcher reported.

ONE-DAY TOURNEY SLATED AT HODGE

Advance Golf Club To Hold Annual Golf Meet On Sunday, May 29

HODGE, La., May 21.—(Special)—Invitations have been issued to approximately 150 golfers of north Louisiana for the second annual one-day tournament on Sunday, May 29, sponsored by the Advance Golf and Country club. At least 125 entrants are expected to compete for the crown won by Jimmy Davis of Ruston in last year's inaugural event.

A $10,000 club house, one of the finest of the state, has been recently built and will be used for the first time during the tournament.

The program for the day provides for a nine-hole qualifying round to be played before 10 o'clock. All players then will be divided into flights, with eight to the flight, and first-round matches begin at 10 o'clock. Second-round matches and first-round consolation matches begin immediately after lunch. The finals will be played later in the afternoon and prizes awarded at 6 o'clock.

Prizes, consisting of a trophy to the winner of the championship flight and golf paraphernalia to the medalist, winner, runner-up and consolation winner of each flight, will be given.

The local course was constructed in 1934 and is now in its best condition. Although only 3,100 yards in length, its bunkers and narrow fairways make it a fairly difficult layout. There are no sand traps and par for the nine holes is 36. The fairways and tee stands are heavily sodded and the grass greens are in fair shape.

Among those who attended the tournament last year and are expected back are Jimmy Davis, defending champion; Billy Thurmon and Floyd Pearce of Ruston; Edwin McClure, W. E. Hicks, N. W. McClure, C. G. Laskey and Randolph Marston of Shreveport; Ray Bradford and Fred Corley of Alexandria; Jimmy Tisdale and Brice Pirtle of Bastrop, and Paul Stinson, Ralph Wheat and Wilbur McDonald of Jonesboro.

Fred Hines, club pro, says that although special invitations have been issued the affair is open to any amateur who wishes to compete.

METEOR AS LARGE AS MOON SIGHTED

A dazzlingly bright meteor which appeared as large as the moon was seen shortly after midnight last night by three members of the crew of the United Gas company compressor station near Alto, according to a report telephoned to the Monroe Morning World, shortly after that time, by G. A. Younger, one of the members of the crew. Others who witnessed the startling and unusual sight were A. R. Pogue and C. A. Burney.

Mr. Younger said he had never seen "anything like it" before and that he thought at first the world was coming to an end. The meteor, which at first was almost directly over head, shot down like a flash, seemed to explode and then disappeared to the northeast behind a cooling tower.

Five major league clubs had at first refused to waive on him, and for good reason. A skillful fielder, he batted .350 during his brief stay in Columbus this spring.

While Judge Landis denied Siebert a free agency, it is significant that he was at once swapped to the A's for three players.

TULANE'S FAMED ENDS MEET AGAIN IN MONROE

The ends of Tulane university's famed Rose Bowl team, who played their last game together in the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, Calif., in 1932, were drawn together again in Monroe yesterday when Jerry Dalrymple, captain of the '31 Green Wave, met Vernon "Lefty" Haynes, now coach at Ouachita Parish High school here.

"Lefty," who coached at Warren Easton in New Orleans before coming here, has been in Monroe since 1935, and Jerry has been coaching at Brown university, Providence, R. I.

But it was vacation time for the Dalrymples and they decided to head south to visit relatives and renew old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalrymple, with their two sons, Gerald "Fussy," Jr., and Brent, spent the past few days with Jerry's folks in Arkansas, and are now en route for a visit with Mrs. Dalrymple's parents at New Orleans.

However, they expect to remain in Monroe through today, having planned a short visit with Mrs. Dalrymple's brother, Phillip Benedict, 1112 Jackson street. The Dalrymples are expected to leave here early tomorrow morning.

ROBERTS AT POLE FOR SPEED RACE

Veteran Of 22 Years Of Racing Tops Qualifiers At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, May 21.—(AP)—Dark Horse Floyd Roberts, a veteran of 22 years of racing from Van Nuys, Calif., won the pole position today for the Indianapolis Memorial day 500 mile race with a record breaking 24 mile qualifying run but it was Kelly Petillo of Los Angeles who furnished the thrills for 25,000 rain-drenched spectators.

Ten minutes later Petillo, driving the same car in which he won the race in 1935, took the track and roared through nine of the ten laps at 126.361 miles an hour but just as he crossed the tape at the end of the ninth time around the track the right rear tire gave way.

By masterful driving Petillo kept the car in a straight course and was slowed down to a walk by the time he went into the southwest curve.

Kelly wanted to try again but speedway officials ruled the day's time for qualifying had expired. He still has two more chances.

Nine drivers in all qualified their cars in the first day of the tests.

The lineup for the first three rows for the race if none is crowded out by faster cars is:

Second row: Tony Gulotta of Detroit, 122.499; Chet Miller of Detroit, 121.898; Ted Horn of Los Angeles, 121.327.

held the locals to ties in two of their three games.

The Kilgore Junior college of Kilgore, Tex., which faced Center for the first time last year, will be back this year.

The complete schedule:

September 23: Oklahoma Military academy, here.
September 29: College of Marshall, here.
October 7: Kilgore Junior college, at Kilgore (night).
October 13: Open.
October 20: L. S. U. Freshmen, here (night).
October 27: Copiah-Lincoln, here (night).
November 4: United States Naval Air Corps, here.
November 18: Arkansas A. and M., at Monticello, Ark.
November 24: Northern Illinois State, here.

While the schedule for next autumn is expected to be tougher, Coach Malone is expected to be able to meet the opposition with another strong eleven. The Tribe even expects to continue its "two-team" plan next fall as the reserve material coming up shows indications of being just about as good as the returning lettermen.

Last season was the most impressive in the history of the local school's football activities. In eight games played the Malonemen scored a total of 307 points against only 20 points for the opposition, but they had their hopes of an all-victorious year shattered when Coach "Red" Swanson's Southeastern team held them to a draw. Coach Swanson, who has annually given the Tribe trouble with his Hammond eleven, will fly new colors against Center in October as coach of L. S. U.'s frosh. Southeastern's destiny will be guided by Roy Stovall and Jess Fatherree, who are well known in athletic circles of the state.

In the four seasons Coach Malone has directed the Indians, the locals have played 34 games. They chalked up 24 victories, lost seven and tied three. In those 34 games they scored a total of 703 points against 171 for their opponents. In 1935 the Redmen were undefeated and untied. They won eight games that year, and only a lone six points by Southeastern was scored against them.

BOLT, LESLIE MEET FOR STATE GOLF TITLE

NEW ORLEANS, May 21.—(AP)—The tall Shreveporter, Tommy Bolt, and Paul Leslie, L. S. U. links captain, will fight it out tomorrow in a 36-hole match in the finals of the Louisiana state golf championship tournament.

In moving up to the finals Bolt, in a rip-roaring match over the Metairie golf club course, overtook Vincent D'Antoni of Tulane and beat him on the 18th green, one up, while Leslie blasted Edwin McClure, five-time state titlist from Shreveport, out of the afternoon's semi-finals, 5 and 4.

Bolt dogged D'Antoni as the cool Greenie banged off birdie after birdie. The match boiled down to two putts for birdies on the 18th green, D'Antoni chipping his third five feet from the pin and Bolt following that fine shot by chipping his ball inside and about three feet away.

The Tulanian sized up the putt but his ball broke away to the right, missing for the birdie. Bolt rolled the three-footer right down the middle for the birdie that won the hole and match.

The Shreveporter earlier in the day marched into the semi-finals with an easy 4 to 3 victory over the veteran, Reuben G. Bush, Jr., medalist of this 19th annual tournament. D'Antoni, former city and Southeastern conference champion, moved up to the match with Bolt by beating Bobby Monsted, 3 and 2, in the morning's quarter-finals.

Leslie grappled with McClure after trimming Leonard Vann, 3 and 1. Leslie showed the large gallery he probably is on edge for the championship match tomorrow by his even par performance for 14 holes against the seasoned campaigner, McClure.

Tomorrow's tilt looms as one of the finest ever played in the tournament's history for it pairs the 22-year-old, poker-faced Shreveporter—who has played sensational golf since winning the qualifying medal with a brilliant 70—with Leslie, a veteran at 21 years of age.

Bolt's battle with D'Antoni was uphill after the fifth hole, where the Tulanian chipped in a 30-footer for his third birdie to go three up, but the Shreveporter played beautifully except for a lapse on the 16th.

Bolt hooked his drive down the narrow 16th fairway and his ball hit a tree and dropped in high grass. The players had gone to that hole with D'Antoni on top, one up. But the Greenie pushed his drive into the rough behind a tree.

Bolt played out too strong and got into the rough. D'Antoni went out of bounds and had to play another ball. The Shreveporter's third landed on the front fringe. D'Antoni's fourth was on the back fringe. Bolt chipped up within six inches of the cup and the Tulanian failed to make his long chip shot drop for a half and the match was even.

Cards:

Par out	453	444	345	—36
Bolt out	453	444	344	—35
D'Antoni out	343	434	345	—33

Bolt in	443	454	534	—36	—71
D'Antoni in	534	454	635	—39	—72

Against McClure Leslie hit his best stride of the tournament, doing nicely around the greens while Edwin was having trouble with his putter. The former western amateur champion won the second with a birdie four after reaching the green in two as McClure was trapped. From there on Leslie held the upper hand.

ROSS, ARMSTRONG TO MEET THURSDAY

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—The question of what happens when a good big man and a good little man meet will lure thousands to Madison Square Garden's Long Island City Bowl when the eastern outdoor boxing season gets underway next week.

Barney Ross, world welterweight champion, will lay his title on the line against Henry Armstrong, Los Angeles negro who holds the featherweight crown, in a 15-round bout Thursday night.

Ross' experience plus the fact that he will have a five or six pound weight advantage has made him a 5 to 7 shot to give the fast, swift punching Armstrong his second reverse in 37 fights.

Ross, who has won two easy bouts since defending his title against Ceferino Garcia last year, has worked hard at his camp at Ferndale and appears ready to go. All agree however, he must be in the very pink of condition to stand up against the negro's savage attack.

Barney's handlers predict a knockout in five rounds. Armstrong's managers say their man will turn the trick in ten or eleven.

Armstrong is the younger and the harder puncher, Ross the cleverer, and nobody anywhere near his division can outbox him.

ney, Taylor and Fullerton each hit safely twice. Amelung and Paratore, new Greenwood catcher, led the local attack with two hits each.

The Monroe club made two errors and the Little Dodgers miscued four times. The Monroe club made four double plays and otherwise gave Fullerton sensational support afield.

Greenville maintained its wide lead in the Cotton States league Saturday night by a tight victory over El Dorado, 2 to 1. Galeria for the Buckshots and Hawley for the Lions each allowed six hits but the latter's mates booted away the ball game with six errors. Galeria had perfect support afield and a ninth inning uprising by the Lions failed to turn the tide.

The loss pulled the Lions down into third place while Helena, with a 1 to 0 win over Hot Springs, moved upstairs to the No. 2 spot in the league standings which are now unofficial.

The Seaporters made nine safe blows off Zalasko but he kept them so well scattered that it was only in the final frame that the winning run—the only one of the game—was made against him.

Last-place Monroe rose up in their game with Greenwood, banged out eleven safe knocks, and won in a walk, 8 to 4. Fullerton went all the way for the White Sox, allowed nine hits, but always in front because of his mates' heavy clubwork. Nevertheless the Sox remained on the bottom of the league heap.

But Pine Bluff moved up a notch—to fifth place over Greenwood—by trimming Clarksdale, 5 to 3. The Judges got out in front in the second inning with a single tally, added four more in the seventh, and that was the end of the ball game for the Red Sox splurged with three markers in the eighth frame—and could do no better.

Jim Morris, league statistician, said tonight in effect that the league standings were in doubt because the official scorers of the loop haven't been sending him the results of recently played games.

STANDING IN DOUBT

SHREVEPORT, La., May 21.—(AP)—Officially, the present standing of the teams in the Cotton States flag race is in doubt. This much was practically admitted at league headquarters here tonight when Jim Morris, league statistician, said that until official scorers rush results of games played recently there is no way of telling the correct positions of the clubs in the pennant scramble.

Morris, son of the league president, J. Walter Morris, said that his requests for the rushing of box scores by official scorers in several cities failed to gain response.

EVANGELINE LEAGUE

(By Associated Press)

Lake Charles still was in first place in the Evangeline league tonight—but by the slimmest of margins—for while the Rayne Rice Birds were clubbing the Skippers into submission, 12 to 2, the Opelousas Indians, crowding the top rung, hammered out a 4 to 2 victory over cellar-dwelling Jeanerette.

The Rice Birds, getting off to a lead in the first inning, were never headed and pounded Black for fifteen hits The Skips got to Mann for 7 safe knocks but could turn them into only two runs.

The Indians had tougher going with Jeanerette Blues but outhit them and were never really in danger of dropping the ball game.

Lafayette's Robertson allowed Alexandria ten hits but he bore down after a bad first inning and struck out eleven Aces so his mates could win, 9 to 3. The White Sox got to Mueller for four markers in the first inning and that would have been enough to coast on but they rose up in the fifth frame and put five more runs across.

The victory meant a boost upstairs for the Sox. They displaced Abbeville in fourth place for the Athletics were busy losing to New Iberia, 9 to 5. The Cardinals bunched their 12 hits but Caraway went the route for the Athletics. The Athletics' stick work wasn't bad but they couldn't do the right things at the right time.

2 RECORDS FALL IN ANNUAL MEET AT BIRMINGHAM

Auburn Finishes Second To Nose Out Georgia; Tigers Break Relay Mark

By Kenneth Gregory

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 21.—(AP)—The golden-shirted athletes of Louisiana State university ran away with the Southeastern conference track and field championship today on Legion field.

In winning the championship for the fifth time in the last six years, Louisiana State scored 66 points. Auburn surprised by finishing in second place with 38 points, edging out Georgia's Bulldogs, the defending titleholders, who collected 36 1-2 points.

Two records fell during the afternoon in events where they were not expected to be threatened. Wayne Downey of the University of Alabama scored over the bar in the pole vault at 13 feet, 6 1-4 inches for a new mark and the Louisiana State mile relay sped to a new record in that event.

The L. S. U. speedsters Rachal, Torros, Burge and Church, traveled the distance in 3 minutes, 16.5 seconds. Auburn held the old record of 3 minutes, 17.7 seconds.

Downey's pole vault height shattered the 13 feet 4 1-4 inches established here a year ago by Arnold Bryan of Louisiana State. Auburn had held the relay record.

Louisiana State and Georgia each won three firsts and the victorious Tigers tied for another first place. Auburn won one first and tied for another.

To Charley Belcher of Georgia Tech and Millard White of Tulane went individual honors.

Belcher raced to victory in his specialty, the 440-yard dash, winning by 10 yards over Drane Mauldin of Mississippi State in 47 seconds, just .2 slower than the record made in 1934 by Glen (Slats) Hardin of Louisiana State.

The Georgia Tech ace also sped home ahead of the field in the 220-yard low hurdles, a race that saw Geogia's young sophomore star, Vassa (Gus) Cate, hit the third hurdle from the finish and fall. Cate was slightly in front of Belcher at the time and that mishap cost Georgia second place. The time for the race was 23.6 as compared to Hardin's record of 23.3 seconds.

White's two victories came in the shot put and discus. His marks were made in yesterday's qualifying trials and were not beaten today. He had 147 feet 2 1-4 inches in the discus and 48 feet, 4 5-8 inches in the shot put. Neither was close to the record.

Halliburton Ware of Louisiana State, beaten by inches in the century by Cate, grabbed a first place in the 220-yard dash for Louisiana State in the slow time of 21.8 seconds. Jake Waterer of Louisiana State broke the tape ahead of Cate in the 120-yard high hurdles in one of the best races of the day.

Charles (Chick) Aldridge of Georgia Tech, the record holder in the two-mile run, was not pressed in winning by close to 100 yards over George Schmitt of Louisiana State in 9 minutes 43.9 seconds.

Little Henry Frederiksen of Georgia, trailing most of the way, put on a great finish around the stretch turn to win the mile run by around eight yards over Brumfield of Mississippi State, who came up fast to overtake Frank Church, star Louisiana State sophomore. The time was 4 minutes and 22 seconds.

Hugh Shelton of Louisiana State and Chuck Morgan of Auburn tied for first in the high jump with six feet, 3 1-3-16 inches.

Point-scoring in the order of the finish back of third-place Georgia was Tulane 23; Georgia Tech 20 3-4; Mississippi State 17; Vanderbilt 11; Alabama 5 3-4; Tennessee 5, and Kentucky 2.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Add comeback hopefuls: Charley Retzlaff, North Dakota heavyweight. . . . Most of us thought he took enough from Joe Louis to last a lifetime. . . . Reynolds Smith, American Walker cupper, writes an interesting golf column in a Dallas paper. . . . First thing Joe Jacobs did after Tony Galento almost knocked Nathan Mann's head off was to hire a secretary for the firm. . . . She is a pip and looks as though she may have been plucked from the first row of the best chorus in town. . . . The training siege Henry Armstrong is taking for Barney Ross constitutes the longest on the negro's record.

Footbal tip: Keep an eye on a youngster at Wisconsin named Jonny Tennant. . . . He's big, his passing is excellent and, if Henry J. McCormick isn't fooling in the State Journal at Madison, can run as fast as one of those rabbits down in Chatham county, North Carolina . . . and boys, how them 'ere rabbits can go!

Fighting Fox and Bull Lea are the most over-rated nags of the season in your agent's books. . . . That is Bill Terry you hear hollering "ouch." . . Joe Medwick of the Cardinals took one look at Brooklyn's new green and white home uniforms and screamed: "What did they do—swap with the ushers?" . . . Look out! . . . Sweetwater, Tex., which gave us Sammy Baugh, is threatening to sieze the spotlight again with a welterweight named Lou Jenkins, who they say is a honey. . . . Five pro fights for Mr. Jenkins—and five knockouts.

While vacationing at Hot Springs recently, Henry Armstrong fell in love with a speedboat parked there by George Raft, the movie star. . . . Somebody put Raft wise and yesterday he wired Henry: "Most of us here in California have sizeable bets on you. . . . Win that fight and the speedboat is yours."

Real trouble is that the Poo Bahs in both Ross' and Armstrong's camps are afraid their pets will go stale before the big fight. . . . Armstrong will finish paying off a $100,000 annuity this year which will net him around $100 per week for the rest of his life. . . . But he says he'll keep right on fighting until Manager Eddie Mead tells him to quit. . . . Since the Cards sold Dizzy Dean, "Wild Bill" McGoogan of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch has been made No. 1 rooter for the Cards. . . . Bill always did sweat blood when the team was losing, but he didn't come into his own until the knockers began knocking.

Washington fans by the dozens are giving us the old razzberry for quoting the Cubs as voting their Stan Hack the best third sacker in the majors. . . . The capital rooters say the Cubs should drop over and have a look at Buddy Lewis, who everybody in Washington thinks is tops. . . . Such spirit reminds the writer of the old days in the Piedmont and South Atlantic leagues, when all the town big shots and a brass band went down to the union station at Charlotte, N. C., every time a new pitcher reported.

ONE-DAY TOURNEY SLATED AT HODGE

Advance Golf Club To Hold Annual Golf Meet On Sunday, May 29

HODGE, La., May 21.—(Special)—Invitations have been issued to approximately 150 golfers of north Louisiana for the second annual one-day tournament on Sunday, May 29, sponsored by the Advance Golf and Country club. At least 125 entrants are expected to compete for the crown won by Jimmy Davis of Ruston in last year's inaugural event.

A $10,000 club house, one of the finest of the state, has been recently built and will be used for the first time during the tournament.

The program for the day provides for a nine-hole qualifying round to be played before 10 o'clock. All players then will be divided into flights, with eight to the flight, and first-round matches begin at 10 o'clock. Second-round matches and first-round consolation matches begin immediately after lunch. The finals will be played later in the afternoon and prizes awarded at 6 o'clock.

Prizes, consisting of a trophy to the winner of the championship flight and golf paraphernalia to the medalist, winner, runner-up and consolation winner of each flight, will be given.

The local course was constructed in 1934 and is now in its best condition. Although only 3,100 yards in length, its bunkers and narrow fairways make it a fairly difficult layout. There are no sand traps and par for the nine holes is 36. The fairways and tee stands are heavily sodded and the grass greens are in fair shape.

Among those who attended the tournament last year and are expected back are Jimmy Davis, defending champion; Billy Thurmon and Floyd Pearce of Ruston; Edwin McClure, W. E. Hicks, N. W. McClure, C. G. Laskey and Randolph Marston of Shreveport; Ray Bradford and Fred Corley of Alexandria, Jimmy Tisdale and Brice Pirtle of Bastrop, and Paul Stinson, Ralph Wheat and Wilbur McDonald of Jonesboro.

Fred Hines, club pro, says that although special invitations have been issued the affair is open to any amateur who wishes to compete.

METEOR AS LARGE AS MOON SIGHTED

A dazzlingly bright meteor which appeared as large as the moon was seen shortly after midnight last night by three members of the crew of the United Gas company compressor station near Alto, according to a report telephoned to the Monroe Morning World, shortly after that time, by G. A. Younger, one of the members of the crew. Others who witnessed the startling and unusual sight were A. R. Pogue and C. A. Burney.

Mr. Younger said he had never seen "anything like it" before and that he thought at first the world was coming to an end. The meteor, which at first was almost directly over head, shot down like a flash, seemed to explode and then disappeared to the northeast behind a cooling tower.

TULANE'S FAMED ENDS MEET AGAIN IN MONROE

The ends of Tulane university's famed Rose Bowl team, who played their last game together in the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, Calif., in 1932, were drawn together again in Monroe yesterday when Jerry Dalrymple, captain of the '31 Green Wave, met Vernon "Lefty" Haynes, now coach at Ouachita Parish High school here.

"Lefty," who coached at Warren Easton in New Orleans before coming here, has been in Monroe since 1935, and Jerry has been coaching at Brown university, Providence, R. I.

But it was vacation time for the Dalrymples and they decided to head south to visit relatives and renew old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalrymple, with their two sons, Gerald "Fussy," Jr., and Brent, spent the past few days with Jerry's folks in Arkansas, and are now en route for a visit with Mrs. Dalrymple's parents at New Orleans.

However, they expect to remain in Monroe through today, having planned a short visit with Mrs. Dalrymple's brother, Phillip Benedict, 1112 Jackson street. The Dalrymples are expected to leave here early tomorrow morning.

ROBERTS AT POLE FOR SPEED RACE

Veteran Of 22 Years Of Racing Tops Qualifiers At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, May 21.—(AP)—Dark Horse Floyd Roberts, a veteran of 22 years of racing from Van Nuys, Calif., won the pole position today for the Indianapolis Memorial day 500 mile race with a record breaking 24 mile qualifying run but it was Kelly Petillo of Los Angeles who furnished the thrills for 25,000 rain-drenched spectators.

Ten minutes later Petillo, driving the same car in which he won the race in 1935, took the track and roared through nine of the ten laps at 126.361 miles an hour but just as he crossed the tape at the end of the ninth time around the track the right rear tire gave way.

By masterful driving Petillo kept the car in a straight course and was slowed down to a walk by the time he went into the southwest curve.

Kelly wanted to try again but speedway officials ruled the day's time for qualifying had expired. He still has two more chances.

Nine drivers in all qualified their cars in the first day of the tests.

The lineup for the first three rows for the race if none is crowded out by faster cars is:

held the locals to ties in two of their three games.

The Kilgore Junior college of Kilgore, Tex., which faced Center for the first time last year, will be back this year.

The complete schedule:

September 23: Oklahoma Military academy, here.

September 29: College of Marshall, here.

October 7: Kilgore Junior college, at Kilgore (night).

October 13: Open.

October 20: L. S. U. Freshmen, here (night).

October 27: Copiah-Lincoln, here (night).

November 4: United States Naval Air Corps, here.

November 18: Arkansas A. and M., at Monticello, Ark.

November 24: Northern Illinois State, here.

While the schedule for next autumn is expected to be tougher, Coach Malone is expected to be able to meet the opposition with another strong eleven. The Tribe even expects to continue its "two-team" plan next fall as the reserve material coming up shows indications of being just about as good as the returning lettermen.

Last season was the most impressive in the history of the local school's football activities. In eight games played the Malonemen scored a total of 307 points against only 20 points for the opposition, but they had their hopes of an all-victorious year shattered when Coach "Red" Swanson's Southeastern team held them to a draw. Coach Swanson, who has annually given the Tribe trouble with his Hammond eleven, will fly new colors against Center in October as coach of L. S. U.'s frosh. Southeastern's destiny will be guided by Roy Stovall and Jess Fatherree, who are well known in athletic circles of the state.

In the four seasons Coach Malone has directed the Indians, the locals have played 34 games. They chalked up 24 victories, lost seven and tied three. In these 34 games they scored a total of 703 points against 171 for their opponents. In 1935 the Redmen were undefeated and untied. They won eight games that year, and only a lone six points by Southeastern was scored against them.

SLAYING OF TWO AROUSES TENSION

tan Germans were killed on the eve of municipal elections.

The defense ministry hastily called to the colors one class of army reserves and secondary reserves "for extraordinary duty" to strengthen the country's 190,000-man army.

Officials denied Budapest reports that Czechoslovakia had closed her borders with Poland and Germany and four points on the Czechoslovakia-Hungarian frontier.

"Traffic is regular," it was stated.

(Budapest sources also reported troops were being moved on both sides of the Czechoslovak-German border, the Czechoslovaks behind sandbag barricades.)

The pre-election disorders thrust into the open the difficulties between the government and the nation's minority of 3,500,000 Germans.

Fears were aroused concerning the next international step of mighty Nazi Germany which bounds the western half of Czechoslovakia on three sides with a band of steel.

The elections tomorrow—for local councils—are only the first of a series to extend until mid-June.

They do not constitute a plebiscite on the German minority's program for autonomy but are considered significant as a test of the minority's strength.

The two men killed were members of the Sudeten German party led by stocky, bespectacled Konrad Henlein. They were shot by Czechoslovak border guards near the German border.

Dispatches to Warsaw newspapers stating seven persons were killed during riots in this war-created republic yesterday were unconfirmed.

President Eduard Benes described the present crisis in Czechoslovakia as the country's "most serious experience since the war," but added, "we are prepared."

All military organizations and police were given strict orders to see that peace is kept throughout the provinces.

The disorders underlying today's crisis date back to April 24 when Henlein, in a speech to his Sudeten German followers at Karlovy Vary (Carlsbad), presented his party and the Czech government with an eight-point demand for autonomy for Germans in Czechoslovakia, revision of the nation's foreign policy and other concessions.

The demands were supported by Nazis in Germany who feel compelled to protect the Sudeten minority from "injustices."

POLISH GOVERNMENT ASKS FOR EXPLANATION

WARSAW, May 21.—(AP)—The Polish government tonight instructed its minister to Praha to ask the Czechoslovak government for an explanation regarding reported Czech troop concentrations near the Polish frontier.

Reports reached Warsaw from Teschen, Polish minority city in Czechoslovakia near the Polish border, that troop movements had been seen there.

Families of Czech officials along the border were said to be moving into the interior.

TROOPS PLACED BEHIND BARBED WIRE BARRICADES

LONDON, May 21.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia thrust reserve troops behind barbed wire barricades today as the slaying of two Nazis brought her quarrel with her German minority toward a climax dangerous to Europe's peace.

Disorders and troop movements on the eve of municipal elections in a portion of the country sent a wave of alarm through Europe.

Diplomats were apprehensive of further violence tomorrow during the balloting in which the Nazified Sudeten German party will have their first opportunity of assuming power in local councils.

The elections will not constitute a plebiscite to determine whether the Sudeten Germans should join Germany.

Statesmen feared Germany's Adolf Hitler, who has proclaimed himself protector of Germans even outside the borders of his nation, might be planning another of his lightning week-end coups.

For the second day in succession, Britain's ambassador in Berlin, Sir Neville Henderson, demanded reassurances concerning reported heavy German troop movements toward the Czechoslovak border.

Authoritative sources in Berlin said Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, in an hour's conference with Sir Neville, repeated yesterday's statement the movements were only a part of routine training.

In Budapest, informed sources said the frontiers between Czechoslovakia and Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland and four points on the Czechoslovak-Hungarian border were closed.

Britain's foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, broke up plans for a week-end in the country and rushed back to London to remain in close touch with his foreign office. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain followed events closely.

Czechoslovakia, pledged by the government to fight if Hitler should attempt to free by force the minority of 3,500,000 Germans within the war-created republic, called up an undetermined number of reserves to bolster her 190,000-man army.

She denied she was mobilizing, official circles emphasizing that the move was made solely in order to bring troops up to full strength to keep order in view of recent disturbances.

President Eduard Benes, in a broadcast from Zabor, in southern Bohemia, urged the nation to be calm and pleaded for moderation tomorrow.

He declared the present situation in the country was its "most serious experience since the war" but added: "We are prepared."

The wave of pre-election disorders which the German press said had resulted in injuries to several hundred members of the German minority preceded the killing of two of them.

The two, Georg Hofmann and Nikolas Boehm, were shot to death early today as they were motorcycling near the German border.

A government account said the two were proceeding down a road closed to traffic by police order and failed to heed warnings to halt.

A foreign correspondent who visited the Czechoslovakian frontier district of southern Bohemia reported that during the night Czechoslovak troops moved up in trucks and trains to occupy the zone.

Most foreign observers and diplomats were agreed in believing Hitler did not plan a stroke to "liberate" the Sudeten Germans this week-end but rather was awaiting the results of the elections.

There were fears, however, that new and violent disorders might provoke him to action.

Should there be a German stroke, it was believed it would be through Czechoslovakia's comparatively unprotected frontier with Austria.

The Czechoslovaks have modern fortifications bordering Germany but Austria's union with Germany, effected March 13 and ratified April 10 in a plebiscite, caught them somewhat napping in the south.

NEW ANGLE OF OLD STORY

A three-cornered, right-angled egg containing two yolks was laid by Betty, white leghorn shown above standing proudly over her freak henfruit, for her owner, Ernest Pastor, of Cedarhurst, L. military rail traffic from Tientsin to Suchow would be established Sunday or Monday "and very soon beyond Suchow.")

Officers of General Hata's staff, who directed the assault on Suchow from the south, declared the remnants of China's central front armies were trapped and faced surrender or annihilation.

They estimated several hundred thousand Chinese were encircled by Japanese within an area of 15 by 25 miles from which there was virtually no escape.

Japanese military dispatches late tonight (Saturday) reported occupation of three towns between Kweiteh and Langfang, west of Suchow along the Lunghai.

They said two Chinese divisions retreated after losing the unidentified towns, leaving 800 dead.

The fall of Lanfeng, Japanese said, was imminent and the next step in welding the Lunghai corridor to Japan's conquests in north and central China would be Kaifeng, about 180 miles inland from Suchow.

Spread of Japan's main armies westward imperilled thousands of Chinese civilians and almost 200 foreign missionaries.

Twelve Americans were believed to be at Kaifeng, where Japanese air raids already had caused heavy damage.

American Free Methodist missionaries are stationed at Keifeng, Chenliu and Kihsien, southwest of Kaifeng.

Five Americans were believed to be at Pohsien, in northwest Anhwei province, the farthest west the Japanese have struck. They are Dr. Mary King and Miss Harriet King of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Miss Clifford Barratt of Greenwood, S. C., and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Strother of Osborn, La.

HOW'S YOUR OSCULATION?

KISS-O-METER

If the newly-invented kiss-o-meter is as accurate as it's cracked up to be, the above is osculatory perfection. P. N. Vandekieft, a student, and Dorothy White, radio actress, are shown sending the indicator as high as it will go on the device built at Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago to appraise, in the interest of science, of amorous activity. Experimenters—strictly in the interest of science, of course—grasp brass electrodes in one hand and then go into their act, registering "timid," "synthetic," "passive"—or better. If young Vandekieft and Miss White were at a carnival they would win cigars or something, because they "rang the bell."

45,126 for himself in 1,349 of the state's 1,681 precincts. This threw Hess, a former state senator and comparative unknown in many parts of Oregon, into the November general election against a former school teacher, Charles A. Sprague, who is editor of the capital's morning newspaper, the Salem Statesman. Sprague won the Republican nomination.

To the last Martin said the results had in no way "changed my convictions . . . nor my desire to be of service to the people of this state." Hess said only that he hoped the party would "go down the line in November."

Martin's was a battle on a campaign based upon suppression of labor violence, fealty to the president without "rubber stamp" submission, and no quarter for radicals.

Hess claimed Roosevelt administration support and C. I. O. and A. F. L. endorsement, the only time the two unions have agreed in Oregon.

The governor lost his battle primarily in Multnomah county (Portland) home of a third of the state's population and bitterest scene of the turmoil in the labor industry. Martin, self-styled labor champion and enemy of racketeers, lost almost every lumber county of the state, drawing most of his strength from the farm regions.

A week before voting day Stephen Early, secretary to the president, declared the president never recalled making a remark last fall, upon his visit to Bonneville dam, which the governor had quoted him as uttering. Martin said the president told him as they parted: "You and I make a good pair."

Some 48 hours later, Secretary Ickes referred to Martin as "no New Dealer at heart," and Senator Norris, Independent, Nebraska, said he was disappointed in the governor and hoped Hess would win.

HARVARD

his night-stick behind his back, but ready for use if needed.

The stock exchange of today is no longer the private club of yesterday. It is a public institution and this, perhaps, is the paramount point in the reorganization completed last week.

The old self-perpetuating board of governors—who looked upon the exchange as a gentlemen's club—is gone. The new board is dominated by those who favor cooperation with the New Deal, and it has representatives of the general public. The paid president, who will be the chief administrative officer, as desired by the SEC, will be elected shortly.

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS IN INSURED GROUPS STILL INCREASING

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 21.—(Special)—Savings accounts in the 69 insured savings and homestead associations in Louisiana continued to increase during April, according to the monthly report compiled by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock with which the associations are affiliated.

New investment funds received during the past month aggregated $514,470 bringing the total of new savings placed in the insured savings and homestead associations in Louisiana since January, 1938, to $3,707,682. This was the greatest volume of new savings received by the Louisiana associations in any four months' period since the bank started compiling the figures last July. The report includes the figures of the First Federal Savings and Loan association, the Monroe Building and Loan association, and the Peoples Homestead and Savings association in Monroe which are members of the Federal Home Loan Bank system.

Along with the increase in the savings accounts, the associations have been very active in the lending field—649 loans aggregating $1,601,165 were made in April, which was a greater volume of business done than in any previous month. Approximately one-third of the amount loaned was used for the construction of new homes while an equal amount went toward the purchase of existing dwellings.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Traders ignored "good news" in today's stock market and sold leading issues down fractions to around two points.

Offerings were comparatively light throughout the brief proceedings, however, with transfers approximating 300,000 shares.

Utilities edged forward at the start, but most eventually lost support. These were buoyed by the action of the senate appropriations sub-committee in barring the use of federal funds for municipal power plants in competition with private companies. It was not overlooked, though, that the utility stocks responded apathetically yesterday to the agreement for the sale of the National Power company's Tennessee subsidiary to the city of Knoxville and the TVA.

Revived war tension between Germany and Czechoslovakia, threatening the peace of continental Europe, was seen as a restraining influence on speculative forces, as well as the latest governmental attack on the supreme court which aroused thoughts that the court reorganization bill might be resurrected.

Steels led the slow slide as early reports from mill centers indicated production next week might record a substantial decline. Coppers gave ground as fears of another cut in the domestic red metal price were voiced. Motors, mail orders, farm implements and specialties reflected scarcity of future sales signs. Rails generally held recessions to minor fractions.

Bonds and commodities were uneven.

AYING OF TWO AROUSES TENSION

[illegible] Germans were killed on the eve of municipal elections.

The defense ministry hastily called to the colors one class of army reserves and secondary reserves "for extraordinary duty" to strengthen the country's 180,000-man army.

Officials denied Budapest reports that Czechoslovakia had closed her borders with Poland and Germany and four points on the Czechoslovakia-Hungarian frontier.

"Traffic is regular," it was stated.

(Budapest sources also reported troops were being moved on both sides of the Czechoslovak-German border, the Czechoslovaks behind sandbag barricades.)

The pre-election disorders thrust into the open the difficulties between the government and the nation's minority of 3,500,000 Germans.

Fears were aroused concerning the next international step of mighty Nazi Germany which bounds the western half of Czechoslovakia on three sides with a band of steel.

The elections tomorrow—for local councils—are only the first of a series to extend until mid-June.

They do not constitute a plebiscite on the German minority's program for autonomy but are considered significant as a test of the minority's strength.

The two men killed were members of the Sudeten German party led by stocky, bespectacled Konrad Henlein. They were shot by Czechoslovak border guards near the German border.

Dispatches to Warsaw newspapers stating seven persons were killed during riots in this war-created republic yesterday were unconfirmed.

President Eduard Benes described the present crisis in Czechoslovakia as the country's "most serious experience since the war," but added, "we are prepared."

All military organizations and police were given strict orders to see that peace is kept throughout the provinces.

The disorders underlying today's crisis date back to April 24 when Henlein, in a speech to his Sudeten German followers at Karlovy Vary (Carlsbad), presented his party and the Czech government with an eight-point demand for autonomy for Germans in Czechoslovakia, revision of the nation's foreign policy and other concessions.

The demands were supported by Nazis in Germany who feel compelled to protect the Sudeten minority from "injustices."

POLISH GOVERNMENT ASKS FOR EXPLANATION

WARSAW, May 21.—(AP)—The Polish government tonight instructed its minister to Praha to ask the Czechoslovak government for an explanation regarding reported Czech troop concentrations near the Polish frontier.

Reports reached Warsaw from Teschen, Polish minority city in Czechoslovakia near the Polish border, that troop movements had been seen there.

Families of Czech officials along the border were said to be moving into the interior.

TROOPS PLACED BEHIND BARBED WIRE BARRICADES

LONDON, May 21.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia thrust reserve troops behind barbed wire barricades today as the slaying of two Nazis brought her quarrel with her German minority toward a climax dangerous to Europe's peace.

Disorders and troop movements on the eve of municipal elections in a portion of the country sent a wave of alarm through Europe.

Diplomats were apprehensive of further violence tomorrow during the balloting in which the Nazified Sudeten German party will have their first opportunity of assuming power in local councils.

The elections will not constitute a plebiscite to determine whether the Sudeten Germans should join Germany.

Statesmen feared Germany's Adolf Hitler, who has proclaimed himself protector of Germans even outside the borders of his nation, might be planning another of his lightning weekend coups.

For the second day in succession, Britain's ambassador in Berlin, Sir Neville Henderson, demanded reassurances concerning reported heavy German troop movements toward the Czechoslovak border.

Authoritative sources in Berlin said Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, in an hour's conference with Sir Neville, repeated yesterday's statement the movements were only a part of routine training.

In Budapest, informed sources said the frontiers between Czechoslovakia and Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland and four points on the Czechoslovak-Hungarian border were closed.

Britain's foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, broke up plans for a weekend in the country and rushed back to London to remain in close touch with his foreign office. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain followed events closely.

Czechoslovakia, pledged by the government to fight if Hitler should attempt to free by force the minority of 3,500,000 Germans within the war-created republic, called up an undetermined number of reserves to bolster her 180,000-man army.

She denied she was mobilizing, official circles emphasizing that the move was made solely in order to bring troops up to full strength to keep order in view of recent disturbances.

President Eduard Benes, in a broadcast from Zabor, in southern Bohemia, urged the nation to be calm and pleaded for moderation tomorrow.

He declared the present situation in the country was its "most serious experience since the war" but added: "We are prepared."

The wave of pre-election disorders which the German press said had resulted in injuries to several hundred members of the German minority produced the killing of two of them. [illegible] Georg Hoffmann and Nik[illegible] were shot to death early [illegible] were motorcycling [illegible] to traffic by police order and failed to heed warnings to halt.

A foreign correspondent who visited the Czechoslovakian frontier district of southern Bohemia reported that during the night Czechoslovak troops moved up in trucks and trains to occupy the zone.

Most foreign observers and diplomats were agreed in believing Hitler did not plan a stroke to "liberate" the Sudeten Germans this week-end but rather was awaiting the results of the elections.

There were fears, however, that new and violent disorders might provoke him to action.

Should there be a German stroke, it was believed it would be through Czechoslovakia's comparatively unprotected frontier with Austria.

The Czechoslovaks have modern fortifications bordering Germany but Austria's union with Germany, effected March 13 and ratified April 10 in a plebiscite, caught them somewhat napping in the south.

2. Some labor leaders of long standing feel that if Dubinsky quits the C. I. O., others will follow.

3. It would put the A. F. of L. definitely in the ascendancy over the C. I. O. in New York state, one place in the nation where labor has cut a clearly marked niche for itself in politics.

4. Coupled with the election results in Pennsylvania, it might sharply lower the bargaining prestige of Lewis.

5. It might force Lewis into peace with A. F. of L.'s William Green on terms more favorable to Green than to Lewis.

Peace on terms satisfactory to both sides is the frank purpose of Dubinsky.

military rail traffic from Tientsin to Suchow would be established Sunday or Monday "and very soon beyond Suchow.")

Officers of General Hata's staff, who directed the assault on Suchow from the south, declared the remnants of China's central front armies were trapped and faced surrender or annihilation.

They estimated several hundred thousand Chinese were encircled by Japanese within an area of 15 by 25 miles from which there was virtually no escape.

Japanese military dispatches late tonight (Saturday) reported occupation of three towns between Kweiteh and Langfang, west of Suchow along the Lunghai.

They said two Chinese divisions retreated after losing the unidentified towns, leaving 800 dead.

The fall of Lanfeng, Japanese said, was imminent and the next step in welding the Lunghai corridor to Japan's conquests in north and central China would be Kaifeng, about 180 miles inland from Suchow.

Spread of Japan's main armies westward imperilled thousands of Chinese civilians and almost 200 foreign missionaries.

Twelve Americans were believed to be at Kaifeng, where Japanese air raids already had caused heavy damage.

Five Americans were believed to be at Pohsien, in northwest Anhwei province, the farthest west the Japanese have struck. They are Dr. Mary King and Miss Harriet King of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Miss Clifford Barratt of Greenwood, S. C., and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Strother of Osborn, La.

45,126 for himself in 1,340 of the state's 1,681 precincts. This threw Hess, a former state senator and comparative unknown in many parts of Oregon, into the November general election against a former school teacher, Charles A. Sprague, who is editor of the capital's morning newspaper, the Salem Statesman. Sprague won the Republican nomination.

To the last Martin said the results had in no way "changed my convictions . . . nor my desire to be of service to the people of this state." Hess said only that he hoped the party would "go down the line in November."

Martin's was a battle on a campaign based upon suppression of labor violence, fealty to the president without "rubber stamp" submission, and no quarter for radicals.

Hess claimed Roosevelt administration support and C. I. O. and A. F. L. endorsement, the only time the two unions have agreed in Oregon.

The governor lost his battle primarily in Multnomah county (Portland) home of a third of the state's population and bitterest scene of the turmoil in the labor industry. Martin, self-styled labor champion and enemy of racketeers, lost almost every lumber county of the state, drawing most of his strength from the farm regions.

A week before voting day Stephen Early, secretary to the president, declared the president never recalled making a remark last fall, upon his visit to Bonneville dam, which the governor had quoted him as uttering. Martin said the president told him as they parted: "You and I make a good pair."

Some 48 hours later, Secretary Ickes referred to Martin as "no New Dealer at heart," and Senator Norris, Independent, Nebraska, said he was disappointed in the governor and hoped Hess would win.

HOW'S YOUR OSCULATION?

KISS-O-METER

If the newly-invented kiss-o-meter is as accurate as it's cracked up to be, the above is osculatory perfection. P. N. Vandekieft, a student, and Dorothy White, radio actress, are shown sending the indicator as high as it will go on the device built at Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago to appraise amorous activity. Experimenters—strictly in the interest of science, of course—grasp brass electrodes in one hand and then go into their act, registering "timid," "synthetic," "passive"—or better. If young Vandekieft and Miss White were at a carnival they would win cigars or something, because they rang the bell.

WOWS 'EM

1941

his night-stick behind his back, but ready for use if needed.

The stock exchange of today is no longer the private club of yesterday. It is a public institution and this, perhaps, is the paramount point in the reorganization completed last week.

The old self-perpetuating board of governors—who looked upon the exchange as a gentlemen's club—is gone. The new board is dominated by those who favor cooperation with the New Deal, and it has representatives of the general public. The paid president, who will be the chief administrative officer, as desired by the SEC, will be elected shortly.

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS IN INSURED GROUPS STILL INCREASING

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 21—(Special)—Savings accounts in the 69 insured savings and homestead associations in Louisiana continued to increase during April, according to the monthly report compiled by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock with which the associations are affiliated.

New investment funds received during the past month aggregated $514,470 bringing the total of new savings placed in the insured savings and homestead associations in Louisiana since January, 1938, to $3,707,682. This was the greatest volume of new savings received by the Louisiana associations in any four months' period since the bank started compiling the figures last July. The report includes the figures of the First Federal Savings and Loan association, the Monroe Building and Loan association, and the Peoples Homestead and Savings association in Monroe which are members of the Federal Home Loan Bank system.

Along with the increase in the savings accounts, the associations have been very active in the lending field—649 loans aggregating $1,601,165 were made in April, which was a greater volume of business done than in any previous month. Approximately one-third of the amount loaned was used for the construction of new homes while an equal amount went toward the purchase of existing dwellings.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Traders ignored "good news" in today's stock market and sold leading issues down fractions to around two points.

Offerings were comparatively light throughout the brief proceedings, however, with transfers approximating 300,000 shares.

Utilities edged forward at the start, but most eventually lost support. These were buoyed by the action of the senate appropriations sub-committee in barring the use of federal funds for municipal power plants in competition with private companies. It was not overlooked, though, that the utility stocks responded apathetically yesterday to the agreement for the sale of the National Power company's Tennessee subsidiary to the city of Knoxville and the TVA.

Revived war tension between Germany and Czechoslovakia, threatening the peace of continental Europe, was seen as a restraining influence on speculative forces, as well as the latest governmental attack on the supreme court which aroused thoughts that the court reorganization bill might be resurrected.

Steels led the slow slide as early reports from mill centers indicated production next week might record a substantial decline. Coppers gave ground as fears of another cut in the domestic red metal price were voiced. Motors, mail orders, farm implements and specialties reflected scarcity of future sales signs. Rails generally held recessions to minor fractions.

Bonds and commodities were uneven.

HOOVER RAPS AT NEW DEAL AGAIN

Borrows From Benjamin Franklin To Comment In Humorous Vein

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(AP)—Using the words and philosophy of Benjamin Franklin, former President Herbert Hoover tonight took a dozen back-handed slaps at the New Deal.

Speaking at a dinner climaxing a three-day program dedicating a new Franklin memorial, the former president declared that "if we waked Franklin up and walked him around here for a few days we might not quiet him down for the next 142 years."

On the other hand, he added, "From the stimulus to his magnificent sense of humor, he might just laugh."

In a manner unlike that in his previous speeches, Hoover struck out at government spending, relief, the farm program, public works, devaluation and business regulation in good-humored fashion, using quotations from Franklin on these subjects.

Admitting that he once delivered a schoolboy oration on the life of the famous colonial statesman, Hoover declared: "I even substantiated Ben's view that we could all become healthy, wealthy and wise if we got up early in the morning. I haven't been so sure about it of late years—for I have not been able to find anyone else around then except the police."

He added that "I also supported Franklin in the theory that you got what we now call social security by saving pennies and producing more. That was before we discovered the theory of restricted production and spending ourselves into prosperity."

Franklin issued wise advice on the cure of economic depressions, the former president said. "He asked 'what signify wishing and hoping for better times?' He asserted that 'we may make these times better if we bestir ourselves' and produce. He knew none of the joys of planned economy."

The sage of Philadelphia also had "defeatist ideas about extremes in public works," Hoover declared, having once observed that "it is easier to build two chimneys than to keep one in fuel." His opinion of borrowing and debts, private and public, "taxed his abundant command of expressions" because "to him they were the road of sorrow, a vice more vicious than lies, and in general the destroyers of liberty."

LEVY ENDS VISIT

Herbert S. Levy, after a visit with friends and relatives here, has returned to his duties as architect with the National Park service and is located at Tchesuncte, state game preserve at Mandeville.

PENSION BILL IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Linden Dalferes, state service commissioner, in a letter received by members of the local American Legion post, explained some of the provisions of the house bill No. 9725, which liberalizes the provisions granting pensions to widows and children of World war veterans. This bill bears the approval of the president.

Briefly the bill provides that where a veteran dies of causes not produced by war service, the widow will be entitled to a pension of $22 a month if evidence can be submitted showing that he had a disability caused by World war service that was rated, or should be rated, 10 per cent or more. The children are entitled to an additional pension. Where the widow of the veteran is not receiving a pension because of remarriage or death, the children are entitled to a greater amount. A pension is paid to the children until they reach the age of 18, or if attending school, until 21.

The statement is also made that it should be borne in mind that while the evidence need not show that the veteran died of the disability that was caused by war, it must be shown that he did have, or was entitled to, a rating of at least 10 per cent for a service connected disability at the time of death.

The term "widow" is interpreted by this bill to designate a woman who was married to the veteran prior to the passage of the act on May 14, 1938.

Use of the horse as a domesticated animal is believed to have begun in Arabia and Egypt about 2000 B. C.

Both Indoor And Outdoor Events Claiming Interest Of Society In Monroe

High School Seniors Prepare To Graduate

Judge And Mrs. Harper To Build New Home; Martha Jane Hill To Bring Home Classmates

By Eve Bradford

SPRING fever assails not only romantic young couples but the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker as well. The great unrest is upon us and we commence to lead a double life, a life that has its shady side with luncheons on coolly awninged galleries, bridge sessions on vine clad porches or cocktails in leafy, canopied gardens. For the sunny side of life there are tennis, swimming, boating and golfing under Old Sol's bevitamined beams. For the sunny and shady side of life when the handsome new swimming pool opens next week, playtime clothes will be necessary. These particular kinds of clothes have always been exciting but this year they paralyze one's power of resistance, so flattering and so gay are they.

There is one particular season, known as the prom season, in Monroe that comes during the last week of May and the first week of June. Young girls, members of the senior classes of Ouachita Parish, Neville and St. Matthew's High schools are now heatedly selecting organza, mousseline and crisp swiss frocks for these affairs and the young men are looking around for white flannel trousers and blue coats.

Pity the poor Neville graduates—they will wear the time-honored cap and gown. There will be no rustling of crisp organdie frocks on the platform commencement night. Neither will there be the traditional bouquet. The procession will be a dignified one with none of the furbelows. However, these fluttering young things will not be cheated of their opportunity to wear "graduation frocks." The banquet on the night of the twenty-sixth will find them scurrying around in billowing, youthful gowns associated with commencement since time immemorial.

Melba (Liner) Gaston is living on the sunny side of life on the gulf coast these days. Bearing out this statement was a picture gracing the social section of a New Orleans paper last Sunday. With friend husband, Melba, in natty sports attire, was sailing away over the dancing waters. They were classified as "enthusiastic sailors and participants in the many races sponsored by the yacht club."

The Judge Harpers are scanning blueprints preparatory to building a handsome new home on Island drive. It will be a big house with two stories, almost a necessity now that their three daughters are no longer children. Vivian, who is now of 'teen age, is especially talented in music. Because she is an ardent student and spends hour after hour at the piano, there will be a music room in the new home.

Speaking of music recalls the suggestion someone recently made as to establishing a "No Music week." "No Music week" would mean a week wholly and positively without music. Everybody from the dweller of the penthouse to the gangster in his prison cell, from the sailor at sea to the miner down the shaft, all would feel, from the first moment to the last breath of the great silence, the full significance of a civilization without music. No music in the movies, no music in the churches—no Bach preludes pealing forth from the organ during the offertory, no Wagner nor Mendelssohn as the bride sweeps triumphantly down the aisle, no choir—for a whole week. Many there are who would turn to their radio with a kindlier feeling for music capable of appealing to other regions of the anatomy besides the feet, even including the heart and the brain.

The heart and the brain are involved in the case of one Monroe girl in particular, Christine Galloway. Exceedingly talented, she has been singing and dancing for several years but has been studying piano for only one year. Practicing far into the night has brought excellent results. She will play Shubert's Serenade in recital in June.

* * *

Mary Louise Fudickar, who is attending Stephens college in Columbia, Mo., is one of Monroe's most talented musicians. We hear that she has been invited to play for the graduating exercises at Stephens. Even though she is just a freshman, many honors have been conferred upon her and she is now definitely recognized as one of the outstanding musicians at Stephens.

A cuff note for the young swains about town: Martha Jane Hill will arrive home from Stephens college early in June with four beautiful classmates in tow. A house party will be in progress at the Bridger Thornhill menage for one week. The slogan will be "Let Joy Be Unconfined."

* * *

The young and lovelies who have been invited to the senior prom and festivities in connection with commencement at Culver Military academy are all aflutter and especially those who have accepted Billy Wright's invitation. Elaine and George Wright will motor to Culver early in June and see their son walk down the sunlit path to the amphitheater where commencement exercises have taken place under the century-old elms for fifty years or more.

* * *

The lure of magnolia time in Dixie was too much for Mary Lee (Sullivan) Hancock, who arrived from Los Angeles last week. She is installed in the room where she spent her childhood and young womanhood and through the Sullivan household once again resounds the music of her harp. This beautiful instrument stands silent since Mary Lee's marriage. No other hand has ever touched the strings. How well we remember the last time we heard her play. It was during Imogene and Vernon Maish's marriage ceremony and the strains of "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" flooded the house with its poignant sweetness.

Local Club Entertains At Tea Hour

Welcome Branch Hosts To Other Groups From Monroe Area

The tea hour on Wednesday found the women of the Welcome Branch Book club beautifully gowned in afternoon frocks to greet their mother club, the Twentieth Century Book club, and other literary clubs of Monroe, Calhoun and Oak Ridge where they entertained with a musical tea and reception.

Mrs. Dudley Stone extended greetings and introduced those appearing on the program.

The Music Guild chorus, directed by Mrs. Dallas Goss, sang "Morning," by Grieg, and "Through the Starry Night," by Repper.

Two violin solos, "Adoration," by Borowski, and "Remembrance," by Engleman, were presented by Mrs. Dean Selig, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Grover Cornett.

A highlight on the musical program was the number given by talented Miss Olive Ann Guenard, 10-year-old whistler of Lake Providence. Her rendition of "The Indian Love Call," "Glow-Worm" and "Vacation Pranks" charmed her listeners. She was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. J. H. Guenard.

A profusion of pink and blue hydrangea's formed a veritable flower garden in which the lace-draped refreshment table stood.

Mrs. C. H. Dunaway and Mrs. W. C. Faulk were the gracious matrons presiding over the punch bowls, around which the guests lingered at the conclusion of the program.

Literary Guild Holds Meeting

Mrs. B. M. McKoin placed bowls of beautiful delphiniums and Queen Anne's lace in her living room when she entertained members of the Literary Guild last week at their final meeting of the year.

Members of the club answered the roll call with items of news from Hollywood. Mrs. W. M. Harper read a paper prepared by Mrs. D. S. Cook on the motion picture industry.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. McKoin served a delicious confectionary course, assisted by her charming daughter, Mrs. Cummins of Oak Ridge.

Members present were Mrs. W. M. Harper, Mrs. Joe Durrett, Mrs. Herbert Dickard, Mrs. Herbert Breard, Mrs. Ernest Holloway, Mrs. W. E. Wallace, Mrs. T. J. Sandridge, Mrs. J. P. Brown, Mrs. Harry Newhall and Mrs. S. L. Digby.

The ceremony was performed on April 16 in the spacious living room of Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Wallace's home, at the Louisiana Baptist Children's home, with Rev. B. F. Wallace officiating. BERKEY & GAY, PULLMAN, DREXEL, IMPERIAL & OTHER FINE LINES

At this particular time we have on hand a considerable amount of fine quality Grand Rapids merchandise in Period and Modern styles which it is necessary for us to move at once.

Frankly, a large portion of this high quality furniture was purchased in anticipation of considerable heavy business in the fine furniture brackets. Since this demand did not develop we are faced with the problem of moving this merchandise at once in order to unblock our display floors.

These high quality suites and fine Period pieces are being closed out during our Annual Attainment Week at actual cost, and in some instances below cost.

Beyond any doubt these values represent the greatest that have ever been offered by this institution and as far as we know the greatest that have ever been offered in Louisiana.

The fine proportions of the pieces, the gracefully tapering legs and the rich beauty of the cabinet woods contribute to the Romney a dignity and charm which require a minimum of applied ornamentation. Decorative detail is limited almost entirely to the distinctive hardware—circular rope twist pulls with rosette centers. Included are 10-leg table, china, buffet, 2-arm chairs and 4 side chairs. The suite is of American walnut.

Both Indoor And Outdoor Events Claiming Interest Of Society In Monroe

High School Seniors Prepare To Graduate

By Eve Bradford

SPRING fever assails not only romantic young couples but the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker as well. The great unrest is upon us and we commence to lead a double life, a life that has its shady side with luncheons on coolly awninged galleries, bridge sessions on vine clad porches or cocktails in leafy, canopied gardens. For the sunny side of life there are tennis, swimming, boating and golfing under Old Sol's bevitamined beams. For the sunny and shady side of life when the handsome new swimming pool opens next week, playtime clothes will be necessary. These particular kinds of clothes have always been exciting but this year they paralyze one's power of resistance, so flattering and so gay are they.

There is one particular season, known as the prom season, in Monroe that comes during the last week of May and the first week of June. Young girls, members of the senior classes of Ouachita Parish, Neville and St. Matthew's High schools are now heatedly selecting organza, mousseline and crisp swiss frocks for these affairs and the young men are looking around for white flannel trousers and blue coats.

Pity the poor Neville graduates—they will wear the time-honored cap and gown. There will be no rustling of crisp organdie frocks on the platform commencement night. Neither will there be the traditional bouquet. The procession will be a dignified one with none of the furbelows. However, these fluttering young things will not be cheated of their opportunity to wear "graduation frocks." The banquet on the night of the twenty-sixth will find them scurrying around in billowing, youthful gowns associated with commencement since time immemorial.

Melba (Liner) Gaston is living on the sunny side of life on the gulf coast these days. Bearing out this statement was a picture gracing the social section of a New Orleans paper last Sunday. With friend husband, Melba, in natty sports attire, was sailing away over the dancing waters. They were classified as "enthusiastic sailors and participants in the many races sponsored by the yacht club."

The Judge Harpers are scanning blueprints preparatory to building a handsome new home on Island drive. It will be a big house with two stories, almost a necessity now that their three daughters are no longer children. Vivian, who is now of 'teen age, is especially talented in music. Because she is an ardent student and spends hour after hour at the piano, there will be a music room in the new home.

Speaking of music recalls the suggestion someone recently made as to establishing a "No Music week." "No Music week" would mean a week wholly and positively without music. Everybody from the dweller of the penthouse to the gangster in his prison cell, from the sailor at sea to the miner down the shaft, all would feel, from the first moment to the last breath of the great silence, the full significance of a civilization without music. No music in the movies, no music in the churches—no Bach preludes pealing forth from the organ during the offertory, no Wagner nor Mendelssohn as the bride sweeps triumphantly down the aisle, no choir—for a whole week. Many there are who would turn to their radio with a kindlier feeling for music capable of appealing to other regions of the anatomy besides the feet, even including the heart and the brain.

The heart and the brain are involved in the case of one Monroe girl in particular, Christine Galloway. Exceedingly talented, she has been singing and dancing for several years but has been studying piano for only one year. Practicing far into the night has brought excellent results. She will play Shubert's Serenade in recital in June.

• • •

Mary Louise Fudickar, who is attending Stephens college in Columbia, Mo., is one of Monroe's most talented musicians. We hear that she has been invited to play for the graduating exercises at Stephens. Even though she is just a freshman, many honors have been conferred upon her and she is now definitely recognized as one of the outstanding musicians at Stephens.

A cuff note for the young swains about town: Martha Jane Hill will arrive home from Stephens college early in June with four beautiful classmates in tow. A house party will be in progress at the Bridger Thornhill menage for one week. The slogan will be "Let Joy Be Unconfined."

• • •

The young and lovelies who have been invited to the senior prom and festivities in connection with commencement at Culver Military academy are all aflutter and especially those who have accepted Billy Wright's invitation. Elaine and George Wright will motor to Culver early in June and see their son walk down the [illegible] path to the amphitheater where commencement exercises have taken place under the century-old elms for fifty years or more.

• • •

The lure of magnolia time in Dixie was too much for Mary Lee (Sullivan) Hancock, who arrived from Los Angeles last week. She is installed in the room where she spent her childhood and young womanhood and through the Sullivan household once again resounds the music of her harp. This beautiful instrument stands silent since Mary Lee's marriage. No other hand has ever touched the strings. How well we remember the last time we heard her play. It was during Imogene and Vernon Maish's marriage ceremony and the strains of "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" flooded the house with its poignant sweetness.

Local Club Entertains At Tea Hour

Welcome Branch Hosts To Other Groups From Monroe Area

The tea hour on Wednesday found the women of the Welcome Branch Book club beautifully gowned in afternoon frocks to greet their mother club, the Twentieth Century Book club, and other literary clubs of Monroe, Calhoun and Oak Ridge where they entertained with a musical tea and reception.

Mrs. Dudley Stone extended greetings and introduced those appearing on the program.

The Music Guild chorus, directed by Mrs. Dallas Goss, sang "Morning," by Grieg, and "Through the Starry Night," by Repper.

Two violin solos, "Adoration," by Borowoski, and "Remembrance," by Engleman, were presented by Mrs. Dean Selig, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Grover Cornett.

A highlight on the musical program was the number given by talented Miss Olive Ann Guenard, 10-year-old whistler of Lake Providence. Her rendition of "The Indian Love Call," "Glow-Worm" and "Vacation Pranks" charmed her listeners. She was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. J. H. Guenard.

A profusion of pink and blue hydrangea's formed a veritable flower garden in which the lace-draped refreshment table stood.

Mrs. C. H. Dunaway and Mrs. W. C. Faulk were the gracious matrons presiding over the punch bowls, around which the guests lingered at the conclusion of the program.

Literary Guild Holds Meeting

Mrs. B. M. McKoin placed bowls of beautiful delphiniums and Queen Anne's lace in her living room when she entertained members of the Literary Guild last week at their final meeting of the year.

Members of the club answered the roll call with items of news from Hollywood. Mrs. W. M. Harper read a paper prepared by Mrs. D. S. Cook on the motion picture industry.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. McKoin served a delicious confectionary course, assisted by her charming daughter, Mrs. Cummins of Oak Ridge.

Members present were Mrs. W. M. Harper, Mrs. Joe Durrett, Mrs. Herbert Dickard, Mrs. Herbert Breard, Mrs. Ernest Holloway, Mrs. W. E. Wallace, Mrs. T. J. Sandridge, Mrs. J. P. Brown, Mrs. Harry Newhall and Mrs. S. L. Digby.

BERKEY & GAY, PULLMAN, DREXEL, IMPERIAL & OTHER FINE LINES

At this particular time we have on hand a considerable amount of fine quality Grand Rapids merchandise in Period and Modern styles which it is necessary for us to move at once.

Frankly, a large portion of this high quality furniture was purchased in anticipation of considerable heavy business in the fine furniture brackets. Since this demand did not develop we are faced with the problem of moving this merchandise at once in order to unblock our display floors.

These high quality suites and fine Period pieces are being closed out during our Annual Attainment Week at actual cost, and in some instances below cost.

Beyond any doubt these values represent the greatest that have ever been offered by this institution and as far as we know the greatest that have ever been offered in Louisiana.

The fine proportions of the pieces, the gracefully tapering legs and the rich beauty of the cabinet woods contribute to the Romney a dignity and charm which require a minimum of applied ornamentation. Decorative detail is limited almost entirely to the distinctive hardware—circular rope twist pulls with rosette centers. Included are 10-leg table, china, buffet, 2-arm chairs and 4 side chairs. The suite is of American walnut.

Several Hundred Guests Attend Style Revue Of Junior Charity Leaguers

Newest Frocks Shown By Beautiful Models

Practicability And Comfort Will Keynote Styles Of Summer Toggery

Practicability and comfort will be the keynote of summer toggery, according to the trend of frocks shown by members of the Junior Charity league at the style revue Thursday, during luncheon hour, at the Frances hotel.

Fashionable Monroe turned out en masse for this colorful spring event and several hundred guests were seated at the flower-bedecked tables to view the latest creations in frocks modelled by members of the league.

Cotton, that most versatile fabric, will be the predominating material used in evening dresses, sport frocks and afternoon gowns. All dresses shown Thursday were made of some variation of cotton.

Especially beautiful and becoming to her vivacious brunette beauty was the crepe seersucker worn by Mrs. George Snelling. Splotched with vivid hued poppies of red and yellow with delicate tracing of black on a white background, the model was fashioned with the inevitable slender waistline and wide flaring skirt. The straps of the bodice were caught with bows of burgundy grosgrain ribbon and a zipper fastened the frock at the back.

Another interesting frock modelled by Mrs. Snellings was a vagabond print of burgundy, gaily flowered in white and made with full-gathered skirt, ideal for picnics and beach wear. Completing this fetching ensemble was a kerchief of the same material, tied in gypsy fashion over the head.

Appropriate for travel and sports wear was the French gingham suit, brown and white checked, worn with dash and charm by Miss Sarabeth Farmer. An off-the-face hat of British tan added a note of distinction to the tailored smartness of this interesting outfit.

Both linen and cotton will hold high favor in the eyes of the fashion conscious woman this summer. An outstanding linen model was shown by Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps. Cut on simple lines, a hand-blocked linen with modernistic design of black and red on white background, the dress elicitated a murmur of admiration.

Mrs. William Potts Clark was a lovely model, displaying an ultra feminine model of powder puff muslin, flowered in pastel tints. Val lace was used effectively as trimming for the bodice, while the skirt was fashioned in soft pleats. Another stunning linen frock was also modelled by Mrs. Clark. Cool and airy, of green embroidered linen, it was worn with a wide felt hat of white.

A charming evening frock of black net with bolero embroidered in white was worn by Miss Violet Meyer.

Mrs. James Sparks wore an unusually becoming model of navy and white crepe seersucker, made with flaring skirt and bolero of the same material.

Mrs. Walter Kellogg presided during the showing of the frocks. During the luncheon and revue an orchestra played continuously.

Children's Band Seeks New Honor

Barkdull Faulk Youngsters To Take Part In Contest At Louisville

It's a merry group of boys and girls who will leave bright and early Tuesday morning by bus for Louisville, Ky., where they will take part in the regional school band tournament, which will be held in that city Thursday.

Thirty strong, these youthful members of the Barkdull Faulk school band, who recently won sweepstakes at the state band contest held in Baton Rouge several weeks ago, will invade Louisville in quest of further laurels.

They're a valiant group of youngsters, these. Winning honors in Baton Rouge has spurred them on to greater victories. In spite of obstacles that might have made an older group give up in dire despair, they're going to make the trip to Louisville.

Out of 30 members of the band, only a few were able to finance the trip. But lack of money did not deter their zeal. They talked about their band to all their friends. They showed their shining silver cup, indisputable testimony of their skill as musicians. They bartered, traded and saved their pennies. hey resorted to every legitimate means of raising money, known to healthy boys and girls.

Friends rallied to their cause, and with donations raised the required amount to finance the trip to Louisville. And so they're going to Louisville, where they may win another cup.

En route to Louisville the band will stop at Memphis for a sight-seeing tour of the city. Other stops will be made at Jackson and Cave City, where they will explore Mammoth cave.

On their return home, they will visit Lincoln Memorial park at Hodginville, Ky. Stopovers will also be made at Muscle Shoals, the Wilson dam and the TVA project.

In appreciation of the interest of the countless friends who have aided them, the band will give a concert this afternoon at Barkdull Faulk school at 4:30 p.m. All friends and parents are invited.

Review Club Meets At Rowland Home

The Review club met for the last meeting of the club year in the gardens of Mrs. T. C. Rowland. The subject for discussion was "Women and the Changing World."

Mrs. Henry Colbert led in this by reviewing "Facing Two Ways," by Shidzue Ishimoto, which is an autobiography.

Shidzue was born in Tokyo of the highest Japanese rank. When Shidzue was 17 she married Ishimoto. A few years after their marriage they came to America to study the social problems of the laboring class. Shidzue went to a Y. W. C. A. school and studied English and stenography. She returned to Japan determined to do something for womanhood. In 1932-33 she returned to America as a lecturer. At the present time Shidzue has charge of her scientific clinic in Japan for birth control.

As a document of woman's emergence from subjection "Facing Two Ways" is of special interest.

Mrs. W. B. Leigh continued the discussion by reviewing "Escape from the Soviets," by Tatiana Tchernavin, which is an account of the author from 1918 to 1923 and the escape with her husband and child to Finland. Madam Tchernavin belonged to a liberal professional class, this being the best educated class in Russia but not the highest class. She gives accounts of the treatment of her class by the government, of the arrest of herself and her husband, of the separation from their son, then of her release and her husband's escape from prison.

She concludes the book, "We have been spared to tell of the terrible plight of our country, once so prosperous and to remind those who have not been through with the misery and servitude of soviet life that they do not sufficiently value their blessings."

Miss Daniels Weds Ivy Casswell Johnson

The following account of the wedding of Miss Louise Daniels and Mr. Ivy Casswell Johnson, recently appearing in the El Dorado News, will be of interest to friends and relatives in this vicinity. Mr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Johnson of West Monroe and is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High school.

"Beauty and quiet dignity characterized the nuptials of Miss Louise Daniels, lovely niece of Dr. and Mrs. Franklin Pierce Vines, 204 North Smith avenue, and Ivy Casswell Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Johnson of West Monroe, La., which was solemnized in the parlor of the First Methodist church shortly before dusk the afternoon of Friday, May 13.

"The service was read by Dr. Albea Godbold, pastor of the First Methodist church, in the presence of a small assemblage of relatives and friends.

"The fireplace at the east end of the parlor, before which the ceremony was performed was banked with ferns and garlanded with white silk cable cord. Floor baskets of white gladioli, fever few and chiffon daisies stood on either side of the improvised altar. White candles burned on the mantel in a straight line before the mirror. These were lighted by Dorothy Jeanne Giles, cousin of the bride.

"Preceding the nuptials Miss Helen Graham Patterson, pianist, played a Brahms Waltz in A Flat and Robert Hightower sang 'I Love You Truly.' The Bridal Chorus from Wagner's Lohengrin was used as the processional and the wedding march from Mendelssohn's Mid Summer Night's Dream, as recessional. 'Liebestraum' (Liszt) was played softly during the ceremony.

"The couple entered together, unattended. The bride was pretty in a modish three-piece suit of heavy crepe, navy blue in color, with which she wore a white blouse of embroidered organdie and blue accessories. Her flowers were two orchids in a shoulder corsage.

"Mrs. Vines, aunt of the bride, wore black triple sheer with matching accessories and an orchid.

"Immediately following the wedding Mr. Johnson and his bride departed by motor for a short honeymoon in Hot Springs. Upon their return they will be at home at number 21, El Dorado apartments.

"The attractive bride attended Galloway college, Searcy, and was graduated from Kidd Key college, Sherman, Tex.

"Mr. Johnson is connected with the Geophysical Service, Inc., here.

"Among out of town guests for the wedding were: the bridegroom's father, H. Y. Johnson, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Johnson, his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Johnson, and B. S. Grant, all of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Everett and daughter, Charlotte, of Farmerville, La.; and C. B. Byrd and Mrs. Mollie Maroney, both of Strong."

Newest Frocks Shown By Beautiful Models

Practicability And Comfort Will Keynote Styles Of Summer Toggery

Practicability and comfort will be the keynote of summer toggery, according to the trend of frocks shown by members of the Junior Charity league at the style revue Thursday, during luncheon hour, at the Frances hotel.

Fashionable Monroe turned out en masse for this colorful spring event and several hundred guests were seated at the flower-bedecked tables to view the latest creations in frocks modelled by members of the league.

Cotton, that most versatile fabric, will be the predominating material used in evening dresses, sport frocks and afternoon gowns. All dresses shown Thursday were made of some variation of cotton.

Especially beautiful and becoming to her vivacious brunette beauty was the crepe seersucker worn by Mrs. George Snelling. Splotched with vivid hued poppies of red and yellow with delicate tracing of black on a white background, the model was fashioned with the inevitable slender waistline and wide flaring skirt. The straps of the bodice were caught with bows of burgundy grosgrain ribbon and a zipper fastened the frock at the back.

Another interesting frock modelled by Mrs. Snellings was a vagabond print of burgundy, gaily flowered in white and made with full-gathered skirt, ideal for picnics and beach wear. Completing this fetching ensemble was a kerchief of the same material, tied in gypsy fashion over the head.

Appropriate for travel and sports wear was the French gingham suit, brown and white checked, worn with dash and charm by Miss Sarabeth Farmer. An off-the-face hat of British tan added a note of distinction to the tailored smartness of this interesting outfit.

Both linen and cotton will hold high favor in the eyes of the fashion conscious woman this summer. An outstanding linen model was shown by Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps. Cut on simple lines, a hand-blocked linen with modernistic design of black and red on white background, the dress elicitated a murmur of admiration.

Mrs. William Potts Clark was a lovely model, displaying an ultra feminine model of powder puff muslin, flowered in pastel tints. Val lace was used effectively as trimming for the bodice, while the skirt was fashioned in soft pleats. Another stunning linen frock was also modelled by Mrs. Clark. Cool and airy, of green embroidered linen, it was worn with a wide felt hat of white.

A charming evening frock of black net with bolero embroidered in white was worn by Miss Violet Meyer.

Mrs. James Sparks wore an unusually becoming model of navy and white crepe seersucker, made with flaring skirt and bolero of the same material.

Mrs. Walter Kellogg presided during the showing of the frocks. During the luncheon and revue an orchestra played continuously.

Review Club Meets At Rowland Home

The Review club met for the last meeting of the club year in the gardens of Mrs. T. C. Rowland. The subject for discussion was "Women and the Changing World."

Mrs. Henry Colbert led in this by reviewing "Facing Two Ways," by Shidzue Ishimoto, which is an autobiography.

Shidzue was born in Tokyo of the highest Japanese rank. When Shidzue was 17 she married Ishimoto. A few years after their marriage they came to America to study the social problems of the laboring class. Shidzue went to a Y. W. C. A. school and studied English and stenography. She returned to Japan determined to do something for womanhood. In 1932-33 she returned to America as a lecturer. At the present time Shidzue has charge of her scientific clinic in Japan for birth control.

As a document of woman's emergence from subjection "Facing Two Ways" is of special interest.

Mrs. W. B. Leigh continued the discussion by reviewing "Escape from the Soviets," by Tatiana Tchernavin, which is an account of the author from 1918 to 1923 and the escape with her husband and child to Finland. Madam Tchernavin belonged to a liberal professional class, this being the best educated class in Russia but not the highest class. She gives accounts of the treatment of her class by the government, of the arrest of herself and her husband, of the separation from their son, then of her release and her husband's escape from prison.

She concludes the book, "We have been spared to tell of the terrible plight of our country, once so prosperous and to remind those who have not been through with the misery and servitude of soviet life that they do not sufficiently value their blessings."

During the social hour Mrs. Rowland served mint juleps.

Y. Johnson of West Monroe, La., which was solemnized in the parlor of the First Methodist church shortly before dusk the afternoon of Friday, May 13.

"The service was read by Dr. Albea Godbold, pastor of the First Methodist church, in the presence of a small assemblage of relatives and friends.

"The fireplace at the east end of the parlor, before which the ceremony was performed was banked with ferns and garlanded with white silk cable cord. Floor baskets of white gladioli, fever few and chiffon daisies stood on either side of the improvised altar. White candles burned on the mantel in a straight line before the mirror. These were lighted by Dorothy Jeanne Giles, cousin of the bride.

"Preceding the nuptials Miss Helen Graham Patterson, pianist, played a Brahms Waltz in A Flat and Robert Hightower sang 'I Love You Truly.' The Bridal Chorus from Wagner's Lohengrin was used as the processional and the wedding march from Mendelssohn's Mid Summer Night's Dream, as recessional. 'Liebestraum' (Liszt) was played softly during the ceremony.

"The couple entered together, unattended. The bride was pretty in a modish three-piece suit of heavy crepe, navy blue in color, with which she wore a white blouse of embroidered organdie and blue accessories. Her flowers were two orchids in a shoulder corsage.

"Mrs. Vines, aunt of the bride, wore black triple sheer with matching accessories and an orchid.

"Immediately following the wedding Mr. Johnson and his bride departed by motor for a short honeymoon in Hot Springs. Upon their return they will be at home at number 21, El Dorado apartments.

"The attractive bride attended Galloway college, Searcy, and was graduated from Kidd Key college, Sherman, Tex.

"Among out of town guests for the wedding were: the bridegroom's father, H. Y. Johnson, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Johnson, his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Johnson, and B. S. Grant, all of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Everett and daughter, Charlotte, of Farmerville, La.; and C. B. Byrd and Mrs. Mollie Maroney, both of Strong."

DROPPED IN at Johnnie S. Elbert's yesterday. Saw a lovely bride-to-be selecting her trousseau. It was a glorious looking garment of soft white lace with a long train, over a rich satin slip. RECENTLY I read in the columns of a medical man the fact that sweets relieve fatigue, at least they relieve the fatigue and irritability that show the need for food, not rest. He said the "piece of bread covered with brown sugar our mothers gave us after school was really a scientific method of preventing quarrels and crying spells." You'll find out this medical man is right if you'll try the new air-conditioned loaf of Butter-Krust bread which made its debut in our territory a few weeks ago. Of course, you have always enjoyed this delicious Butter-Krust treat . . . but now, it is simply a good loaf of bread made even better . . . toast it . . . or try it plain or, as the medical man says . . . spread it with strawberry jam or apple butter sprinkled with cinnamon . . . and there you have a feast for children and grown-ups. . . . Buy it fresh at any grocery store.

ASIDE FROM solving the graduating gift problem . . . a Griffin kodak or camera is a grand investment for your own self. Vacation thrills will soon be ours again and of course we will want to record all those memories. The opening of the R. D. Swayze natatorium today is indeed an event to photograph. Be sure to take along your camera . . . Bring your films to Griffin's before nine o'clock in the morning and pick them up all finished before 5 o'clock that same evening. Ask to see an enlarged kodak snapshot, they're honeys.

FUNNY, isn't it, that men have written odes to Grecian urns, nightingales and what have you . . . but not a single line to a chocolate fudge cake? I wonder why? Chocolate fudge cake, you know, is generally considered man's favorite dessert and you'd think someone of the sterner sex would have waxed poetical before this. Well, I can't write lyrics but I'll say this much, the man who made the chocolate fudge cake I have for you today has the soul of a poet. Why don't you get one for tomorrow's dessert or save it for Monday night's supper. They bake them fresh every day at Jitney Jungle's North Fourth street bakery and they will remain fresh and delicious over night . . . "if kept under lock and key."

ARE YOU looking for something unusual for a June bride? I only say "June" because the word with "bride" is so euphonious—she may be a May or July bride for that matter. The important part of this little item is the place where these distinctive gifts may be found. I visited Durrett's, 117 St. John street and found there is something new . . . under the sun . . . and I found it yesterday at Durrett's . . . in the Gift Department. It is a smart looking tea wagon . . . and a "Mary Ryan" model at that. Those who know really good furniture surely know about Mary Ryan . . . so "nuf sed" . . . This tea wagon is a collapsible sort which can be put right out of the way . . . the tray part can be used as you would any tray and for any purpose. Comes in three different woods, blond maple, mahogany and black lacquer. Some call these trays gallary trays because of the wrought brass bands around the edges. Prices $28.50 to $34.50. A new shipment of those nifty cellophane mats are now on display at Durrett's . . . All colors . . . You'll want several for those luncheons you know . . . but remember, they will go like hot cakes . . . better hurry! 50c each. I found also crystal Natutilus book ends that hold flowers . . . the very same articles that we saw advertised in House Beautiful at $3.75 pair . . . WELL HERE IT IS the 22nd of May and "hi time" you were putting your fur coat in storage. Moths have a predilection for soiled and dusty furs you know and now is the time to cheat the little beggers out of a square meal. The Monroe Steam Laundry has exclusive "Certified Fur Storage" in their large fine air-conditioned storage vaults and is one of the very best I ever heard of. First of all, the record of the firm . . . 43 years in business without a single loss to a client . . . speaks for itself. Phone 102 or 103, a bonded messenger will call for your garment, it will be carefully checked, examined and cleaned by a furriers process, hung in a steel cold storage vault giving 100% protection against fire, moths and burglary . . . and is steamed and glazed by experts. This all-exclusive service is for a fur coat or neck piece. Get that fur coat problem off your mind the first thing Monday morning.

I THINK I am not wrong when I say the natural impulse of every woman is to become more attractive or to retain the pulchritude that is already hers. To that end she tries every new cream or lotion she hears about, little knowing whether it is what her skin requires or not. Today I want to talk to you about a cream and a lotion that are more than cosmetics called "Dorothy Gray," obtainable only at Walgreen's. They are products containing ingredients a dermatologist would use. In fact, the manufacturers of these preparations sought the services of eminent skin specialists, men who had devoted years to the subject, so that these aids to skin beauty would be safe and pure. Dorothy Gray large traveling kits in natural lizzard leather with every need for make-up while traveling. The large size is priced at $10.00, other sizes $5.00 and $2.50. You'll find the complete line here. A nifty little perfume package was the gold and blue containing the "Twin Set" of "Duet" perfume. Contains two bottles, one carnation and another gardenia, priced at $5.00 . . . A lovely graduation gift. Drop by Walgreen's Drug store today . . . You can find everything for everybody.

BY ALL MEANS . . . Keep your eyes on R & A windows. In a few days a reproduction of the famous "PENTAGON GRUEN WATCH" will be in the west window, and its face carries the names of every graduate in Monroe . . . The clock will be wound to the limit and set to running in a capable way. Of course it must run down at some time, and when it does . . . its smart little hands will park beside the name of a boy and girl . . . and NOW . . . the FUN BEGINS . . . The boy and girl will be presented with a beautiful GRUEN WATCH . . . Compliments of R & A . . . Now isn't that just about the most exciting happening of the day? . . . The word I leave with you is . . . WATCH THE CLOCK . . . At R & A.

Sincerely,
Irene.

Neville P.-T. A. Hears Addresses

A panel discussion was conducted at the meeting of the Neville High School Parent-Teacher association last week, when Mr. Herbert Dickard, Mrs. G. A. Aden, Mr. E. L. Neville and Mr. D. W. Griffith discussed the expectations of parents and teachers for 1938 and 1939.

Mr. Griffith stressed the need of vocational guidance in high schools and stated that a system is now being worked out whereby the child will be enabled to decide what line of work or professeion he wishes to follow, so that subjects may be selected for him in his early high school days that will be in line with his chosen work.

DROPPED IN at Johnnie S. Elbert's yesterday. Saw a lovely bride-to-be selecting her trousseau. It was a glorious looking garment of soft white lace with a long train, over a rich satin slip. RECENTLY I read in the columns of a medical man the fact that sweets relieve fatigue, at least they relieve the fatigue and irritability that show the need for food, not rest. He said the "piece of bread covered with brown sugar our mothers gave us after school was really a scientific method of preventing quarrels and crying spells." You'll find out this medical man is right if you'll try the new air-conditioned loaf of Butter-Krust bread which made its debut in our territory a few weeks ago. Of course, you have always enjoyed this delicious Butter-Krust treat . . . but now, it is simply a good loaf of bread made even better . . . toast it . . . or try it plain or, as the medical man says . . . spread it with strawberry jam or apple butter sprinkled with cinnamon . . . and there you have a feast for children and grown-ups. . . . Buy it fresh at any grocery store.

ASIDE FROM solving the graduating gift problem . . . a Griffin kodak or camera is a grand investment for your own self. Vacation thrills will soon be ours again and of course we will want to record all those memories. The opening of the R. D. Swayze natatorium today is indeed an event to photograph. Be sure to take along your camera . . . Bring your films to Griffin's before nine o'clock in the morning and pick them up all finished before 5 o'clock that same evening. Ask to see an enlarged kodak snapshot, they're honeys.

FUNNY, isn't it, that men have written odes to Grecian urns, nightingales and what have you . . . but not a single line to a chocolate fudge cake? I wonder why? Chocolate fudge cake, you know, is generally considered man's favorite dessert and you'd think someone of the sterner sex would have waxed poetical before this. Well, I can't write lyrics but I'll say this much, the man who made the chocolate fudge cake I have for you today has the soul of a poet. Why don't you get one for tomorrow's dessert or save it for Monday night's supper. They bake them fresh every day at Jitney Jungle's North Fourth street bakery and they will remain fresh and delicious over night . . . "if kept under lock and key."

ARE YOU looking for something unusual for a June bride? I only say "June" because the word with "bride" is so euphonious—she may be a May or July bride for that matter. The important part of this little item is the place where these distinctive gifts may be found. I visited Durrett's, 117 St. John street and found there is something new . . . under the sun . . . and I found it yesterday at Durrett's . . . in the Gift Department. It is a smart looking tea wagon . . and a "Mary Ryan" model at that. Those who know really good furniture surely know about Mary Ryan . . . so "nuf sed" . . . This tea wagon is a collapsible sort which can be put right out of the way . . . the tray part can be used as you would any tray and for any purpose. Comes in three different woods, blond maple, mahogany and black lacquer. Some call these trays gallery trays because of the wrought brass bands around the edges. Prices $28.50 to $34.50. A new shipment of those nifty cellophane mats are now on display at Durrett's . . . All colors . . . You'll want several for those luncheons you know . . . but remember, they will go like hot cakes . . . better hurry! 50c each. I found also crystal Natutilus book ends that hold flowers . . . the very same articles that we saw advertised in House Beautiful at $3.75 pair . . . I want you to especially see Durrett's display windows of Lane cedar chests. . . . Graduates will be interested in what it will show.

DO YOU number yourself among "us" who want to trim down the figure this summer? . . . I for one have found a swell reducing method that has worked miracles in ridding one of excess fat . . . toning up the muscles and putting a new sparkle in the eye . . . Golf . . . Yes, golf will do the trick . . . and if you don't believe me, just try it for two weeks and prove it to yourself. We have one of the finest golf courses to be found in north Louisiana in our Muny course. Every Tuesday and Friday is Ladies' Free day at the Municipal and every one knows that very popular pro Gene Shirah is a most patient instructor. Queen Mary Happy As She Leads Own Life

By Milton Bronner
(NEA Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 21.—"Seventy-one and going strong!"

That will be the unspoken thought of millions of Britons on May 26, for on that day Queen Mary will have passed another milestone in her life's pilgrimage.

Now, in her widowhood, the dowager queen rests secure in the consciousness that today she is more popular than ever before in her long life. Britons remember her as the model wife and mother; as the woman who, with her husband, King George V, kept the cleanest court in the history of Britain; as the sovereign who tried to interest herself in the doings of all classes of her subjects.

Queen Mary . . . "keen to do her duty."

Some years ago, when she christened the great steamship "Queen Mary" at Glasgow, she was unaware of the delicate "hearing" of the broadcasting microphone. Therefore, millions of Britons heard her say:

"What do I do now?" And a few minutes later: "Did I do it all right?"

Those two queries seem to embody her whole life. She has always been keen to do her duty and equally as keen to know that it has been done fully and properly.

The British people honor her, too, because of her bravery. In 1936 she suffered two staggering blows. On January 20, after nearly 43 years of happy married life, her husband, King George V, died. Her mother's pride in seeing her eldest-born mount the throne soon was shattered, when King Edward VIII insisted upon marrying Mrs. Ernest Simpson. There were 10 anxious days that shook the foundations of the British empire, culminating in Edward's abdication December 10.

Once more Queen Mary rose to the occasion. She began going about to link up the national affections with the royal house of Windsor. When she felt sure that all was well and that her son, King George VI, was winning his own way with the people, she withdrew as much as possible from public funcitons.

She has begun to live her own life and to do the things she likes to do.

Her period of mourning over, she has gone to the opera, to first nights of plays and films, and she tours London—without pomp and processional—in the company of her granddaughters, Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose.

She visits old friends in their country houses and has old cronies come to tea in Marlborough house in which she lived 28 years ago, when she was Princess of Wales, and which is once again her own home, with many of the old curtains, carpets and pictures that are so familiar to her.

Her release from the more formal duties of queen consort has given her a better opportunity to show the human side of her personality. Last April she unexpectedly visited the stricken areas of South Wales. Now usually, when royalty goes to the homes of the humble, the folk are carefully picked out and forewarned, so they can be all scrubbed up and arrayed in their best bibs and tuckers. But Queen Mary fooled her guides. She motored to Pontypridd, rode through some mean, narrow, poverty-stricken streets and paid a surprise visit to a club of the unemployed, housed in an old granary.

J. J. Watkins, coatless, collarless and with his sleeves rolled up, was busy sawing wood out of which he makes canes. He showed her around and she followed him up a rickety staircase to the loft where the billiard tables are installed.

And when she came out, there was another unrehearsed incident. She saw Mrs. Johanna Picton carrying her 15-months-old baby in her shawl in a way Welsh women have.

"I am glad to see you doing that," said the queen. "I always carried my children that way when they were babies."

It was a human touch that hit center in Wales.

Landrum; treasurer, Miss Eloise Cann; and historian, Mrs. H. F. Shepard. After each officer was installed she was given a beautiful corsage. As a token of their appreciation to the teachers, the P.-T. A. gave to each teacher a gift of lovely lingerie. The presentation was made by Mrs. J. D. Calhoun. Beautiful corsages were also given to the visitors, retiring officers and teachers.

Why Not Vacation At Home This Summer?

By Betty Clarke
(Associated Press Feature Service Writer)

If the family pocketbook won't stand the strain of a Scandinavian cruise this summer, and you can't even find a way to go to the mountains or seashore for two weeks, you have lots of company.

A vast proportion of America's 130,000,000 inhabitants are in the same plight, as usual, and what are they going to do about it?

If they are intelligent people, they will arrange "at-home" vacations. They will plan outings that cost little more than the sandwiches. And even if it's a long, hot summer, they'll have fun.

Summer is a grand sports time. You can't afford to join a golf club? It costs money to play tennis? Well, it doesn't cost more than the price of the roller skates to do a litle fancy work on a smooth bit of pavement. Bicycling is another cheap sport. You can take your lunch along, and stay away all Sunday afternoon.

The more you can be outdoors the better, as long as you don't get yourself burned to a crisp during the intense noonday heat. Buy a beach umbrella—even if you're miles from the ocean—and prop it up in the backyard. The baby can play under it, and you can lurk in its shade and regulate your sun tan.

If you can find any place to swim—a two by four pond is better than nothing—get in for a daily dip. You'll be cool for hours afterward, though the thermometer stays up. And if there just isn't any body of water around, rig up the garden hose, and let everybody get under it in their bathing suits.

The summer was made for picnics. Often the supper hour is the best time for them—it's cooler. If your children are old enough, let them take turns planning the menu. The sandwich diet may wear after a time, but you can always take hot soup along in a thermos, salads may be made at home and transported in a deep bowl, and supper cocked outdoors is the best of all—if fire wardens don't object.

If you're lucky enough to have a gardener for a husband, part of the summer vacation problem is already solved. There's something about grubbing in the soil that calms the jagged nerves of a tired business man.

Probably he'll like to putter around in it a bit before dinner. If you can delay the dinner hour—though it means feeding the children separately in advance—do it. You'll feel more like eating when the sun has gone down.

It will be a vacation for mother to stay away from the gas stove. She can substitute brainwork for handwork, and think up easily prepared, easily digested meals. She'll find the manufacturers of prepared foods a great help.

SUMMER SUGGESTIONS

If you want to keep your good disposition from June to September.

Avoid highly competitive games, unless you're a very good loser. Bridge fiends aren't easy to get along with in the summer.

If you're an argumentative person, stay off controversial subjects. You can solve the problems of the world the rest of the year. Arguments increase the blood pressure.

Stay away from the rest of the family at least part of the day. You won't notice their tempers so much.

Mrs. K. T. Hazlip and Miss Rose Guice were joint hostesses when they entertained the members of the Night Bridge club. A salad course was served. Winners of the prizes were: First, Mrs. Ray McGehee; second, Miss Rose Guice; third, Mrs. R. N. Hunter, while the consolation fell to Miss Camilla Massony.

Those in attendance were Mesdames W. H. Eiseman, P. B. Hays, E. L. Collins, J. W. Brown, A. D. Hedrick, C. Testa, R. McGehee, N. Dreyfus, S. Greaves, Grace Rogers, W. Martein, Z. Gould, R. N. A GRADUATION GIFT

Steeped in the romance of the ages

IN THE HEROIC DAYS of chivalry and knight-errantry, a girl's hope chest was built by the most skilled cabinetmaker the family purse could afford. Weeks, sometimes months, were taken by this combined artist, designer, carver, and finisher to build the chest.

And the girl, taught to sew, to spin, to weave, took years to fill her hope chest with precious things for that happy day when she would start a home of her own.

Today LANE, the glorified modern hope chest, brings the hope chest to its richest significance. More beautiful than those of any other age, the LANE Hope Chest provides absolute moth protection and features found in no other cedar chest. Parents, brothers, sisters—come in and see this ideal gift.

Why Not Vacation At Home This Summer?

By Betty Clarke
(Associated Press Feature Service Writer)

If the family pocketbook won't stand the strain of a Scandinavian cruise this summer, and you can't even find a way to go to the mountains or seashore for two weeks, you have lots of company.

A vast proportion of America's 130,000,000 inhabitants are in the same plight as usual, and what are they going to do about it?

If they are intelligent people, they will arrange "at-home" vacations. They will plan outings that cost little more than the sandwiches. And even if it's a long, hot summer, they'll have fun.

Summer is a grand sports time. You can't afford to join a golf club? It costs money to play tennis? Well, it doesn't cost more than the price of the roller skates to do a little fancy work on a smooth bit of pavement. Bicycling is another cheap sport. You can take your lunch along, and stay away all Sunday afternoon.

The more you can be outdoors the better, as long as you don't get yourself burned to a crisp during the intense noonday heat. Buy a beach umbrella—even if you're miles from the ocean—and prop it up in the backyard. The baby can play under it, and you can lurk in its shade and regulate your sun tan.

If you can find any place to swim—a two by four pond is better than nothing—get in for a daily dip. You'll be cool for hours afterward, though the thermometer stays up. And if there just isn't any body of water around, rig up the garden hose, and let everybody get under it in their bathing suits.

The summer was made for picnics. Often the supper hour is the best time for them—it's cooler. If your children are old enough, let them take turns planning the menu. The sandwich diet may wear after a time, but you can always take hot soup along in a thermos, salads may be made at home and transported in a deep bowl, and supper cooked outdoors is the best of all—if fire wardens don't object.

If you're lucky enough to have a gardener for a husband, part of the summer vacation problem is already solved. There's something about grubbing in the soil that calms the jagged nerves of a tired business man.

Probably he'll like to putter around in it a bit before dinner. If you can delay the dinner hour—though it means feeding the children separately in advance—do it. You'll feel more like eating when the sun has gone down.

It will be a vacation for mother to stay away from the gas stove. She can substitute brainwork for handwork, and think up easily prepared, easily digested meals. She'll find the manufacturers of prepared foods a great help.

SUMMER SUGGESTIONS

If you want to keep your good disposition from June to September.

Count 10 before you say a harsh word. Tempers rise with the thermometer.

Avoid highly competitive games, unless you're a very good loser. Bridge fiends aren't easy to get along with in the summer.

If you're an argumentative person, stay off controversial subjects. You can solve the problems of the world the rest of the year. Arguments increase the blood pressure.

Stay away from the rest of the family at least part of the day. You won't notice their tempers so much.

A GRADUATION GIFT

Steeped in the romance of the ages

IN THE HEROIC DAYS of chivalry and knight-errantry, a girl's hope chest was built by the most skilled cabinetmaker the family purse could afford. Weeks, sometimes months, were taken by this combined artist, designer, carver, and finisher to build the chest.

And the girl, taught to sew, to spin, to weave, took years to fill her hope chest with precious things for that happy day when she would start a home of her own.

Today LANE, the glorified modern hope chest, brings the hope chest to its richest significance. More beautiful than those of any other age, the LANE Hope Chest provides absolute moth protection and features found in no other cedar chest. Parents, brothers, sisters—come in and see this ideal gift.

To Observe Her 100th Birthday

Open House And Tea Will Be Given In Honor Of Mrs. Schuster

Of more than usual interest will be the open house and tea which will be given Sunday afternoon, May 29, by Mrs. Hugh Bracy and Mrs. Tom Atkinson at Mrs. Bracy's home on Hudson lane.

The occasion will be the celebration of the one hundredth birthday of their mother, Mrs. Sara Schuster, who has been a resident of Monroe for a number of years and who has a wide circle of friends in this section of the state.

Mrs. Schuster, who was born in Bavaria, May 28, 1838, resided in Columbia up until the time of her marriage to Sam Schuster, when they moved to Farmerville, where they spent their entire married life, and where Mr. Schuster was postmaster for a number of years.

Since Mr. Schuster's death, Mrs. Schuster has resided in Monroe with her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Bracy, on Hudson lane.

Although quite feebla, Mrs. Schuster is remarkably alert mentally, and is eagerly looking forward to the celebration of her one hundredth birthday when she will welcome her countless friends who are planning to call on that day.

To Observe Her 100th Birthday

Open House And Tea Will Be Given In Honor Of Mrs. Schuster

Of more than usual interest will be the open house and tea which will be given Sunday afternoon, May 29, by Mrs. Hugh Bracy and Mrs. Tom [illegible] at Mrs. Bracy's home on Hudson lane.

The occasion will be the celebration of the one hundredth birthday of their mother, Mrs. Sara Schuster, who has been a resident of Monroe for a number of years and who has a wide circle of friends in this section of the state.

Mrs. Schuster, who was born in Bavaria, May 28, 1838, resided in Columbia up until the time of her marriage to Sam Schuster, when they moved to Farmerville, where they spent their entire married life, and where Mr. Schuster was postmaster for a number of years.

Since Mr. Schuster's death, Mrs. Schuster has resided in Monroe with her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Bracy, on Hudson lane.

Although quite feeble, Mrs. Schuster is remarkably alert mentally, and is eagerly looking forward to the celebration of her one hundredth birthday when she will welcome her countless friends who are planning to call on that day.

‘Girl Of Golden West’ Closes At Paramount Today

MacDonald, Eddy Star In Musical

‘Singing Sweethearts’ Score Another Hit In Great Outdoor Romance

JEANETTE MacDONALD and Nelson Eddy have reached their topmost heights to date as the screen's king and queen of song in "The Girl of the Golden West," which plays for the last times today at the Paramount theater.

An excellent blending of charming music and the romance of California in her early, ribald gold camp and pastoral mission days, the new operetta is an inspiring picture recommended for theater-goers and music lovers of all ages. The picture is based on David Belasco's memorable stage play.

It is the story of the orphan girl, Mary, who owns the Polka saloon and dance hall in Cloudy Mountain gold camp. She is loved by all the boys but the gambling sheriff, Jack Rance, is the favored one.

On her way to Monterey, her stagecoach is held up by the masked bandit, Ramerez, who is smitten by her beauty. He trails her and when a carriage arrives to convey her to the governor's festival it is Ramerez, masquerading as a young army officer, who escorts her. They fall in love.

At the festival, where "The Mariachie," a colorful early California dance and feast is held, Ramerez flees when he sees soldiers approaching. Ramerez, dressed as an American, again appears in Cloudy Mountain at Mary's saloon. Suspicious, Rance immediately takes a dislike to the stranger.

Enraged because he has forsaken her, Nina, Ramerez's native sweetheart, betrays him to Sheriff Rance. In his pursuit, Rance wounds the bandit and later captures him in Mary's cabin. He surrenders to Mary's pleas and plays cards with her for the life of Ramerez. Mary wins, but Rance catches her cheating. She promises to marry the sheriff if he will free Ramerez. Rance does, but swears he will kill the bandit on sight.

At the mission, on the day of the wedding, Mary hears a familiar song in the patio. It is Ramerez. Rance finds them in an embrace, but offers to give Ramerez an even chance for his life. He hands a gun to the bandit and tells him to walk around the chapel. Rance starts to circle the chapel in the opposite direction. Mary faints. When she awakens, she is in Ramerez's arms. Rance had vanished, failing to meet Ramerez.

Interspersed through the romance are numerous new and beautiful tunes by Sigmund Romberg and Gus Kahn.

Western Film Plays At Capitol

‘Cassidy Of Bar 20’ Features William Boyd And Nora Lane In Cast

A LIVELY story from the pen of Clarence E. Mulford, a beautiful scenic background, and a well-chosen cast of outdoor action players contrive to make exciting entertainment of the new Hopalong Cassidy romance, "Cassidy of Bar 20," which has its first local showing today at the Capitol theater.

William Boyd plays the adventurous cowpuncher in a tale of rustling and revenge in the wild New Mexico cattle country of frontier times. In this he is assisted by a cast of familiar players, many of whom have appeared before in Cassidy pictures, including Russell Hayden, Frank Darien, Nora Lane, Robert Fiske, John Elliott and Margaret Marquis.

Hopalong is thrown into conflict with the king of New Mexico cattle-thieves, played by Fiske, when Nora a character out of "Hoppy's" romantic past, calls upon him for help. She is a ranch-owner whom Fiske is determined to crush and drive out of the country in order to make his control over the district complete and unchallenged.

After an unusual series of adventures, which include being held up by a lovely young girl, Miss Marquis, who mistakes him for the rustler-baron, and being arrested by Fiske on a trumped-up charge of trespassing, Hopalong finally reaches Nora and prepares to defend her from the attack of her enemies.

A thrilling climax is reached in a gun-battle fought between Hopalong and his fellow-ranchers from Bar 20 and Fiske, who is aided by a hired gang of outlaws from the Texas border. Although faced by superior forces, Hopalong turns the tables when he enters the enemy stronghold through a secret passageway with the help of an old frontier woman, who in this way gets revenge on Fiske for his murder of her son.

The interest of the Mulford story is increased by the picturesque old New Mexico background, which is realistically duplicated in Nora's Alamogordo, the Spanish mission in which the gun-battle takes place, as well as in natural rugged scenery of the country.

Raising of worms for fish bait is a flourishing industry in the state of Kansas.

'Girl Of Golden West' Closes At Paramount Today

MacDonald, Eddy Star In Musical

'Singing Sweethearts' Score Another Hit In Great Outdoor Romance

JEANETTE MacDONALD and Nelson Eddy have reached their topmost heights to date as the screen's king and queen of song in "The Girl of the Golden West," which plays for the last times today at the Paramount theater.

An excellent blending of charming music and the romance of California in her early, ribald gold camp and pastoral mission days, the new operetta is an inspiring picture recommended for theater-goers and music lovers of all ages. The picture is based on David Belasco's memorable stage play.

It is the story of the orphan girl, Mary, who owns the Polka saloon and dance hall in Cloudy Mountain gold camp. She is loved by all the boys but the gambling sheriff, Jack Rance, is the favored one.

On her way to Monterey, her stagecoach is held up by the masked bandit, Ramerez, who is smitten by her beauty. He trails her and when a carriage arrives to convey her to the governor's festival it is Ramerez, masquerading as a young army officer, who escorts her. They fall in love.

At the festival, where "The Mariachie," a colorful early California dance and feast is held, Ramerez flees when he sees soldiers approaching. Ramerez, dressed as an American, again appears in Cloudy Mountain at Mary's saloon. Suspicious, Rance immediately takes a dislike to the stranger.

Enraged because he has forsaken her, Nina, Ramerez's native sweetheart, betrays him to Sheriff Rance. In his pursuit, Rance wounds the bandit and later captures him in Mary's cabin. He surrenders to Mary's pleas and plays cards with her for the life of Ramerez. Mary wins, but Rance catches her cheating. She promises to marry the sheriff if he will free Ramerez. Rance does, but swears he will kill the bandit on sight.

At the mission, on the day of the wedding, Mary hears a familiar song in the patio. It is Ramerez. Rance finds them in an embrace, but offers to give Ramerez an even chance for his life. He hands a gun to the bandit and tells him to walk around the chapel. Rance starts to circle the chapel in the opposite direction. Mary faints. When she awakens, she is in Ramerez's arms. Rance had vanished, failing to meet Ramerez.

Interspersed through the romance are numerous new and beautiful tunes by Sigmund Romberg and Gus Kahn.

ARTIFICIAL LAKE PROJECT FINISHED

Government Creates Fishing And Hunting Preserve In Claiborne

HOMER, May 21.—(Special)—The Corney creek in Claiborne parish ceased to flow last week when the dam was closed, impounding an artificial lake covering 1,800 acres of land lying south of the Corney creek bridge on the Junction City and Homer highway. This is a federal government land-use project and has been under construction for two years with an earth dam of 160,000 cubic yards and a concrete spillway of 1,200 cubic yards. W. M. Porter is project manager.

The spillway has been completed for several weeks, and the large earth dam has been practically completed for several months with the exception of that section through which the stream flows.

This stream section of the dam has been ready to close for some time but excessive rains and flooded conditions prevented the closing until last week.

Above the dam 800 acres have been cleared with all stumps cut low enough to allow the safe operation of motor boats and sail boats. Fishing, hunting, swimming and other sports will be available within this cleared area.

The remaining 1,000 acres is wooded and will be a fisherman's paradise. This federal government land-use project comprises 20,000 acres located in northeast Claiborne parish, Mr. Porter, project manager, stated.

The lake, located in an 8,000-acre area of government-owned land, will be a splendid wild life paradise since a very small per cent is open land. Already quail hunting is 50 per cent better within this area with only two years of protection. The general public has been invited to cooperate with the program by refraining from destructive practices such as starting fires, cutting timber, hunting and fishing until stocking and replenishing have increased.

$27,500 BOND ISSUE VOTED IN CONCORDIA

FERRIDAY, La., May 21.—(Special)—Voters of the sixth school district cast their ballots 99 to 0 in favor of the proposition to incur debt and issue bonds to the amount of $27,500 to run for a period of eight years bearing interest at the rate of five per cent payable semi-annually for the purpose of erecting and equipping a school building, auditorium and gymnasium at the Ferriday High school.

The voters of the enlarged district agreed to levy a tax of two and one-half mills or the amount required on the dollar on all property in the district for a period of eight years beginning in 1938 to meet the obligations. The election was held in accordance with a resolution passed by the Concordia parish school board. The election was held May 16.

In addition to the bond issue, plans are under way to make the combination auditorium-gymnasium a WPA project. The gymnasium-auditorium, which will be erected by Contractor C. S. Yeager of Alexandria, will be built under the supervision of Principal Hugh A. Bateman and the following members of the building committee of the local high school: Bruce T. Wilgus, Joseph Pasternack, S. L. Maxwell, Henry Goudchaux, H. A. Turner and Dr. N. L. Sebastian.

Plans of the contractor call for a six-room building with a gymnasium stage and dressing quarters, basketball courts and other necessary equipment. It will be built on the campus of the local high school and work will be started in the near future.

POPPY SALE BY V. F. W. ARRANGED

The 17 annual "buddy poppy" sale will be conducted by the Rodney J. Hobbs post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on the streets of Monroe May 28. These poppies, symbol of Flanders field, are sold for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans and for the care of the widows and orphans of the World war dead.

The annual "buddy poppy" distribution is the occasion when the Veterans of Foreign Wars invite the public to aid with their cooperation and support in their philanthropic efforts.

"Buddy poppy" proceeds, for the last 16 years, have been devoted exclusively to relief work of the organization and to maintaining the V. F. W. national home for war orphans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"The buddy poppy" sale, in which more than 3,700 posts of the V. F. W will participate simultaneously throughout the country, offers the single opportunity of the year for obtaining the funds necessary to carry on the V. F. W. program among America's disabled veterans and their families, according to Elbert H. Miller, commander of the local post, and chairman of the local "buddy poppy" campaign.

Commander Miller explained that the "buddy poppies" are assembled by disabled veterans in government hospitals, who are paid for their work. These earnings are usually the only sources of income open to these handicapped men, Commander Miller said.

POPPY SALE BY V. F. W. ARRANGED

The 17 annual "buddy poppy" sale will be conducted by the Rodney J. Hobbs post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on the streets of Monroe May 28. These poppies, symbol of Flanders field, are sold for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans and for the care of the widows and orphans of the World war dead.

The annual "buddy poppy" distribution is the occasion when the Veterans of Foreign Wars invite the public to aid with their cooperation and support in their philanthropic efforts.

"Buddy poppy" proceeds, for the last 16 years, have been devoted exclusively to relief work of the organization and to maintaining the V. F. W. national home for war orphans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"The buddy poppy" sale, in which more than 3,700 posts of the V. F. W will participate simultaneously throughout the country, offers the single opportunity of the year for obtaining the funds necessary to carry on the V. F. W. program among America's disabled veterans and their families, according to Elbert H. Miller, commander of the local post, and chairman of the local "buddy poppy" campaign.

Commander Miller explained that the "buddy poppies" are assembled by disabled veterans in government hospitals, who are paid for their work. These earnings are usually the only sources of income open to these handicapped men, Commander Miller said.
